LIVE STOCK MARKETS AT KANSAS CITY.

THE WEEK'S TRADE REPORTED BY CLAY, ROBINSON & COMPANY, LIVE STOCK COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

OFFICES AT CHICAGO, KANSAS CITY, OMAHA, SIOUX CITY, ST. JOSEPH AND DENVER.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 12.—Receipts of cattle Monday were 20,000. Choice cornfed steers were scarce and sold at steady to 10 cents lower rates while grassers were uneven, some claiming steady sales and others 15 cents lower. Cows and heifers were steady to strong early but eased off at the close. Choice and medium stockers and feeders ruled steady to 10 cents higher, others unchanged. Receipts today are estimated at 23,000. The supply of beef steers was liberal and both cornfed and grassers dropped 10 cents. Cows and heifers were steady; bulls slow; veals strong. Best stockers and feeders held steady; others dropped 10 cents.

The Circus.

The Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Combined Shows have come and gone, and the impression left on the minds of those who attended is one that will remain for a long time to come. There are features about the show which make it the best that ever visited this section of Nebraska, and the immense crowd that attended Wednesday afternoon had but one complaint—there was too much to be seen at one performance. The drill and wall scaling of the Aurora Zouaves, the coaching party, the trained seals, the Russian dancers and the particularly fine work of LeFleur in ground tumbling just before he makes his drop from the ladder, were either one singly worth the price of admission. Another difficult feat was the turning of a somersault from one moving horse to another. Then there were the trained elephants, clowns' springboard, and the aerial horizontal bar work by artists of the first-class. In the menagerie the feature which probably attracted the most attention was the baby lions, as cute and as playful as kittens. Near the commencement of the program the management made the pleasing announcement that the show would visit us once every two years, and it is safe to say that when they come again they will be greeted by all those who attended this time, and many more besides.

Calumet Baking Powder

There was no graft or gambling, either on the grounds or on the streets, and everything about the show was clean and straight.

THE BRITISH MUSEUM.

The Reading Room and the Thousands of Books It Contains.

In the reading room of the British museum desks are crowded with students all day long, and in addition to the books of reference, some 20,000 in number, which fill the open shelves of the room, from three to four thousand volumes are given out every day. Theology in a wide sense, including the Bible, Biblical literature, church history and works on the religious rites and ceremonies of all races and creeds, is easily at the head of the list, with about 300 volumes. Topography comes next, with about twenty fewer, and of these books on London amount to a quarter, books on English topography to another quarter, the other half being for the rest of the world. History and biography come next, English history being mostly in demand, and books on France and the French provinces second. Essays, criticism and miscellaneous literature take the fourth place and are followed by fiction—not less than five years old—moral philosophy, poetry and the fine arts, the drama, law and philology, political economy and so on down to politics, mathematics and chemistry, which have about forty volumes apiece, and, lastly, works on naval and military subjects, which seldom have more than three or four volumes each. It is a curious list and throws a useful light on the sort of studies taken up by the readers in the museum.—London Globe.

THE DOG'S EYE.

Watch That, Not the Mouth, For Symptoms of Hydrophobia.

As dogs do not perspire, the only relief they seem to get when overheated is from inhaling cool air through their wide open mouths in short, puffy breaths. The friction between tongue and lips caused by their rapid, laborious breathing produces saliva, which is sometimes ignorantly diagnosed as foam, one of the symptoms of hydrophobia. Many innocent victims have lost their lives on account of such stupidity.

If your dog should feel ill, sick with some ordinary ailment, he will wag welcome to you with a sad, pitiful expression, looking up inquiringly as if asking for help and relief. If it has come to the worst and he feels by instinct the germs of the dreaded disease in his frame, his action will be entirely different. You will find him with low bent head, withholding his usual glad welcome, hardly noticing or glancing at you.

If your eye meet his, the restless, nervous, strange expression will startle you. The dog, feeling his doom, is conscious of approaching danger and would like to prepare and warn you. These unmistakable and easily recognized signs should be watched closely and always heeded. Corner the dog at once and, with the help of a broom or barn fork, keep him at a safe distance until locked up.—Country Calendar.

Ordinance No. 53.

An Ordinance establishing and adopting grades for the streets and sidewalks of the City of Red Cloud, and the width, measurements and distances thereof; also to repeal ordinance number 11 and ordinance number 30 of the Revised Ordinances of said city, of 1900, and supplementing ordinance number 40 of said city, passed and approved October 23, 1902, and providing penalties.

Be It Ordained, by the Mayor and Council of the City of Red Cloud:

Section 1. The grades for the streets and sidewalks of the City of Red Cloud, and the measurements, lines and distances thereof, are hereby established and adopted as made by the survey of A. W. McReynolds and as shown by the map or plat made and certified by said surveyor under date of July 14, 1903, which is on file with the city clerk and accompanies and is part of this ordinance, at the levels, elevations and distances therein shown; and the grade points there given, connected by grade lines, give the street center-line, and sidewalk grades, at lot lines.

Section 2. All streets and sidewalks hereafter graded, worked or constructed shall be graded and constructed conformably to said grade; and all buildings or structures of any kind actually or substantially adjacent thereto shall conform to said grade. The streets of said city shall be graded so that the roadway thereof shall be forty feet in width, and twenty feet on each side of the center line of the street, and all streets shall be crowned, twelve inches to the center. The tree line of said streets is fixed at the distance of eight feet from the lot or land line, and no trees shall be planted in any of said streets unless as herein provided.

Provided, however, that the roadway of Webster street between Second and Sixth avenues, and of Fourth avenue between Cedar and Elm Streets, shall be seventy-two feet in width, thirty-six feet on each side of the center line, and the sidewalks thereon twelve feet in width.

Section 3. Any person constructing or placing any walk or any building or structure in said city actually or substantially adjacent to any of said streets, otherwise than as in this ordinance provided and permitted, and any owner of property therein authorizing or permitting the same to be done upon his property, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars and costs of prosecution, and be committed to jail until such fine and costs are paid; and each day's continuance of such acts or condition in violation of the provisions of this ordinance, shall constitute a separate offense hereunder, punishable accordingly.

Section 4. That the said ordinances numbers 11 and 30 of the Revised Ordinances of 1900, of said City of Red Cloud, be, and the same hereby are, repealed, and this ordinance shall be in force from and after its passage, approval and publication as required by law.

Passed and adopted September 6th, 1905. Approved September 6th, 1905.
