

Rheumatism

Rheumatic pains are the cries of protest and distress from tortured muscles, aching joints and excited nerves. The blood has been poisoned by the accumulation of waste matter in the system, and can no longer supply the pure and health sustaining food they require. The whole system feels the effect of this acid poison; and not until the blood has been purified and brought back to a healthy condition will the aches and pains cease.

Mrs. James Keil, of 707 Ninth street, N. E., Washington, D. C., writes as follows: "A few months ago I had an attack of Solistic Rheumatism in its worst form. The pain was so intense that I became completely prostrated. The attack was an unusually severe one, and my condition was regarded as being very dangerous. I was attended by one of the most able doctors in Washington, who is also a member of the faculty of a leading medical college here. He advised me to continue his prescriptions and I would get well. After having it filled twelve times without receiving the slightest benefit, I decided to continue his treatment any longer. Having heard of S. S. S. (Swift's Specific) recommended for Rheumatism, I decided, almost in despair however, to give the medicine a trial, and after I had taken a few bottles I was able to hobble around on crutches, and very soon thereafter had no use for them at all. S. S. S. having cured me sound and well. All the distressing pains have left me, my appetite has returned, and I am happy to be again restored to perfect health."

SSS the great vegetable purifier and tonic, is the ideal remedy in all rheumatic troubles. There are no opiates or minerals in it to disturb the digestion and lead to ruinous habits.

We have prepared a special book on Rheumatism which every sufferer from this painful disease should read. It is the most complete and interesting book of the kind in existence. It will be sent free to any one desiring it. Write our physicians fully and freely about your case. We make no charge for medical advice.

One hundred thousand people are waiting for the chance to make 13,000 entries upon land to be opened to settlement in Oklahoma.

Dr. Towne, secretary of the state board of health, says that of the 5,000 cases of smallpox the past winter and spring only four proved fatal.

A mistake was made in the county treasurers semi annual statement as published last week. The total in one place read 199,044.49 and it should have read $109,944.49.

It is estimated that Kansas will suffer crop losses from the protracted heated spell to the extent of $100,000,000. This figure will be even larger if the heat continues a few days longer, as then there will be absolutely no help for the corn.

The Minnesota state pardon board has approved the parole of Coleman and James Younger, who have been in the Stillwater penitentiary for the past twenty-five years for complicity in the robbery and murder at the time of the raid on the Northfield, Minnesota, bank.

The mystery surrounding the robbery of the county treasurers office of Kearney county and the slugging of the treasurer with a billy has been cleared up at last by the treasurer, Alfred Nolin, making a full and complete confession, and disclosing the hiding place of $6,775, which was buried in a cornfield near his house.

The Genoa Indians from northern Nebraska will cross bats with the Superior team at the new base ball park Superior, on Tuesday and Wednesday July 16 and 17. The Genoa are the best all Indian ball team on the road and it will be the only opportunity for our people to see the Indians and their work on the diamond.

The proclamation of the president opening to settlement the lands ceded by Indians in the territory of Oklahoma, was given to the public Monday. It provides for the opening of the lands in those reservations which are not reserved at 9 o'clock a. m. on the fifth of August next, the lands to be opened to settlement under the homestead and townsite laws of the United States.

The aspirants for public office who wish to submit their cases to the people this fall are beginning to show up, and from present indications they will be as thick as flies around a molasses barrel. As yet we have not had a chance to interview many of them, but what few we have talked with inform us that after a very careful examination of themselves, by themselves, they find themselves eminently qualified and capable to fill the various offices to which they aspire.

The new game and fish law will go into effect next Monday when it will be unlawful to catch any fish in Beaver Creek weighing more than forty pounds. It will be unlawful also for any fisherman in this state to tell his friends that the largest got away. The game laws will be modified to some extent, but the killing of book agents is still permitted under certain restrictions. Persons who ask "is it hot enough for you?" may be killed from June to October as heretofore.—Beaver City Tribune.

