

CHRISTMAS JEWELRY

"Dis plate of rare device,
Jewels of rich and exquisite form
Their beauty's great."

Shakespeare's words fittingly describe our magnificent Holiday display. From it you may select a Christmas gift for young for old, either sex, that will be sure to please. And such a selection will cost you infinitely less here than elsewhere. You take no risk of any sort in buying here. Anything you buy is exchangeable. We warrant everything we sell to be just as we say it is. A child can buy here just as well as an expert.

The great trouble with the average advertiser is impatience. He expects to cast his bread on the water today and see it come floating back tomorrow with butter and sugar on both sides.—Agricultural Advertising.
The building next door north of this office formerly occupied by C. D. Morse has been purchased by Tress Harwood and will be moved onto lots north of Dr. Moranville's building on Webster street. It will be made into a dwelling house.
The shelving has been put up and the counters placed in the new brick store room of Ed. McFarland. The inside of the room is now in the hands of the painters and the finish of shelving, bins and counters is of a dark cherry which makes a very pretty appearance. Mr. McFarland will move to his new store room some time next week.

The newly married couple are well known young people of this city and the CHIEF along with their many friends extends congratulations.
With the approach of the holidays holiday ads are beginning to make their appearance, and with them the fool who wants to spell Christmas "Xmas." To such men the Republican would like to ask if they were writing the name of the Savior of Mankind would they spell it "J. X."? That would be just as sensible and fully as appropriate as writing Christmas "Xmas." We are glad to say that all the better-class payers over the country are taboing the use of "Xmas" in their want columns, regardless of whether it is paid for or not. "Xmas" is tabu in the columns of the Republican.—Honolulu Republican.

A meeting of members of the Nebraska and Kansas Inter State Fair association was held at the office of D. J. Myers on Tuesday evening for the purpose of talking over the advisability of holding a fair next fall and it was decided to do so. The management will make a supreme effort to make the fair a success and in so doing they should have the hearty co-operation of the public. The suits against the society have been settled and they now have a clear title to the fair ground property and some money in the treasury. We would suggest now that they have decided to hold a fair, they do not leave the getting out of premium list and other matters until the last minute, but that they let the public know they are going to hold a fair so that they may prepare for an exhibit. Let the work of preparation be started early and let everyone stand up for Red Cloud and the fair.

Wm. Gundy, of Detroit, communicated the following item to Mr. Hines of the Detroit Tribune, which he had seen in the Toronto Weekly Globe, with these remarks:
"Smallpox being so fatal and so much feared, an unfailing remedy like the following, so simple and so safe, once discovered ought to be brought to the knowledge of the masses without hesitation or delay."
"I am willing," says Edward Hines, to risk my reputation as a public man if the worst case of smallpox cannot be cured in three days simply by the use of cream of tartar. This is a sure and never failing remedy: Cream of tartar, one ounce, dissolved in boiling water, one pint, to be drunk when cold at short intervals. It can be taken at any time, and is a preventative as well as a curative. It is known to have cured thousands of cases without fail. I have myself restored hundreds by this means. It never leaves a mark, never causes blindness, and always prevents tedious lingering."

ALMOST FORGOTTEN.

Incidents of Every Day Life Which Very Few People Stop to Think About on Account of Their Littleness.
Now that the weather is liable to turn blustery and cold it would be a wise scheme for our business men to provide a "rest room."—The room so designated is a place where tired women and children from the country can go for a rest when worn out from shopping or uncomfortable from cold.—The lady customer from the country coming often from a long distance, in summer covered with dust or wet with rain, in winter with snow or perhaps suffering from cold, should be provided with a comfortable place to go.—A number of home comforts could be provided including easy chairs, a couch or two, reading matter, writing materials, and wash room privileges so that the ladies could fix up a bit after their long rides in wind and dust.—The men and boys may loaf around town and find both chairs and warmth, but the women find even the afternoons long, tiresome and tedious depending all the time on the good nature of the store keeper.—If you will take observations on any Saturday afternoon you will see how tired many of the women from the country look, who perhaps have been on their feet most of the day.—We have made the suggestion and now it is up to the business men to put the scheme in operation.—A well located room or rooms could be secured and the cost would not exceed individually to the business man more than 50 to 75 cents per month and perhaps even less.—The time to act is right now and you will find that Red Cloud and its business men will not be losers by having consideration for the welfare and being kind to the women and children of its patrons.—There is a decided boom on just now in the sale of cream of tartar.—There are a number of business men who would sell more goods if they would let their light shine by placing a few locals in this paper.—This has been chicken show week and some of the interested fanciers have been so wrapped up in the exhibit that they have almost forgotten to go home to their meals.—Now that the building north of this office has been removed things begin to look better.—If some kind act of providence would remove the ancient pile of unsightliness below us we would be supremely happy.—There is an undercurrent of favorable sentiment among our business and moneyed men in regard to the auditorium project.—We would not be surprised to see such a building completed before fall.—Let some of our progressive men get together, talk it over and see who will take stock in the enterprise.—Our talks in regard to the saving by putting in substantial brick walks is bearing fruit.—One more brick sidewalk has been laid this week and more to follow.
Good returns from advertising are secured in the same manner as other profitable results are attained in any line of human effort—that is, by keeping at it. Sporadic trials of the advertising columns of even the best newspapers bring only intermittent gains. A hoop which wobbles in its rotations over the ground does not, of course, follow a straight line, and the tradesman will discover by observation and experience that in the matter of advertising he must be as regular and systematic as in the management of other departments of his establishment if he be anxious to keep on the direct road to success.—Philadelphia Record.

The line of heating stoves at Wright's is superb. See them.

Eat and Run.

There isn't a man who would be seen running through the street munching a piece of pie. Why not? Because it would mean dyspepsia and stomach trouble? Not at all; but because it wouldn't look well. As a matter of fact many a business man snatches a lunch in such a hurry that he might as well take it on the run. That is one reason for the prevailing "stomach trouble" among men of business.
There is a certain remedy for diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It is Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The worst cases of dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach have been cured by this medicine. It cures where all other means have failed to cure.
"I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for stomach trouble," writes Clarence Carnes, Esq., of Taylorstown, Loudoun Co., Va. "It did me so much good that I didn't take any more. I can eat most anything now. I am so well pleased with it I hardly know how to thank you for your kind information. I tried a whole lot of things before I wrote to you. There was a gentleman told me about your medicine, and how it had cured his wife. I thought I would try a bottle of it. Am now glad I did, for I don't know what I would have done if it had not been for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."
Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness. They stimulate the sluggish liver, and cleanse the system of impurities. They should always be used with "Golden Medical Discovery" when there is need of a laxative.
