About the most exciting existence we have read of in a long time is described in the October Cosmopolitan. Prof. R. V. Matteucci lives on the crater's edge of Vesuvius for the purpose of scientific observation, and he describes his daily life in a popular manner. Readers will not envy this scientist his job, especially when they see the picture of the rocks that are liable to drop any moment upon him, but they will be immensely interested in his many alarming predicaments and narrow escapes. This is only one of the many fine features of this very attractive issue.

John Galbreth to the Asylum.

John Galbreth, who was arrested one day last week for being drunk and disturbing the Salvation Army meeting, was brought before the insanity board Tuesday on a charge of being a dipsomaniac, and after a hearing it was decided to send him to the insane hospital at Lincoln for treatment for the liquor habit, as provided by the new law governing such cases. The charge was made by Marshal Kinsel.

This is the first conviction in this county under the new law, and should be the last. So long as we grant licenses to liquor dealers to make drunkards of men, what right have we to send these men to the insane asylum for taking advantage of the opportunities for obtaining liquor which are given them? We understand that the members of Mr. Galbreth's family were all opposed to the action taken, and it is a dangerous law that will permit an irresponsible person to step in and cause the incarceration of another person in a mad house for an indefinite period, for the crime of being a drunkard.

If the officers of the law were as zealous in enforcing some of the other laws on the statute books, there would not be so many young men ruined by gambling. If the Slocum liquor law was enforced, there would not be a saloon running in Red Cloud.

If the laws against adultery and kindred crimes were enforced there would be an upheaval in Red Cloud that would cause some of those whose cry is, "I am holier than thou," to hike to the jungles.

But—the gambling will go on, the saloons will be permitted to continue making drunkards to fill the insane asylums, and there will be no social upheaval of lasting benefit. And it is also safe to say that none of the wealthy "dipsomaniacs" will ever come under the ban.

Boxes To Be Numbered.

Postmaster Hacker has received instructions from Washington, which provide for the numbering of rural route boxes.

The following boxes, when found to be safe, weatherproof and fit receptacles for mail, are entitled to numbers:

Boxes approved under order No. 739. Non-approved boxes erected prior to October 1, 1902.

No non-weatherproof or otherwise unfit boxes will be numbered.

No rural mail box erected within the corporate limits of a town or within a half mile of a postoffice shall be numbered, unless erected prior to October 3, 1903, or is being served by specific order of the department. Service must not be withdrawn, however, from any box now being served, until such withdrawal is expressly ordered.

Numbers assigned to boxes on each route will commence with No. 1, the first regulation box reached by each carrier, box after box thereafter to be counted and given the proper number in regular sequence in order of service from No. 1.

Numbers must be recorded in carrier's book opposite name of owner of box, as well as opposite names of all other persons entitled to receive mail from such box.

After the completion of the assignment of box numbers the postmasters will furnish owners with the official number of the box.

New boxes erected between boxes already numbered will be assigned the next consecutive unused number.

Democratic Ticket.

The Democrats of Webster county have at last broken away from the control of the Populists. For several years it has been the custom of the Populists to nominate a ticket. Then the Democrats would hold a mass convention and endorse the Populist nominees—"Anything to beat the Republicans," was the battle cry of the "antis." In their county convention last Thursday the Populists almost entirely ignored the Democrats, and when the latter held their convention at Blue Hill last Monday, instead of following the usual course, they nominated a straight party ticket, as follows:

Treasurer—A. L. Kopsisch, Blue Hill.
Clerk—Ed Hilton, Blue Hill.
Judge—T. J. Ward, Red Cloud.
Sheriff—Ben McFarland, Red Cloud.
Superintendent—Mabel Day, Red Cloud.
Coroner—John Storey, Cowles.