Now that the committee has fixed the date for a state convention it behooves the republicans of the state to cast about and select the very best man that can be chosen as a candidate for supreme judge. No man can be nominated and elected just because he is a good republican and a good fellow. That part of it is all right but in addition he must be thoroughly qualified from a legal standpoint, and one whose character is absolutely unassailable. There are plenty of such men in Nebraska, and most of them are found in the republican party. Let us nominate one of them and the work of electing him will come that much easier.

This may be a poor year for wheat, at least we have heard lots of people say it was, but a trip a few miles in the country in any direction is all that is necessary to dispel this idea. A person can go one mile west of this town and by standing up in a buggy or wagon you can count just 471,092 shocks of wheat. How many do you suppose could be counted if a person was up in a balloon about half a mile. After carefully figuring the proportionate visionable areas from a buggy and a balloon 2040 feet high we conclude there would be just about 734,698,521 wheat shocks in sight, aside from the numerous stacks.

Here is some advice to aspirants for office this fall. When you go after anything start after something else. If you see something coming go the other way, the darned thing may be loaded. Oh yes, and when you go after something else, go back after what you started after, but slip up on it from the other side. If you see anything tied up in a bag turn it loose and then chase it. If anything is going away from you, kabunt, if it comes toward you, run. When things go zig zag here and there, keep out of the way; if they run in streaks, grab a root, shut your eyes and hark—Ex.

A short time ago a Jewell county justice of the peace had a little difficulty with a neighbor and during the controversy slapped the other fellow. The conscientious justice then went home and issued a warrant for his own arrest for assault and battery, arraigned himself as a private citizen before himself as a justice. As a private citizen he plea guilty; as a justice he imposed a fine of five dollars; as a private citizen he promptly paid the fine and then as a justice he reported the case and sent the money to the county treasurer to be turned into the school fund. This was an actual occurrence as the records in office of the county clerk will show.—Advocate.

It wasn't a Missouri editor, but a printer's devil who was going through his first experience of "making up" the forms. The paper was late and the boy got the galley mixed. The first part of an obituary notice of an impetuous citizen had been dumped in the forms, and the next handful of type came off a galley describing a recent fire. It read like this: "The pall bearers loved the body to the grave and as it was consigned to the flames there were few if any regrets, for the old wreck had been an eye-sore to the town for years. Of course, there was individual loss, but that was fully covered by insurance." The widow thinks the editor wrote the obituary that way because the lamented partner of her joys and sorrows owed him five years' subscription.—Ex.

The summer is the time to put away eggs for winter sales. Richard Graham of the Ontario agricultural college has been trying different methods of preserving them, and prefers water glass. Water glass is known to chemists as sodium silicate. It can be obtained from druggists, who, if they do not have it in stock, can obtain it from their wholesale houses. It sells at from seventy-five cents to one dollar a gallon. Mix one gallon with five gallons of boiled water, which is as strong as it can be used, although it can be mixed with ten gallons. For the strongest solution the eggs must be perfectly fresh. There is a drawback to the water glass method; the shell easily bursts in boiling water. This however may be prevented by piercing the shell with a needle. In most packed eggs the yolk, sooner or later, begins to settle on one side and the egg begins to depreciate. This does not happen when water glass is used, and the eggs retain a surprising freshness. In one test it was found that ten per cent solution of water glass preserved the eggs so effectively that at the end of three and a half months eggs that were packed on August 1st, appeared perfectly fresh. A gallon of water glass will preserve fifty dozen eggs.

ALMOST FORGOTTEN.

Incidents of Every Day Life Which Very Few People Stop to Think About on Account of Their Littleness.

