He got as far as the river bottom, and when there lost his way and wandered around until almost morning and had it not been for a light in the depot which enabled him to find his way back to the city he might have perished in the cold.

A Curious Postal Card.

One sometimes hears the expression, "I will send you the money on a postal card," said in jest. Wednesday morning we received from Colonel C. W. Kaley, who is hobnobbing with the President and Senators in Washington, D. C., a postal card containing $200. The card is made from a pulp manufactured from bank bills which have been redeemed and macerated by the treasury department at Washington. The bills have not been so thoroughly ground up but that fragments of them are plainly discernible all through the card. The card is estimated to contain $200 in destroyed currency, and on the reverse side Colonel Kaley facetiously remarks, "You can pay your help with this." We wish we could, but, as that is out of the question, we shall keep the card as a pocket-piece.

Injunction Against State Treasurer. Lincoln, Jan. 25.—Tax Commissioner Pollard of the Burlington case in Lincoln for the purpose of serving the State Treasurer Mortensen copies of the injunction papers in the tax case of the Burlington railroad against the state and sixteen counties on the valuation made by the state board of equalization. The injunction enjoin against the expenditure of the money paid under protest by the Burlington as taxes for 1905 until the litigation is finished.

Shoots Glandered Horses.

Beatrice, Neb., Jan. 26.—The state veterinary surgeon was called to Adams, this county, where he found quite a number of horses afflicted with the glanders. A number of animals were killed and every effort is being made to stamp out the disease. The disease is supposed to have been brought there several years ago in a bunch of bronchos, as nearly all parties who purchased animals at that time have had horses afflicted with the malady.

Form Protective Association.

Wakefield, Neb., Jan. 31.—Owing to the many depredations committed in and about Wakefield in the way of horse stealing and robberies, farmers and citizens have formed themselves into an organization known as the Logan Valley Protective association, which numbers nearly 500 members, including Concord and Laurel. The company has recently purchased a pair of trained bloodhounds from Beatrice, and is now prepared to make it interesting for the next horsethief.

Bank is Held to Be Liable.

Falls City, Neb., Jan. 26.—The case of Mrs. Sarah J. Patterson against the First National bank of Humboldt was decided by a jury in favor of Mrs. Patterson. The case is similar to a large number pending. The parties, all of whom reside in the vicinity of Humboldt, had transacted business with the then president of the bank, F. W. Samuelson, who has since failed and claim to have believed they were doing business with the bank. In this case the paper received by Mrs. Patterson in return for her money, $450, and which she had taken to be a time deposit slip, turns out to be Samuelson's personal note for order on the bank to pay the money one year from date.

A Spelling "Bee."

There was an old-time spelling "bee" and "ciphering match" at the business college last night. Miss Esther Peterson won the spelling match, while Mr. Swancara, stenographer for L. H. Blackledge, proved to be the best "figgerer." Prof. Dietrick also gave an exhibition with Indian clubs. Those who attended had an enjoyable time.

"Baldy" Vest is Held.

If you've been Looking for Bargains in Men's Clothes Here They Are

We've just had time to catch our breath after the vigorous selling during the holiday season and we went to work immediately cleaning up our stock.

Where there were only two or three suits or overcoats of a kind—where sizes were badly broken—where an overcoat lingered here and there, we have sorted them out, and when we came to mark the new prices on these goods we forgot all about the profit part of it.

$20 Overcoats at $16 00
18 Overcoats at 14 40
15 Overcoats at 12 00
12 Overcoats at 9 40
10 Overcoats at 8 00
6 Overcoats at 4 80

While there may be only one—or two—or three overcoats of a kind, yet there are so many different kinds that you will find very rich choosing indeed. We can fit almost any build of man out of these reduced clothes and give him a bargain that will send him away smiling.

Adultery Not Charged.

In our item in last week's issue concerning the Parkinson divorce case we stated that Mrs. Parkinson had been granted a divorce on the grounds of adultery and cruelty. The attorney for the defense has called our attention to the fact that adultery was not charged in the plaintiff's petition, and that Judge Adams did not consider the testimony along that line as strong enough to warrant a verdict on that ground, the testimony along that line being merely incidental. Such errors are bound to get into newspapers occasionally when information is received second-hand.

May Get $25,000.

Charles R. Campbell, who is at present a guest of Warden Beemer at Lincoln, may come out of his confinement a wealthy man. There were many guessing contests being conducted while the World's fair was being held at St. Louis, and one of them offered a prize of $25,000 to the person who guessed the nearest to the total attendance at the fair. Campbell guessed the exact total attendance, but his claim was disputed by four other parties and the case was carried into court. A St. Louis dispatch of January 27 says that Campbell will probably be awarded the prize.

New Clothing Store.

The building formerly occupied by Manspeaker's barber shop is being remodeled and put in shape for use as a store room. When the work is completed, W. W. Davis of Alma will put in a stock of clothing and shoes. Red Cloud already has two of the best clothing stores in the valley, but we can not have too much of a good thing, and we wish Mr. Davis success.

Public Sale.

J. R. Morse will have a public sale at his farm 2 miles north and 2 1/2 miles east of Red Cloud, Tuesday, February 13, at 10 o'clock a. m., the following property: 9 horses, 3 to 10 years old; 27 head of cattle, 12 head of hogs, complete set of farming tools.

FOR OUR READERS

The Two Vanrevels

BY BOOTH TARKINGTON

Author of "The Gentleman from Indiana," "Monsieur Beaucaire," etc.

Here is a love story to satisfy the most romantic—a real story about people who might have been real; people through whose veins the red blood, stirred alternately by love and hate, surges tumultuously.

"The Two Vanrevels," says a writer, is at least as good as "The Gentleman from Indiana" and "Monsieur Beaucaire" put together, since it combines all the best elements of both books.

And this is saying a whole lot.

Unquestionably the best thing Mr. Tarkington has done.—New York Press.

The merits that recommend Mr. Tarkington's novel are an original and engrossing plot, a romantic daintiness and grace that give its due to dramatic strength, and a well conceived and well developed hero-villain.—New York Mail and Express.

THE TWO VANREVELS WILL BE PUBLISHED IN THIS PAPER BEGINNING IN OUR NEXT ISSUE

"It is my father."
