NEWHOUSE BROS.

In the spring of '79 there came here with their parents the present proprietors of one of the successful businesses of the city. The young men acquired their education in the Red Cloud schools. In the fall of 1890, the elder brother having previously had some practical experience in the business, took a complete finishing course in watchmaking at Parsons Horological Institute at La Porte, Ind., and also a course in optics under Dr. Lambert, receiving a diploma in each. After working in several different places, he returned in 1896 to Red Cloud and the present business was organized by himself and his brother, they succeeding Mr. L. M. Vance. In 1898 the younger brother took a thorough course in spectacle fitting at the Chicago Ophthalmic college and another at the Bradley Polytechnic Institute at Peoria, Ill. At the latter place he also took a finishing course in watchmaking. The members of the firm of Newhouse Bros. are thus prepared to do anything in their line in the most workmanlike manner. Their optical department has received special attention, they having everything needed to properly test the eyesight in every way. They use the latest and best methods and are in every way well prepared to do anything in their line. They have at all times a complete line of watches, clocks, jewelry and photographic goods, and selling everything as they do under a guarantee of "satisfaction or money back," their future success, as their past, is assured.

BRADBROOK & SCHULTZ.
The mere work of making a photograph does not constitute art. Attitude, pose, expression and a hundred and one minor and technical points which the quick and trained eye of the real artist discerns and decides at once are necessary in the production of good and artistic photography. It may truly be said that Bradbrook & Schultz possess these most essential attributes. They have made an extended study in the art of photography in all its details, and having the intuitive spirit of the true artist, their work is indeed par excellence and can be classed with that to be seen in the great cities. Every piece of work they turn out shows the eye and hand of the deft artist and skilled photographer.

RED CLOUD ROLLER MILLS.

Chief among the leading industries of Webster county is the Red Cloud Roller Mills, under the experienced and able management of R. B. Kummer. The mill has but lately been erected and has in its employ a corps of practical and expert millers. Mr.

Kummer is a level-headed and shrewd business man and it goes without saying that the mill is on a solid and paying basis. Frank K. Morse, formerly head miller at Milford, is head miller and has been since the opening of the mill. It is a full roller process with a daily capacity of 80 barrels and the flour turned out is deemed par excellence, the best on the southern Nebraska market. The grades milled are Imperial, High Patent, Select Patent and Crystal, and is handled by every dealer in the city. The only trouble with the mill has been its inability in supplying the demand. Besides these celebrated brands of flour, they manufacture all kinds of mill products such as rye and graham flour, bean meal, etc., and can supply you in any quantity.

ALBRIGHT BROS.
A prominent house doing a large business in musical instruments and furniture in Red Cloud is that of Albright Bros. This is a home institution and it is always a good plan to patronize home people to whom you can go if the instrument is not satisfactory. These people are responsible in everything they do and have a reputation to maintain. Their store is replete with pianos, organs, and musical instruments of all kinds, besides a stock of some 2000 sheets of the latest and popular music. This is received every Monday morning from the leading publishers and no matter what you want you will find it here. They added a nice stock of furniture to their business one year ago last April and their display of these goods cannot fail to attract patrons to their store.

B. F. MIZER

It is indeed rare that any business concern enjoys such an extended patronage as the people of Red Cloud bestow upon this thriving house. The store is in the hands of an experienced man who is ever ready to cater to every wish of his large list of customers and who is master of every detail of the business. He deals in groceries and queensware and carries a stock most complete and one which it is a pleasure to select from. When you need anything in this line do not fail to pay this trustworthy house a visit. First class goods at the lowest possible prices is what enables Mr. Mizer to hold his large list of customers.

MORHART BROS.

Foremost among the energetic business men of the city of Red Cloud is the esteemed gentlemen whose names precede this paragraph. They are dealers in stoves, tinware and hardware and their house is especially well equipped, being provided with everything in their line of trade, and the stock carried would undoubtedly do credit to many a larger place than Red Cloud. They are obliging and accommodating gentlemen and are always pleased to show their fine line of hardware. Drop in and look around and if you need anything you are sure to be pleased. They also carry a full line of bicycles and supplies. Their motto is "We want your trade and will save you money to get it."

I. W. TULLEYS, M. D.

We want to say a few words in behalf of Dr. I. W. Tulleys in our review of Red Cloud and Webster county. He located in this county nearly thirty years ago and in that time has gained a large and influential patronage. He has served the people of this county four years as their county judge and has been U. S. examining surgeon for over twenty one years, besides serving the county as its examiner for insane for some twenty-five years. Dr. Tulleys takes an active interest in the welfare of the community and is a friend to everyone. He is a specialist in the treating of chronic diseases, and diseases of women and children, and the success he has attained is shown by the many remarkable cures effected.

J. O. BUTLER.

Mr. Butler contributes in no small degree to the business activity of this progressive and wide awake city. He is an energetic and ambitious merchant and has built up a reputation in the commercial world here that places him in the front rank. There is no better stock of harness, saddles and leather goods to be found in this section of country. He is headquarters for horse clothing of every description and at prices satisfactory to any one concerned. All his work is hand made and manufactured out of full stock and are guaranteed as good as you can find in any market. If you are figuring on buying anything in the harness line you should see Mr. Butler's stock before purchasing. Mr. Butler came to Red Cloud in 1884 from Toledo, Ohio, and established his present business in 1889. How well he has succeeded, his large trade speaks for itself.

CARL M. PERSON.

Mr. Person is one of those versatile mechanics who can turn a hand to almost any kind of repair work. He repairs sewing machines, musical instruments, guns, and in fact everything. He has had thirty-four years experience in this line of business and keeps on hand sewing machines of all kinds for sale or rent. He has a number of second-hand sewing machines that are as good as new and one can get a bargain here in this line. He is an expert piano and organ man and is prepared to quote you the lowest factory prices on these musical goods. For first-class service in his line you should see him. Shop just north of Jos. Fogel's harness shop.

J. O. CALDWELL.

Red Cloud can boast of having in her midst a poultry and coal dealer who is complimented highly as a business man of honor and reliability. This man is Mr. J. O. Caldwell, who has an established reputation among the
