State Agricultural Meetings.
 The following organizations will hold their meetings at the university farm, Lincoln, during the week of January 18, 1904: The State Board of Agriculture, State Swine Breeders' association, Nebraska Improved Live Stock Breeders' association, Nebraska Dairyman's association, Nebraska Veterinary Medical association, Association of Agricultural Students, Nebraska State Horticultural society, State farmers' institute, Nebraska State Poultry association, Nebraska Short-horn Breeders' association, Nebraska Corn Improvers' association, Nebraska Bee Keepers' association, Nebraska Irrigation association, Nebraska Stock-

Growers' association, Nebraska Park and Forestry association, The Farmers' Co-operative Grain and Live Stock State association. A large number of distinguished speakers on various agricultural topics have promised to be in attendance at these meetings and all members of these societies are urged to attend.

GUIDE ROCK.

Len Tompkins has bought the Aughton place.

Mrs. Shurman, W. H. Barcus and C. F. Sierbacher all moved Monday.

Mrs. Dickerson has the frame for her new house up.

Guide Rock came near having a fire Saturday night. As John Shultz was starting home he discovered a fire in Garson's implement house. The door was soon broken open and the fire extinguished. It is supposed to have originated from a cigar or match that had been thrown into a small box with some waste paper in it and used for a cuspidor, and which sat in front of the stove. The box was about burned, and also a hole through the floor.

Preparations are in progress for Christmas exercises at the churches here.

E. Nolt is loading a car to move to Indiana.

Attorney Potter was down from Red Cloud Saturday.

The German Evangelical association is holding meetings at the Christian church this week.

Rev. Gillette preached an entertaining sermon at the Christian church Sunday evening.

J. H. Bailey was down from Red Cloud last week.

C. C. Dunbar has rearranged the interior of his restaurant.

GARFIELD.

We had a light snow Tuesday night. George Barnes shelled three hundred bushels of corn last Tuesday and hauled it to Guide Rock.

Clarence and Cora Reed were visiting with N. L. D. Smith last Sunday. Charles Amack hauled corn to Guide Rock last Friday.

John Osborn is delivering corn to A. B. Wiggins.

Bert Dow is now husking corn for Bert King.

Harvey Taylor is at home again.

Llewellyn King has finished husking his corn.

There will be a basket supper at the school house in district 85 tonight.

There was a full house at the basket supper given by Dean Smith in district 36 Thursday night of last week. A good program was well rendered. The speaking and acting were good, often eliciting applause. The teacher is a graduate of the Red Cloud high school, class of 1902, and had invited some of his associate graduates to be present to witness this, his maiden effort at conducting intellectual drama. The young ladies said they were well pleased with the entertainment.

STATE CREEK.

All is quiet on our creek and gathering corn is the order of the day.

Alex Bentley, the jolly bachelor of this neck of the woods, is still holding forth on the Butler farm.

There will be a Christmas tree at either Pleasant Dale or Mount Hope, and possibly one at each place.

That is where our education affects you. It is a vital spot, too.

Here is the logic of the situation:
 1. The more you know about any given line of work the better you can do that work.
 2. The better you can do your work the more your services will be in demand.
 3. The more your services are in demand the better salary or wages you can command.
 And you can obtain this who died suddenly last week and was buried at Mount Hope, was the only daughter of F. L. Smith.

Mr. Largent and wife of Illinois, who have been visiting in these parts, have returned to their home. Mr. Largent likes Nebraska better than he expected to.

Wm. H. Rosenorans will rent his farm, unless he sells it before spring, and have a public sale of his personal property, preparatory to removing to Rockford, Ill. The meetings at Penny Creek school house, conducted by Rev. Jonas Campbell and Miss Alles have closed without any additions to the class. They are Wesleyan in Methodists.

The reports in the newspapers and otherwise circulated in regard to Wesley Anshutz having been arrested were absolutely false, and so we have concluded to only believe half of what we read in the papers.
