

Women Like Tubulars

WHY?

Every woman praises the simplicity of the

Sharpless Tubular Cream Separator

Because they are easy to feed, easy to KEEP CLEAN, easy to TURN, points every woman who helps about the dairy has a right to insist upon. All other separators run harder than a TUBULAR. They have a great many more parts to WASH and to WEAR OUT.

Let me give you a catalogue and show you the many good points in a SHARPLESS TUBULAR.

Born, Friday, to Mr. and Mrs. Max Mizer, a girl. Grandpa Mizer is very proud of his first granddaughter, saying it is the largest baby of the season, weighing, when fully dressed, the grand total of five pounds.
Mrs. Anna Cather and Miss Bess Kaley of Lincoln, Neb., and Mrs. W. P. Baack of Findlay, O., sisters of C. W. Dave and Bert Kaley, arrived in Red Cloud last night and the Kaleys are having an old fashioned family reunion.
The regular meeting will be held at the Congregational church Sunday morning. Sermon theme, "An Holy Thing Unto the Lord." Open air meeting in the evening. The pastor will preach at Indian Creek in the afternoon.
The water works were closed down for a short time Monday owing to leaks in the fire plugs at the corners of Second avenue and Fifth avenue and Webster streets. New valves were put in, and the fire plug at the State bank corner was repacked.
A B. & M. detective who has been working in the city for several days has succeeded in locating a considerable amount of stolen lumber and other stuff. The carpents have agreed to restore the property and there will probably be no prosecution.
Charley Hale, who has been foreman of the Nation for over a year, has purchased the restaurant formerly owned by Will Lindley, in the old postoffice building on Fourth avenue. Mr. Hale is an old hand at the restaurant business and we wish him success in his new venture.
Ed Harman, Adair Galusha and Miss Beulah Harman have secured possession of the old Campbell Press printing plant and have moved it to Inavale, where they expect to begin the publication of a newspaper in the near future. Each of them has had more or less experience in the newspaper business, and we predict for them a successful career.
Numerous people in Red Cloud received free copies of last week's Bloomington Advertiser. The paper contained a slanderous article concerning two of Red Cloud's popular young men, and it is presumed that the papers were sent here to give larger circulation to the slander. If the real facts in the matter were given publicity, it would not be the young men who would have cause to blush.
Miss Thompson's Body Recovered.
The body of Miss Nellie Thompson, who was drowned at Bloomington week before last, was discovered three miles west of Red Cloud Sunday morning, by Jack Wilmont, who was fishing in the river near the Miner ranch. Wilmont noticed a peculiar stench, and began an investigation, which resulted in finding the young lady's body lying in a little hollow in the sand, several yards from the main channel of the river. When the river is low or normal the place where the body was found is dry, but when the water is high the sandbar, which is a part of the old river channel, is covered with water. Word was brought to town of the finding of the body, and large crowds of people went out to view the remains. Corner Rains was attending a patient near Inavale, and it was late when he reached the place where the body was found. Word was received from the parents of the young lady that they would start from Bloomington to take their dead daughter home, and Coroner Rains decided not to hold an inquisition. The body had been exposed to the elements so long that the features were hardly recognizable, but she was identified by a ring which she wore.
Following the course of the river, the place where the body was found is nearly thirty miles from where the drowning occurred, and it seems probable that the strong current in the river must have carried Miss Thompson's body past the Franklin bridge before the netting was placed there in an effort to stop it.
Mary had a little lad
Whose face was fair to see,
Because each night he had a drink
Of Rocky Mountain Tea. C. L. Cotting.

Read This Carefully

I am making lots of Farm Loans. There are reasons for this. I can close a loan for you in three days after taking your application, for these reasons:

You do not have to wait and pay for a man to examine the land. My company has oceans of money. You do not wait for them to sell your loan in New York or London before getting the cash.

You can Pay Off at Any Time,

without giving a day's notice of your intention so to do. All other companies require from 30 to 60 days notice on this point.

I have so many different plans for making loans that some one is bound to suit. No one can give better rates.

Heavy Loss by Lightning.

During the storm Wednesday morning lightning struck the barn of James McIntosh, who lives five miles northwest of Red Cloud. The barn and contents were entirely destroyed, and a span of mules and a team of horses in the barn were also killed by the lightning. When Mr. McIntosh discovered the barn to be on fire he went to the barn to get out his horses and mules. He succeeded in getting out part of his horses, but the two teams mentioned were lying dead on the floor of the barn, having been killed by the lightning. Mr. McIntosh valued the mule team at $400 and the horses at $300. He estimates his entire loss at $1500. Insurance on the barn, $500; on the horses and mules, $50 per head. It is often said that lightning does not strike twice in the same place, but this is disproven by the fact that Mr. McIntosh suffered a similar loss two years ago, when his barn, which stood on the same spot as the barn which burned Wednesday morning, was struck by lightning and destroyed, though he succeeded in saving his horses at that time.
