JAMES ALLEN TULLEYS.

This week we are again forced to chronicle the death of one of Red Cloud's first and foremost citizens, James Allen Tulleys. The cause of his death was Bright's disease from which he has been a sufferer for some time, deceased was born at Bainbridge Ohio, in 1841, and died January 21, 1901, at high noon. His death, although looked for, was a shock to this community. He had been a sufferer of the disease for about a year, but his ailment had not been serious but for a few months. All was done for him that medical skill could do but all to no avail.

Deceased was an old soldier, having joined the army at the first call for volunteers, and served until the close of the war.

He came to Webster county with his wife in 1872 and was one of the first clerks of the county.

In 1880 his wife Sophia J. died and was buried in the cemetery here. In 1884 he was again married to Mrs. Anna J. Stover, who survives him.

He also leaves six children, three by his first wife, Wm. W. John, and Sarah and three by his last wife, Anna, Cora and Allen.

And of him what can we say through our personal contact with him for this time. Thus, that he was an honest conscientious man, one who loved his fellow man and was always looking toward his embetterment through such ideas as were advocated in the high orders of Masonry. An illustration of the power of human character which was so plainly impressed upon the people that all may read it; is the greatest heritage he left. The influence he exerted has been eminently for good with all whom he came in contact. There are some so happily constituted that their whole lives are obedient to conscience and who are guided unerringly and unquestioningly by moral law. They perceive the right intuitively and pursue it with a purpose gentle but so inflexible, that nothing could turn aside. There is no record that J. A. Tully ever swerved from the path of right. His disposition was one that conformed naturally and cordially to his laws of right, and his life was one that was from first to last consistent with that standard, especially one on which the eyes of his fellow men were centered as a boon and a blessing to the human race. Posterity loves such a man because he was good, recognizes in such a lasting power, the ideal of the true and excellent for which all should strive. It was a tranquil, pure and steady light in which he lived. Nothing doubtful ever bothered it, the questionable shrank back from it, the questioner abashed. As a father and husband he will ever be remembered as a model. While it may be true that his high office in the Masonic order consumed considerable of his time, the family to him was the inner temple. The people throughout all christendom is embettered by the example of such men. Manhood has been advanced by the lives and examples of such men. In his full measure of years he has experienced all this world has for one of mortal birth and the departure is according to the divine order. All will join as in saying "This was a good man, a man who embettered all with whom he came in contact and brightened the future by exalting the type or human character that makes man, and as long as memory lasts his virtues will shine like a beacon."

His ambition in life was to reach the top round of the ladder of Masonry and how well he fulfilled this is known by all who know him. To be a thirty-three degree Mason was one of his only ambitions, and he accomplished it. The highest rank that can be conferred upon any man in the United States in that order. Faithfully and patiently did he ascend both branches of the Masonry order. First up one side to the end, York Rites, then back and up the other side of the Scottish Rite thirty-third degree. Under the solemn ceremony of this order was he also buried. And a more solemn and impressive ceremony over a funeral bier was never witnessed than that of the high Masonic order which was held at their hall last Wednesday evening over the remains. The ceremony was a private one, but could be attended by invited, and he who missed it missed something that will probably never again be given in this city. Solemn and pathetic we say. Aye, so solemn, pathetic, sympathetic, and so filled with grief and sorrow that it is beyond description. We will not attempt to describe this beautiful ceremony, we cannot do it justice. The funeral services from the house were conducted on Thursday afternoon under the auspices of the lodge and remains were laid to rest in the Red Cloud cemetery. The bereaved wife and family have the sincere sympathy of our entire community. Their loss is a loss to the entire community.

ALMOST FORGOTTEN.

Incidents of Every Day Life Which Very Few People Stop to Think About on Account of Their Littleness.

The "ring of the dollar" makes many mourn.—This city has seen her chances for betterment and prosperity cast ruthlessly aside by the "ring of the dollar" in the hands of the selfish property owner.—For a number of years past our citizens have hoped each spring and fall to see a brick block go up on the corner of Webster street and Fourth avenue.—There was one thing which seriously handicapped this hope ever being realized.—The inside lot belonged to a "money bags" of Iowa and the "ring of the dollar" in his pocket would not permit him to part with it.—It was doing him no good but as long as the property brought enough in rentals to pay the taxes he was satisfied.—Through some act of special providence this last fall he was induced to part with it.—The gentleman who received title to the property desired in company with another gentleman to erect a modern brick.—The people who heard of the project were happy.—Then the "ring of the dollar" again asserted itself and the selfishness of man began to show its hand.—One or more parties who had the "ring of the dollar" on their souls did not desire that their prestige as the owners of valuable property holdings should be dimmed by the building of other.—This lot must be secured by hook or crook.—The think-tanks of these "ring of the dollar" people have been active and their schemes and offerings have been great and even generous.—But their pleadings have been in vain and we believe will continue to be so.—The building on this corner will lead to more and will enhance the value of property for miles around.—But to change the subject everyone seems to have the grip or some other line of sick

Inflammatory Rheumatism cured in 3 days.

Morton L. Hill of Lebanon, Ind., says: "My wife had inflammatory rheumatism in every muscle and joint; her suffering was terrible and her body and face were swollen almost beyond recognition; had been in bed for six weeks and had eight physicians, but received no benefit until she tried the Eucaly Cure for Rheumatism. It gave immediate relief and she was able to walk about in three days. I am sure it saved her life." Sold by H. E. Grice, Druggist, Red Cloud, Neb.

ECZEMA'S

ITCH IS TORTURE.

Eczeema is caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing great redness and inflammation; little pustular eruptions form and discharge a thin, sticky fluid, which dries and scales off; sometimes the skin is hard, dry and fissured. Eczeema in any form is a tormenting, stubborn disease, and the itching and burning at times are almost unbearable; the acid burning humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire. Salves, washes and other external applications do any real good, for as long as the poison remains in the blood it will keep the skin irritated.

BAD FORM OF TETTER.

"For three years I had Tetters on my hands, which caused them to swell to twice their natural size. Part of the time the disease was in the form of running sores, very painful, and causing me much discomfort. Four doctors said the Tetters had progressed too far to be cured, and they could do nothing for me. I took only three bottles of S. S. S. and was completely cured. This was fifteen years ago, and I have never since seen any sign of my old trouble."—Mrs. L. A. Jackson, 1414 McGee St., Kansas City, Mo.

S. S. S. neutralizes this acid poison, cools the blood and restores it to a healthy, natural state, and the rough, unhealthy skin becomes soft, smooth and clear. It cures Tetters, Erysipelas, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum and all skin diseases due to a poisoned condition of the blood. Send for our book and write us about your case. Our physicians have made these diseases a life study, and can help you by their advice; we make no charge for this service. All correspondence is conducted in strictest confidence.
