

White Pine and Tar Cough Syrup

Pine trees seem to furnish the best remedies for Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis and other throat troubles. We make a syrup of white pine tar, that, in the opinion of many of our customers, has never been excelled as a family cough cure. We are willing to sell it with the distinct understanding that if it is not satisfactory to you, you can exchange what is left of the bottle for any other 25c remedy, or we will refund your money. That is a fair proposition. We know what this syrup will do. Price 25c per bottle.

Summers, the new Methodist minister, has removed his family from Trumbull to Red Cloud and they are now comfortably located at the parsonage. There will be a Harvest Home service at the Episcopal church next Sunday followed by a social on Monday night at the home of Miss Ferris. All are cordially invited. All members of the Methodist church in this city are urged to attend a mass meeting to be held next Tuesday evening at the church for the purpose of discussing ways and means for erecting a new building.

D. M. Styles of Chase county was in town for a short time Wednesday. Mr. Styles was formerly a photographer here. He was probate judge of Chase county for a time, and is now studying for the ministry.

The Adventists have opened a school in their church building on North Webster street. The school is free, and is under the direction of the following board: W. H. Bullock, F. Houchin and H. W. Vincent. J. W. Rich will teach the little ones.

James Clement Ambrose will open the lecture course of the Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church Friday night, Oct. 10th, at the M. E. church. The course will be made up of two lectures, two concerts and a chalk talk. Reason tickets, $1.25; single ticket, 35c.

The G. A. R. memorial monument committee has had printed a large number of badges, which are for sale at all stores at 50 cents. With each badge is given a chance on a lot in Red Cloud. Everybody should be willing to aid the G. A. R. in erecting a suitable monument to their dead comrades buried here.

On last Friday evening Mrs. Fred Tunure gave a delightful little farewell party for Miss Frances Harman, who left Monday morning for her brother's home at Holdrege, where she will be married on the 21st, to Mr. Clarence Waldow, of Bloomington. There were just a few of Miss Harman's most intimate friends present, and a very enjoyable evening was spent with cards and other amusements; later in the evening delicate refreshments were served. Upon leaving those present could not find words to express the regret they felt at losing from social circles one of the most charming and sweet-tempered girls that has ever graced Red Cloud's society.

Will Dungan Injured.

Will Dungan was quite badly injured last Friday evening, while in the discharge of his duties as hostler at the B. & M. round house. Mr. Dungan had run a passenger engine to the coal chutes to be coaled and had gone above to assist the man to move a coal car, when the timbers gave away and by some means, throwing him against the ceiling above and allowing him to drop to the floor again. His face was badly lacerated and one limb was severely bruised. The patient visited the chief surgeon at McCook and then went to his home in Hastings on Saturday.

That "Wholesale Grocery" House.

A short time ago THE CHIEF made the announcement that Red Cloud was to have a branch wholesale grocery house. This was incorrect. Instead of a wholesale house, which would have been a benefit to the town, the new enterprise will be a detriment to home merchants. We were led into this error by the individual most interested. His "jobbing house" will consist of taking orders for cheap groceries from the farmers and filling them from a wholesale house in Chicago. We wish to warn farmers and others that they run considerable risk when ordering goods in this manner. The only safe way to do business is to patronize home merchants, where you can always be certain of getting full weight and first class goods.

Former Red Cloud People at Lincoln.

Last Sunday, October 4, thirty-three former Red Cloud people, now residents of Lincoln, met at Lincoln park, for the purpose of enjoying a reunion and picnic. A basket dinner was enjoyed, and all enjoyed stories and reminiscences of their former life in Red Cloud. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Wilburn and family, Miss Angee Wilburn, Mr. and Mrs. John Dickerson, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Winters and family, Mrs. M. B. Edleman and family Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Blair and family, Miss Cora Garber, Miss Bertha Potter, Miss Hazel Bell, Mrs. L. A. Hunsong and children, Mrs. Howard Cather and son, Mr. John C. Myers, Mr. Charles Crabill and friend, and Mr. Joe S. Blair.

Two Runaways.

Last Sunday morning as the street car was returning from the 10 o'clock trail the double-tree became unhooked from the car, frightening the horses. They went north on Webster street at pace never before equalled by street horses, and came to a stop near the standpipe. No damage was done except a few bruises on the hind legs of the horses.

Thursday morning W. B. Roby's delivery horse livened up things on the street. Starting from the north end of the business part of Webster street she ran about five blocks south and stopped. Winnie Brown, who was driving, held the reins until the horse stopped. Both hind feet of the horse were badly cut, and she will be laid up for several days.

Red Cloud's "High Diver."

The following clipping from a St. Paul, Minn., paper refers to a well known Red Cloud boy, Jesse Buell, son of Mrs. N. S. Rants. Mr. Buell is in the employ of a street carnival company, which travels from city to city giving open-air entertainments: "Captain Zeno performs his thrilling act of diving from a tower 100 feet high into a life-saving net twice each day. The ease and unconcern which he manifests preparatory to making the hazardous plunge excite the wonder and admiration of the crowd, who breathlessly watch him as he flies through the air."

Kepton Comedy Co.

The popular Kepton Comedy Company last night opened a three nights' engagement at the opera house in this city. The company needs no recommendation to the theatergoers here. Last night the Keptons presented "On the Stroke of Twelve." The opera house was well filled and those in attendance enjoyed the play. The company will
