There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Lail's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. Attempted Jail Delivery.
 It has just leaked out that Sheriff McArthur had quite an experience with his prisoners some time ago and had he not been cool and thoughtful he might have been the victim of a jail delivery. The night chosen was a stormy one, and it was very dark. Sheriff McArthur had been away during the day and on coming into the jail in the evening he was unable to find Prisoner Williams. He inquired of Prisoner Keating what had become of Williams. Keating replied that he had laid down and gone to sleep, and when he awoke Williams was not in the jail. Sheriff McArthur and his wife proceeded to make a search of the premises, including the outside of the jail, quite thoroughly, and not finding him they came back into the jail and the sheriff accused Keating of having Williams hidden somewhere in the jail cage, but Keating protested that such was not the case. It then occurred to the sheriff that Williams might be hidden under his cot in his cell. It also occurred to Sheriff McArthur that if he went into the cell to search for Williams it might be a part of the plan to lock him in the cell and then the prisoners would make their escape. He asked Keating if Williams was not under his cot, and Keating said he was not. The sheriff, still thinking Williams must be there, ordered Keating to go to the cot and look under it for Williams. Keating went and looked under the cot and said Williams was not there, but the sheriff observed there was a large roll of paper under the cot and Williams being a small man, the sheriff thought he must be rolled up in the paper, but he failed to go in and look himself, for he firmly believed it was a plan to lock him in the cell, so he sat down and waited for developments. After waiting quite awhile, young Williams crawled out and they tried to convince the sheriff that it was simply a joke, but Sheriff McArthur feels sure it was a well laid plan for them to try to escape. He immediately locked them in the jail cage and has kept them there ever since.

A Pleasant Affair.
 On last Monday evening the Ladies' Afternoon Waist Club of this city gave one of the most enjoyable social functions of the year, the occasion being the last meeting of the club for the season. The party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Grice, corner of Fifth avenue and Walnut street, and was in honor of the husbands of the club members. Progressive whist was the game of the evening, and the ladies were pitted against the gentlemen during the entire evening. Hearts were trumps, and the score cards were heart shaped and decorated with red carnations in water colors, hand-painted. The decorations of the house were in red and white. Each lady wore a beautiful bouquet of red and white carnations and each gentleman a boutonniere of the same. Refreshments were served and these, too, carried out the color scheme, each article being either red or white; even the gentlemen's cigars had been decorated with red ribbons. Prizes were awarded to those who had made the highest number of points. Mrs. M. A. Albright won the first prize among the ladies, receiving a beautiful bunch of American Beauty roses, and Mr. H. E. Grice won the first prize among the gentlemen, receiving a cigar about fourteen inches in length, which had been decorated with red ribbons.

Painful Accident.
 Last Monday evening Mrs. George Warren met with quite a painful accident. Mr. and Mrs. Warren had been driving and turned to go in where Mr. A. G. Green lives. The horse struck a barbed wire, which had been stretched across the road, and began to plunge. Mrs. Warren was thrown from the buggy and fell under the wheels. The buggy passed over her, one wheel striking her face and another going over her arm. As soon as Mr. Warren could get control of the horse he brought Mrs. Warren to town and called in a physician. No bones were broken and at the present writing Mrs. Warren is suffering but little from the effects of her fall.

Declared Insane.
 J. F. Smith, a farmer and an old resident living southeast of this city, was brought here last Saturday and taken before the insanity board and adjudged insane. He was taken to Lincoln Sunday morning. Mr. Smith's trouble seemed to be only temporary, as on Sunday morning he appeared to be as sound in mind as could be and talked as rationally as anyone, stating that everything that was done from Friday morning was a blank to him. We hope to hear of his return to his home in the near future.

THEY CRUSH THE POWERS

This is written in mid-October. The long, oppressive summer is quite gone. Fading leaf, withering tree and the rustling corn in the fields are signs of the season. Fog, frost, rain, snow—they are coming. You remember last winter, of 1900 and 1901. The weather was cruel. Ah! the thousands it killed, and the hundreds of thousands it maimed and crippled. Oh, the rough grasp it laid on men at work, women at home, and children in cribs and cradles. Coughs that began before Thanksgiving Day are racking and tearing them still; yes, and growing worse as they dip deeper into the poor, tired throat and lungs. Many were cured by using Benson's Porous Plaster. For the soothing and healing power of these Plasters is wonderful. They conquer the complaints

THAT ARE KILLING THE PEOPLE.

No other plaster, no other medicine or application, can compare with them. Coughs, colds, backache, rheumatism, lumbago, kidney and liver troubles, asthma, influenza—they all go down before Benson's Plasters like a snow image in the sun. You can't throw money away on a Benson's Plaster. Everybody is going to use them this season. But make certain you get the genuine. All druggists, or we will prepay postage on any number ordered in the United States on receipt of 25c. each. Seabury & Johnson, Mfg. Chemists, N.Y.

Holland House Changes Hands.

Last Monday the Holland House in this city changed hands. J. W. Runchey, the former proprietor, having leased the house and furnishings to Ed. Fry. Mr. Runchey and his estimable wife have made many friends during the few years they have been in business here who will regret to see them quit our business circles. In speaking of the new manager, Mr. Fry, we can say he is an old hotel man and believe he will make a success of his new venture. While we, with the rest of our citizens do not like to see Mr. and Mrs. Runchey quit our business circles, still if such must be we are pleased to note that they have secured such a good successor as Mr. Fry, and THE CHIEF wishes Mr. Fry success in his venture.

Woodmen's Day.

Thursday, April 24, will be Woodmen's day in Red Cloud. The consuls of most of the camps in the county have joined in calling a delegate meeting to organize a county association in opposition to the readjustment plan proposed by the head officers. It is proposed to have an enthusiastic meeting of Woodmen in the evening to discuss the new rates and the reserve plan. All Woodmen in the county and adjacent territory are cordially invited.

School Bond Election.

On Wednesday of next week the eligible school voters are expected to vote for or against the issuing of more bonds by school district No. 2. As will be seen by reading the election notice published in another column of this paper, the proceeds are to be used for the purpose of placing heating plants in the school houses of this city. The members of the board found themselves confronted with the question of either doing this or buying another lot of stoves. We believe either a steam or hot water plant should be installed in each of the buildings, and therefore are very much in favor of the bonds, much as we dislike the issuing of bonds for any purpose. With stoves one corner of the room is hot and the balance cold; those pupils sitting near the stoves are too warm, while the others are too cold. Besides this consideration may be mentioned the annoyance to both pupils and teachers of having the janitor coming in to build the fires, also the dirt and general unsanitariness of stoves. Then, too, the greater economy of either one of these heating systems in the matter of fuel. It has cost this city during the last school year $450 for coal for the thirteen or fourteen stoves, and with either of the above systems it should not cost half as much to heat the buildings. With either of the systems an even temperature could be maintained, the pupils would suffer less from colds and from cold, and while it seems a large outlay just at the present time, we believe in the end it will be found to be an economy. Therefore we are in favor of the issuing of bonds.

Obituary.

Albert P. Whitwer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitwer, was born in Smith county, Kansas, in June, 1888, and died Tuesday, April 15, at 3 a. m. Albert had been a sufferer for thirteen weeks with that fearful disease, spinal meningitis, and during the last two days of his life was unconscious most of the time. Funeral services were held at the home, conducted by the Rev. C. Turner of the U. B. church of Lebanon and the remains were laid to rest in the Webb Hill cemetery April 16. The family of the deceased youth have the sympathy of a large circle of friends and acquaintances.
