

Newsy Notes From Neighboring Towns

GATHERED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

SUPERIOR

(From the Express.)

At the hearing of the Evans murder case in Nelson, yesterday, the defendants were bound over to the district court.

Mrs. M. Myers and children of Stanton, Neb., arrived here Saturday night to visit her sister, Mrs. Gibbs. They have not seen each other for over twenty-two years.

Mr. Hill, who is working for Ambersson, Bros., on the new Wilson house fell a distance of over 16 feet the other day. Fortunately he landed in the mud and was not badly hurt.

Ed Brooks received a severe shock from a guy wire Monday evening. His hand was burned to the bone, and for awhile he was thought to be dead. It is supposed that a live wire had become loosened and was hanging against the guy wire.

Capt C. E. Adams started last night for Monroe, Wis., his old home where he was born and where his old comrades of Southern Wisconsin and Northern Illinois held a reunion on July 4th. They have a lead our major to be there and deliver an address.

W. S. Holmes has received a letter from his father-in-law, at Phillipsburg, in which he states that some of the hail stones which fell at that place on Thursday weighed four and five pounds, and that in some places where houses and other buildings stood, the only thing left is the cellar.

T. E. Buckles was in town Saturday and made the Journal a call. He reports the appearance of a new kind of insect which looks something like a green louse, and which is working on the roots of the cornstalks. It seems to do the most damage in dry weather, and it is feared it may do considerable damage, as there seems to be no way of destroying it.

CAMPBELL

(From the Citizen.)

Adam Miller returned this week from Portland, Ore., where he has been the past year.

Chas. Everling has purchased the lot just north of L. Roy's blacksmith shop and will soon begin the erection of a commodious fireproof business building.

During the storm of last week the residence of G. J. Carpenter was struck by lightning tearing loose plaster and marring woodwork somewhat. Miss Demars, who was sleeping in the room, was numbed for a time by the fluid but soon recovered.

S. M. True, as bright as a dollar and as pleasant as a weather man, regaled his many friends by dropping in from Inavale on the Fourth. While here he demonstrated his abilities by umpiring the ball game and through pleasant looks escaped without a scratch—not even a ball bat tossed in his direction. The boys up this way are disposed to sympathize with strangers, you see.

FRANKLIN

(From the Sentinel.)

A little son of John Sanger had an elbow dislocated Wednesday by falling from a wagon.

Jim Barkley resigned his position in Shoemaker's barber shop and went to Kansas City Tuesday.

A goodly number of people came to Franklin to spend the Fourth despite the fact that the celebration was declared off.

P. R. Robertson, who lives east of town, was thrown from a disc this morning and ran the spout of an oil can through his hand.

Taos Waits and family have moved down from Upland and are occupying the Will Hatchins residence. Mr. Waits expects to go into business here.

M. C. Douglas and wife went to Phillipsburg, Kansas, Sunday to assist in caring for the family of Mrs. Douglas' sister, Mrs. Bert Morgan, nearly every member of which was injured in the tornado of last week.

The biggest surprise in business circles in this city for some time came last Saturday when F. E. Garratt disposed of the Franklin Exchange Bank, the fine bank building and his comfortable home on West avenue to a banking company of which the following are officers: E. G. Titus, cashier of the First National Bank at Holdrege, president; P. H. Updike, president of the Union State Bank at Harvard, vice president; W. D. Blockwell, formerly cashier of the Cordova State Bank, cashier; H. J. Murray, who has been working in the Exchange Bank here for the past two or three years, assistant cashier.

LEBANON

(From the Times.)

Mrs. Fred Wittwer, who lives near the state line, is very sick and not expected to live.

Little Eva, daughter of Mrs. M. Bonecutter, fell Monday, and dislocated her left arm.

Twenty-eight cars of cattle and three of hogs were shipped from Lebanon to Kansas City Tuesday.

Ed Fuller of Riverton was arrested last Tuesday by Sheriff Walrath on the charge of shooting with the intent to kill his oldest son, George.

Miss Hattie Douglas and Miss Minerva Monk returned last Saturday night from their two weeks' overture in the south. They visited Port Arthur and Galveston, Texas, and had several boat rides on the golf.

Koy Carey had an interesting run away Tuesday evening resulting in a demolished buggy and badly frightened team and people, but no serious injuries were sustained.

RIVERTON

(From the Review.)

"Pat" Chise accidentally shot himself in the hand with a rifle. Dr. Townsend removed the bullet Monday.

County Attorney A. H. Byrum and Sheriff Walrath were here Wednesday, the former getting evidence in the Pat Fuller shooting affair.

Chas. Boyce and Carty Wood took an unknown man across the river in a boat Wednesday afternoon. He seemed to be in a hurry to get into Kansas.

Last Sunday Walter Northrup climbed up on the roof of the creamery ice house to look at the high water in the river. Unfortunately he fell from the roof, breaking his arm at the wrist.

Mrs. Maxson, who lives on the farm purchased of W. A. Chitwood last winter, had the bones of both fore arms broken on the evening of the Fourth. A party of eight were returning from a picnic when the vehicle was overturned with the above results.

SMITH CENTER

(From the Messenger.)

Forrest Maulsby has broken the corn shelling record with 2,580 bushels in 9 hours and 35 minutes.

Another warrant has been sworn out for the arrest of Bart Turner, manager of the base ball team, forgery being the charge. He was last seen four miles northeast of Lebanon near Tom Tigh's.

The Mill and Elevator company have closed the contract for the big addition to be built at once on the west of the mill. When completed it will be one of the largest along Rock Island any where in Kansas, forty thousand bushels capacity, planned to run by electricity.

Last Friday, Dr. Bowen of Topeka and Drs. H. A. and J. B. Dykes performed two major surgical operations at the home of D. E. Wilson, one on the wife of Robert Wil on for an ovarian tumor and other complications which made the operation one of the most difficult in surgery. Mrs. D. E. Wilson, who has been sick only a few days, consented to an operation after the doctors informed her that it would be necessary. She was suffering from a ruptured gall bladder and the doctors removed about nine gall stones from the size of a pea to the size of a large cherry.

BLADEN

STATE CREEK

Small grain is about all in the shock.

Nearly all the corn will have to be plowed once more, and everybody is on the hustle.

Some of the second crop of alfalfa has already been cut and it is now predicted we will get four crops.

Grass is looking fine and pastures doing well. Some meadows will soon do to mow. Stock is looking well.

Farm hands, who a few years ago would have worked for their board, are now getting from $18 to $22 per month.

Several new phones will soon be put in this neighborhood, side lines and poles for which are already in position. Some new phones were put in this week and the lines along the river repaired.

Rather wet on our creek at present. We imagine we are having an unusual amount of rain for June and July. It has not been good haying weather, and some had part of their alfalfa damaged. While it many times rained at night and was wet in the morning, some of us went ahead in our fields and by doing so have our corn in good growing condition, though a few of the boys still have a Russian-Jap fight with the weeds.