The summer days are here.—That is the hot weather.—The past few days has kept a fellow guessing how to keep cool.—And in reality it is a guess.—The only way to keep cool is to get a couple of cakes of ice and crawl in between them.—Under such conditions you can keep cool until the ice melts.—How would you like to be the ice man.—To tell the truth we would like to be the ice cream soda man.—We have about come to the conclusion that a man with a few good milk cows an ice cream freezer, an ice house full of ice, and a soda water fountain, can make the biggest multi-millionaire in Red Cloud bow to him.—The city council has secured the services of M. W. Dickerson to collect the water rents.—This is all right.—But there are some things that are not all right.—The part of the bargain that is not all right is the "cussin" which water consumers heap lavishly upon the collector when he can't help himself.—These kickers had better register their kicks with some members of the council.—And further, should we have the power to name the committee with whom to register kicks we would appoint Alderman Pulsipher from the First and Alderman Griffith from the Second ward.—These are the two most able bodied men on the council.—And if you get too obstreperous in your "kicks" or "cussin's" they are big enough to "bate you, not because they hate you, but because they have the authority."—Therefore we say, please don't kick to the collector.—Kick to the members of the council.—If you haven't the sand to kick there keep your mouth shut.—Talking about kicking we have heard considerable lately against the man who is always sticking his nose in and queering real estate deals.—The parties referred to as doing the kicking are hotter than a blast of Kansas hot winds and they have a right to be of an equatorial temperature.—They assert that the party referred to is a neighbor but they don't call him by any endearing or neighborly names.—Between the hot blasts of invectives hurled at this saintly neighbor or former neighbor, by a German property owner out there we heard the following:—"No, it's not Elmer Ross, he's a good neighbor, he's a gentleman, the fellow I mean is a d—d hog."—In an interview with Johnny Craze he informed us that he was still a two-legged animal and had no predilection for the four footed animal spoken of and said further that as Hugh Gullifer did not use corn in its natural state the Dutchman didn't mean either one of them.—We haven't been exactly able to locate the d—d hog but will say that this is an appropriate name for any person who will knock his neighbor or any one else out of the chance to sell his property.

A donkey stepped into a store, says the Belleville Freeman, and the owner approached the beast and asked: "What are you doing here? You know this is no place for a donkey." "I am here," said the donkey, "because I saw your advertisement on the fence that surrounds my pasture. I know you too must be a donkey or you would place your advertisement in a news paper where it would be read by people, not donkeys. Being lonesome today I thought I would be neighborly and make you a fraternal call."

SUPREME COURT DECIDES.

Confirms the Decision of the Lower Court in Case of City of Red Cloud vs. F. & M. Banking Co.

The State Journal of today contains the following supreme court decision which will be good news to the taxpayers of this city: "The supreme court has reversed the ruling in the State against Keim, regarding the right of the state, county or municipality to sue and recover funds which have been illegally deposited in a bank for safe keeping. The new decision is in the case of the Farmers & Merchants Banking Company against the City of Red Cloud, error from Webster county. The judgment of the lower court that city of Red Cloud could recover funds deposited unlawfully by the city treasurer is affirmed by the supreme court, Commissioner George A. Day writing the opinion.

"The new ruling is as follows: 'When an officer charged with the collection and custody of public money, unlawfully deposits the same in a bank for safe-keeping, and the same is subject to the check or demand of such officer, the state, county or municipal body by whom such officer acted, may maintain an action in its own name to recover such deposit. State vs. Keim, 8 N. B. 63, overruled.'

Henry Cook, city treasurer of Red Cloud deposited $6,000 in the bank for safe keeping. Later the bank became involved and the city sued and obtained a judgment for $7,000, in the face of the holding in the Keim case, which was that the state could not sue to recover money illegally loaned by a public officer unless the legislature had previously consented to the action of the state officer."

A WORTHY SUCCESSOR

"Something New Under The Sun."

All Doctors have tried to cure Catarrh by the use of powders, acid gases, inhalers, and drugs in paste form. Their powders dry up the mucous membranes causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have entirely eaten away the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of Catarrh, has at last perfected a treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures Catarrh by removing the cause, stopping the discharges, and curing all inflammation. It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches the afflicted parts.
