"Webster street will be lighted during dark nights when neither Old Sol or Lunar exhibits their shining face earth-ward."—Com-Ad. We would like to know when the editor of the Com-Ad ever saw "Old Sol" exhibiting his shining face earthward on a dark night.
Who in the deuce is "Lunar," anyway?

The Brandenburg lecture at Damer-ell's hall Tuesday night was very largely attended, the hall being filled to its full capacity. This being the first stop made on the tour of Mr. Brandenburg, his assistant did not at all times show the pictures at the proper time, but all present nevertheless enjoyed the entertainment.

We are glad to note that some of our business men are following the example set by James Peterson. This week Robinson & Burder placed one of their grocery store, and W. H. Taber has made arrangements to have one placed in front of his billiard hall. If all the merchants who have gas plants in their buildings would follow suit, Webster street would soon be brilliantly lighted.
Keep up the good work.

Mrs Hacker's Mother Dead.

Mrs. T. C. Hacker received a telegram Sunday announcing the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Harriet Hoover, at her home in Nemaha City, Neb. Mrs. Hacker left at the early morning train Monday, and reached her mother's bedside before her death, which occurred Tuesday morning.
Mrs. Hoover was the widow of Dr.
Jerome Hoover, who homesteaded the present townsite of Nemaha City in 1852. She was the mother of nine children, but three of whom are living.
Mrs. Hacker returned home from Nemaha City this morning.
