The second performance of "Hearts of Tennessee" by the Patricia Wright company drew a good house and to say the audience was well pleased would be saying just what those said who saw the bill last night. The following remark, heard in the lobby of the theatre will show the way those present were pleased with the performance: "I'll have to come again tomorrow night and see the whole of that show; only saw two acts—good, well I guess yes."—Daily Bee, Hutchinson, Kansas. Opera house January 24.

The Patricia Wright Co. at the opera house last night was by far one of the best companies that ever visited our city. The play is the best we have had the pleasure of seeing here on the local stage for many years. It is not an old one, not a rehash of something else, but bright and new, and with one of the best "darky" parts ever written into a comedy drama. Should this company ever visit our city again the opera house would not hold the people who would turn out to see them.—The Humbolt (Tenn.); Review. Opera house, January 24.

Deaths and Funerals.

A. D. Brown.

A. D. Brown, who has been ill at his home in the north part of town for the past three years, died Sunday morning at 4 o'clock. Funeral services were held at the M. E. church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by Rev. G. W. Hummell, who was assisted by Rev. Austin and Elder Davis.

Alpheus D. Brown was born in Bradford county, Pa., March 16, 1828, being 77 years 9 months and 29 days old at the time of his death. September 28, 1859, he was married to Harriet C. At the breaking out of the rebellion he enlisted in the Twenty-third Illinois infantry, serving three years and six months, and for six months was an inmate of Libby prison. He was a member of Garfield post for many years. Twenty years ago he was baptized into the M. E. church by Rev. G. W. Hummell and since then has been a faithful and devoted Christian.

Captain Bartlett.

Captain H. C. Bartlett, the stranger who died at the Holland House in this city last Friday, was buried Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Albright's undertaking establishment. Rev. Austin conducted the services and the remains were laid to rest in the G. A. R. lot at the cemetery. The members of the Grand Army and Relief Corps gave the deceased all the honors usually accorded a dead comrade, and there were several handsome floral tributes. Mr. Bartlett had been in Red Cloud for several weeks selling charts for making dresses. He was about 65 years of age, and little could be learned of his family or history, except that he had a wife living in Denver who is ill and in desultive circumstances, and a wealthy brother lives in Pennsylvania.

John Douchek.

John Douchek was born in Bohemia, May 16, 1834. He came to Nebraska in 1881. He passed into the better life on the morning of January 13, leaving his wife, Mary, three daughters, one son, and five step-sons to mourn for him. He was 72 years and 25 days old and was a Roman Catholic in religion. The funeral took place at the Prairie Gem school house at 10 o'clock a. m. Tuesday, January 16, conducted by Rev. G. W. Hummell. Interment in the Prairie Gem cemetery.

Accidental Shooting.

Omer Wolfe, while attempting to shift the position of a revolver in his hip pocket Monday evening, accidentally caused the discharge of the gun and the bullet nipped a piece of flesh from his heel. Quite a number of youths around town are carrying revolvers, and one of these days someone is going to be seriously injured as a result.
