THE NEW MANAGEMENT.

No doubt many of our readers will be surprised to learn of a change in management in the office of THE CHIEF. Negotiations had been pending for some time, and the deal is now closed, whereby the business is now owned and will hereafter be conducted by The Chief Publishing Co. The new firm is composed of Phares Bros. and Newhouse Bros. The latter gentlemen need no introduction to the citizens of Red Cloud and vicinity, having resided here since 1870, when red-top boots with copper toes were the prevailing style, and for the last six years have conducted a successful jewelry business in this city. Paul C. Phares, the senior brother, is well and favorably known in this community, having been an employe in THE CHIEF office about 16 years ago under the regime of A. C. Hosmer. He has the experience of a life time behind him. Will M. Phares comes from Clinton, Illinois, where he has a record of eleven years of faithful service in one office. He is a practical printer, and expects to make a success of the business in Red Cloud.

Incidentally, it happens that the Phares brothers and Mr. Hosmer emigrated from the same locality in Illinois and served time in the same printing office—the good old Clinton Public. We trust the city is large enough to hold us.

We will do our utmost to publish a newspaper that will contain all the news. We put our trust in the people, who are the real news gatherers of a community and on whom we will depend for full accounts of local and general happenings. When you have news, bring or send it to the office. Come in often and pay a personal call; let us get better acquainted.

We respectfully solicit of the business men a share of their patronage, both in advertising and job work, and guarantee satisfactory service.

The actual management of the paper will be in the hands of Paul C. Phares and Will M. Phares, and its political stand is Republican.

To our subscribers, we thank you for past favors and trust that THE CHIEF will merit a continuance of your support. If those in arrears have any thing in the way of money to bestow upon us, we will see that proper credit is given on our books. All communications should be addressed to The Chief Publishing Co.

Gurdon W. Wattle, chairman of the Nebraska commission, has a novel plan for the exhibit of this state at the Louisiana Purchase exposition. He proposes to transplant the entire state onto the exposition grounds at St. Louis, if a sufficiently large tract of land can be secured, and reproduce it in miniature and paintings. His idea, if properly carried out, will require about ten acres.

The most incisive and keenly analytical sketches of public men which have been prepared during the past two years have been those of William Allen White. The numerous little episode between Mr. White and Mr. Thomas C. Platt is still fresh in the public memory. Mr. White's sketch for March appears in THE COSMOPOLITAN and is on the late President Harrison. It will be read with wide interest by both the opponents and friends of that statesman.

Some Compliments.

Will M. Phares, for the past 11 years an employe of The Public, left yesterday for Red Cloud, Neb., with his brother, Paul C. Phares, of Topeka, Kan., having purchased an interest in the RED CLOUD CHIEF of the former place. They take possession March 3d. The paper was formerly owned by Fred Hosmer, who went West from this city. Mr. Phares leaves Clinton with the best wishes of The Public and a host of friends. He is a practical workman and an experienced newspaper man and will undoubtedly infuse new life into the newspaper business in Red Cloud.—Clinton (Ill.) Public.

Will M. Phares, who had been no The Public force about 11 years, left yesterday for Red Cloud, Neb., where he expects to engage in the newspaper business with his brother, Paul Phares, who has been in the West for several years. They had arranged for the purchase of the RED CLOUD CHIEF, formerly owned by Fred Hosmer, who was foreman of The Public a number of years, and for whom Paul Phares worked in Red Cloud. Mr. Phares is a good printer and an honorable young man, and his many friends feel that he will be able to do his part in publishing a paper that will merit the patronage of the people of Red Cloud and vicinity. The Register wishes him success.—Clinton (Ill.) Register.

Will M. Phares, for 11 years connected with The Public office at Clinton, left this week for Red Cloud, Neb., where he goes into the newspaper business as proprietor, in connection with a brother. The Life of Wm. McKinley, by Murat Halstead, and THE CHIEF one year for $1.50, the price of the book alone.

The diver dies without air to breathe. The consumptive dies without lungs to breathe the air, or of lungs rendered incapable of breathing by disease. The blood as it flows in and out of the lungs indicates the consumptive's progress. As the lungs grow weaker less oxygen is inhaled and the blood changes from scarlet to purple. Oxygen is the life of the blood as the blood is the life of the body.

The effect of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery upon weak lungs is to strengthen them, to enable the full oxygenation of the blood, arrest the progress of disease, and heal the inflamed tissues. Lung diseases have been and are being cured by "Golden Medical Discovery," in cases where deep-seated cough, frequent hemorrhage, emaciation, weakness, and night-sweats have all pointed to a fatal termination by consumption.

"Some years ago I was almost a helpless victim of that dread disease—consumption," writes Mr. Chas. Fross, P. M., of Sitka, White Co., Ind. "I was confined to my room for several months. My friends and neighbors had given up all hope of my recovery, until one day a friend advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and after I had taken the contents of the second bottle I began to improve. After taking six bottles I was, I honestly believe, delivered from the grave and entirely cured. I am now a strong and hearty man."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the clogged system from accumulated impurities.
