

Women are Like Flowers.

Healthy and strong they blossom and bloom. Sickly, they wither and die. Every woman ought to look well and feel well. It's her right and duty, but she might as well try to put out a fire with oil as to be healthy and attractive with disease corroding the organs that make her a woman. Upon their health depends her health. If there is inflammation or weakening drains or suffering at the monthly period, attend to it at once. Don't delay. You're one step nearer the grave every day you put it off. Women can stand a great deal, but they cannot live forever with disease dragging at the most delicate and vital organs in their body. You may have been deceived in so-called cures. We don't see how you could help it—there is so much worthless stuff on the market. But you won't be disappointed in Bradford's Female Regulator. We believe it is the one medicine on earth for womanly ills. There is as much difference between it and other so-called remedies as there is between right and wrong. Bradford's Female Regulator soothes the pain, stops the drains, promotes regularity, strengthens, purifies and cleanses. It does all this quickly and easily and naturally. It is for women alone to decide whether they will be healthy or sick. Bradford's Regulator lies at hand. $1 per bottle at drug store. Send for our free booklet.

BATTLE OF GERMS.

Destructive Agencies Combated by Friendly Parasites.

Vast Field of Scientific Investigation Which May Yield Valuable Results to Animal and Vegetable Life.

The deeper science digs into the secrets of nature the more wonderful the balancing of forces appears, and not the least of these marvels of adjustment is the counteracting or breaking down of agencies destructive to life by the activity of other organisms.

In a vague way this balancing of the forces of life and death was realized long ago, but now investigation has revealed much that was formerly hidden. It has even become possible for man to protect himself and his property, to some extent, against harm by using minute living organisms to check and undermine those which are his foes, says the Cleveland Leader.

The most striking recent instance of this kind is afforded by the work of the department of agriculture in combating the insects that prey upon the fruit trees of California. Parasites of organisms which are themselves parasites of the trees are saving orchards and groves by destroying the foes of the fruit. A destructive scale, as the little creature is called, eats the trees, and it, in turn, is eaten by a ladybug imported from Australia. So the balance is restored, and beneficial forms of life, viewed from the human standpoint, at least, have their due advantage over the forces of destruction.

The success of such ingenious levying of microscopic warriors for some of man's hardest fighting suggests the possibility of destroying the smallest germs of disease which are living organisms by discovering something still more infinitesimal to prey upon these pernicious forms of destructive energy, as they do upon man. It would be rash to say that this is going too far for human knowledge or resources.

Well-known and very significant facts indicate that just such agencies may yet be used to break the power of deadly germ diseases. Nature might well have some such way of preserving a fit and wholesome balance between life and death, in the highest of all her organic forms.

It is well understood, for example, that when a virulent disease is introduced where it never before existed its ravages are far worse than any have which it causes in countries where it has been a curse for generations or centuries. Smallpox simply slaughtered the Indians of America when it was brought into this continent from Europe. Pulmonary tuberculosis, or consumption of the lungs, has practically depopulated certain islands of the South seas where the natives seemed not to have encountered the disease before white men brought it into their earthly paradises.

On the other hand, in countries like Japan, where a race has been settled for many hundreds of years, with little change in the essential habits or conditions of life, the resisting power of the body when assailed, as it always is, more or less, by disease germs, appears to have been so developed by the survival of the fittest, or otherwise, that many cases of consumption result in cures which would be deemed wonderful in other lands. Is it not possible that this growing ability to come in contact with deadly germs and still retain good health may be due to the development of the right kind of organism or secretion of the body to attack, in turn, and destroy the most fatal foes of man?

There is a vast field of investigation opening in this direction which may yield results which now seem less substantial than any of the fairy tales of science. It may be that discoveries are to be made in the control of natural forces affecting the health and strength of the human body, its life and duration, which will be as revolutionary and epoch-making as any of those marvels of invention which made the last century famous forever in the history of our race.

REAL PANAMA HATS.

Made in Ecuador and Bring from $20 to $150, According to Their Finances.

