JOHN HAY IS DEAD

HEAD OF STATE DEPARTMENT JOINS SILENT MAJORITY.

Passes Away Suddenly This Morning at His Home in New Hampshire. His Condition Had Been Considered Satisfactory.

Newbury, N. H., July 1.—Secretary of State John Hay died at 12:25 this morning. The signs immediately preceding his death were those of pulmonary embolism. Mr. Hay's condition during all of Friday had been entirely satisfactory.

Mrs. Hay and Drs. Scudder and Murphy were at the secretary's bedside when the end came. The secretary bade good night to his wife and to his attending physicians about 10 o'clock last night, at the end of one of the best days he has had since his illness. The local trouble was clearing up satisfactorily, according to Dr. Scudder. The secretary suffered none of the old pains in his chest which characterized his earlier illness. He had been perfectly comfortable all day and happy in the anticipation of leaving his bed for the greater freedom and comfort of a couch. At 11 o'clock he was sleeping quietly. A few minutes after 12 o'clock he called the nurse, who at once summoned Dr. Scudder. Both Dr. Scudder and Dr. Murphy hastened to the bedside. The secretary was breathing with difficulty and expired almost immediately afterward, at 12:25.

Sketch of His Career.

John Hay was born at Salem, Ind., Oct. 8, 1838; he received a common school education at Warsaw, Ill., academic in Springfield; graduated from Brown university in 1858; married in 1874 Clara Stone at Cleveland; admitted to Illinois bar; one of the private secretaries of President Lincoln; brevet colonel, United States volunteers, assistant adjutant general; secretary of legation, Paris, Madrid, Vienna; charge d'affaires, Vienna; first assistant secretary of state, 1879-81; president international sanitary conference, 1881; ambassador to England in 1897-8. As an author he published "Castilian Days" and "Pike County Ballads" in 1871; translation of Castelar's democracy in Europe in 1872; "Abraham Lincoln," a history (with John G. Nicolay), in 1890. Or his poems "Little Breeches" and "Jim Bledsoe" in dialect, are familiar to almost everyone. As secretary of state in the McKinley and Roosevelt cabinets he achieved notable success handling the large number of diplomatic matters arising out of the war with Spain, the trouble in China and numerous other delicate matters with a skill which stamped him as one of the most accomplished diplomats of his day.

Secretary Hay's Body at Cleveland.

Cleveland, July 3.—The special train bearing the body of Secretary of State John Hay arrived here this morning. The funeral party consisted of Mrs. Hay, the widow; Clarence Hay, Dr. Charles L. Scudder of Boston, who attended Secretary Hay during his last illness; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mather of Cleveland, the latter a sister of Mr. Hay, and S. A. Raymond, also a relative of Mrs. Hay. The casket was enclosed in a rosewood box, in which it will repose until the funeral on Wednesday. Mrs. Hay and Clarence Hay stood the trying ordeal bravely, although they showed plainly the effects of the strain which they had been under.

Many Messages of Condolence.

Washington, July 3.—The high esteem in which Secretary Hay was universally held at home and abroad is manifested by messages which have been received by the government and Mrs. Hay since his death. They have come from sovereigns, from foreign offices, from officials in the diplomatic service and from men in public and private life throughout this country.

ARMISTICE TO STOP FIGHT.

Negotiations Said to Be in Progress at Washington.

St. Petersburg, July 3.—Negotiations for an armistice between the armies of Russia and Japan, it can be definitely stated, are now in progress, presumably at Washington, but they have not reached a stage where any further announcement can be made. The decision seems to rest with Japan, which country is weighing the relinquishment of prospects of bettering her present advantageous position against the enormous cost in lives and money of another great battle. The chances for a decisive and final Japanese victory, it is believed here, are no better now than before Liao Yang and Mukden, and it is pointed out that it is idle to talk of Vladivostok falling like a ripe apple into Japan's hands before the peace conference meets.

Boxer Indemnity Question Settled.

London, July 3.—The correspondent of the Times at Peking says: "The Boxer indemnity question has been settled. All the powers have signed a note accepting China's proposal to consider the indemnity as a gold instead of a silver debt. The movement for the boycotting of American goods is subsiding owing to the action of the authorities, whose desire to prevent the impairment of American good will is, beyond question, sincere."

Japs Advancing on Vladivostok.

London, July 3.—The correspondent of the Morning Post at Shanghai says that the Japanese are advancing on Vladivostok and that a battle is imminent near the Tumen river.

Bargain Sales of Cigarettes.

Lincoln, June 30.—There were bargain sales of cigarettes in Lincoln and other Nebraska towns today. Tomorrow the anti-cigarette law goes into effect, and dealers must get rid of their stock or burn it. The law makes no restrictions upon smoking. It simply provides that no one shall sell or give away cigarettes or paper for making them, and prohibits their manufacture.

Blank Cartridge Accidents.

Hastings, Neb., July 5.—The blank cartridge pistol caused many accidents in Hastings. Johnnie Ross, the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ross, was shot between the eyes with a blank cartridge; Willie Lowman, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lowman, was shot through the hand and several other boys were badly wounded by the discharge of blank cartridges.

Search for White Unavailing.

Grand Island, Neb., July 5.—Sheriff Taylor returned from a second trip up to St. Libory in quest of Virgil White, the missing Des Moines lawyer, but again his search had been fruitless. Mail Agent Boydston, to whom the two letters were given, written by White and mailed from St. Libory, is quite positive from the description that it was White himself who gave him the letters.

The real cause of his act is not positively known, but it is generally attributed to some recent trouble.

Flood Along Republican River.

Oxford, Neb., July 3.—The heavy rainfall of the past three days has transformed the placid Republican river here to a flood, a mile and a half wide and twenty feet deep at the river bridge south of here. Hundreds of acres of fine crops are under water, the loss to live stock being heavy. The unusual height of the water has forced many families to the neighboring hills. Through railroad traffic is interrupted, a condition general in all directions from this place and unprecedented for this section.

Cashier Chamberlain Convicted.

Tecumseh, Neb., July 1.—After being out since 4:30 Thursday evening, the jury in the district court brought in a verdict finding Charles M. Chamberlain guilty of wrecking the Chamberlain banking house, of which he was cashier. The particular count on which he was convicted was the misapplication of $3,500 of the bank's funds. The bank failed nearly three years ago for a sum which has been placed as high as $70,000. Chamberlain fled, but returned voluntarily a few weeks ago. Sentence will probably be passed today.

Child Drowns in Water Hole.

Norfolk, July 4.—The little 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Schult met death at Fairfax, by drowning in a little hole in the ground near her home, which had been filled with water by recent rains. While the mother was busy and the father away from the home, the little girl wandered over to the hole and fell in.

They first stopped a regular car and, showing revolvers into the faces of the crew, took them to one side preparatory to robbing them. July 1, 1867, thirty-eight years and four days ago, General Meagher fell from a steamboat at Fort Benton into the Missouri river and was drowned. His body was never recovered. Creed for Jewish People.

Cleveland, July 5.—A plan recommended by a committee of the central conference of American rabbis, now in session here to form a committee to consider the advisability of establishing a creed for the Jewish people, was adopted, a report to be made next year. In the report of the committee is the following: "We feel and declare ever anew our allegiance to Judaism, which is not a system of law bound up in pentateuch and the rabbinic code, but a living and ever expanding, ever deepening and ever progressing truth committed into the care of Israel from the very beginning to the end of history."