The so-called Panama hat, so extensively in vogue, is not the product of Panama at all, or even of the state of Colombia, but is manufactured in the neighboring republic of Ecuador in enormous quantities and of every variety of shape, texture and quality, and sold under the general name of Guayaquil hats throughout Mexico, Central America and South America, at prices varying from 50 cents upward, says a New York News letter.

The hat, however, that is known to the wealthiest classes of those countries as the Panama hat is quite a different affair, a veritable "article de luxe," selling at prices varying from $20 to $150, according to their fineness. They are worn indifferently by either sex, without ribbon or other adornment, as they come from the Indian makers' hands, without profanation of starch, and are the more highly prized from the fact that their closely woven texture not only renders them impervious to the sun's rays, but likewise waterproof, which last quality is highly esteemed where it is deemed expedient to keep the head dry during the constant equatorial showers.

WOMEN WHO ANSWER "ADS."

There Are Some Who Do It as a Pastime, According to This Man's Experiences.

"I've actually got so that I dread to advertise for female employes," said the manager of an art store, to a New York Sun man. "If it was possible to get through the work myself I'd rather do it than to interview a mob of feminine callers."

"To select a good assistant didn't use to be such a big job as it is now. For one thing, there were not formerly so many triflers. You would be surprised to know how many women answer advertisements for help who do not want employment and neither could nor would take it if it was offered to them at a good salary. They are what I call professional advertisement answerers."

"I had occasion to advertise only last week for a clerk, and as a protection against these nuisances, I stated that no professional callers need apply. Yet they came, at least a dozen of them. Fortunately, I've got so I can spot them on short notice, and don't fool away much time on them."

"When the unqualified callers first began to besiege me in such numbers I was under the impression that the regular rounders were the representatives of agencies who wished to get us on their list and furnish their own applicant on commission, but I was mistaken in this, for while a few of the professionals are connected, most of them pursue the fad on their own accord. It is without doubt the craziest hobby womankind has ever ridden, and my only hope is that they will soon run down."

"A goodly percentage of these idlers are social reformers who are bent on writing books and tracts and things. Somewhere they have imbibed the idea that men who employ help are regular vampires, ever on the lookout for new victims, and their object in visiting us is to investigate our methods of securing clerks and afterward acquaint the public with our evil procedures."

"But I can stand even these troublesome spies with even more equanimity than the woman who, finding time hang heavily on their hands, tramp around from office to office for the fun of the thing."

The Eminent Kidney and Bladder Specialist

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Then the richness of the blood—the albumen—leaks out and the sufferer has Bright's Disease, the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the new discovery is the true specific for kidney, bladder and urinary troubles. It has cured thousands of apparently hopeless cases, after all other efforts have failed. At druggists in fifty-cent and dollar sizes. A sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling about Swamp-Root and its wonderful cures. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. and mention this paper.

THE RIGHT THING TO PUT ON.

(Benson's Plaster is Pain's Master.)

From the natural impulse to "put something on" a painful spot all applications for the relief of pain have arisen.

The most successful have ever been poultices or plasters, and the best of these is Benson's Porous Plaster.

No other has anything like the same power as a curative agent; it is highly and scientifically medicated, and its standard is advanced year by year.

Use Benson's Plaster for coughs, colds, chest diseases, rheumatism, grip, neuralgia, kidney trouble, lame back, and other ailments that make Winter a season of suffering and danger. It relieves and cures quicker than any other remedy.

Do not accept Capsicum, Strengthening or Belladonna plasters in place of Benson's, as they possess none of its curative power. Insist on having the genuine.

The people of every civilized land have testified for years to the superlative merit of Benson's Plaster; and 5,000 physicians and druggists of this country have declared them worthy of public confidence.

In official comparisons with others, Benson's Plasters have been honored with fifty-five highest awards.

For sale by all druggists, or we will prepay postage on any number ordered in the United States on the receipt of 25c. each. Accept no imitation or substitute.
