Newsy Notes From Neighboring Towns

GATHERED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

CAMPBELL

(From the Citizen.)

A party was given to about twenty young people at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hunt last Friday evening.

Dr. Townsend is once more with us. We understand he has formed a partnership with Dr. Swatslander.

Chris Bierhaus returned last Tuesday from an inspection tour of the west. He informs us that he was offered $5,000 for the three quarters of land which he recently purchased there for $2,800.

Today while Mrs. McCord was resting by the side of the store of R. A. Cellier, an icicle dropped from the roof, striking her on the head. The blow caused her to faint, but after the application of restoratives she recovered.

LEBANON.

(From the Times.)

Last Friday C. D. Rogers bought the City barber shop of C. W. Lull.

A. L. Topliff is confined to his home with a sprained ankle. In going to his home Saturday evening he stepped in a hole in the sidewalk spraining his left ankle.

Geo. Ducker went to Kansas City Sunday evening to see about getting material for the new building which he will erect this spring.

In spite of the inclement weather the band went to Esbon Saturday evening and gave the concert. A very small house greeted them however.

Rosa Lee Waddle died at her home six miles southwest of this city Saturday evening at 9:40 o'clock at the age of 27 years, 6 months and 12 days.

Sunday at 9 o'clock p. m. at the home of E. W. Smith in this city Miss Josie Holloway of Esbon and Andy Fowler of Lebanon were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.

MANKATO.

(From the Advertiser.)

Tuesday evening while Mr. Partle, the live stock man, and Misses Mossman and Forbes were out sleigh riding they drove to the Rock Island track from the north; a train that stood on the crossing west of the depot kept them from coming forward; they turned, drove a short distance up the road and in turning around the sleigh was turned over the occupants thrown out; the team ran into the fence, which still stood on the crossing. One horse was killed.

Alva Swope met with a very painful accident Monday evening while going home from town. When going down hill near the cemetery the tongue came out of the wagon and the team ran away. Alva was thrown out on his head and shoulders and badly bruised up.

Herman Wells, aged thirteen years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Wells, near Northbranch, died of appendicitis Monday morning, after an illness of only a few days. Funeral services were held in the M. E. church at Burr Oak Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Willis.

SUPERIOR

(From the Journal.)

J. K. Chaney has sold his livery barn to Chris Anderson.

A. L. Coates had a serious accident Saturday morning. As he was walking along carrying a pail of water, his feet slipped and he fell, striking the pail. The result was two broken ribs.

A. C. Bradshaw has bought the Wm. Hempstead building in Webber and his brother George will soon open up a butcher shop in that town.

Abe Rowley had a bad accident this morning. He had gone into W. P. Lang & Son's store for an axe handle, leaving his team without being hitched. The horses became frightened from the cracking of the whip, and started to run. M. R. was unable to stop to catch the horses, but his off-its were pulled, and in a way they scattered money, milk trucks, wagon, etc. along the road made one think of a train wreck.

FRANKLIN

(From the Sentinel.)

Postmaster Austin has been confined to his bed most of the week as a result of his fall down cellar.

The Hevner boys have bought of H. W. Stephenson forty acres of land, including their feed yard, east of town for $3,700.

Mrs. Reeves, aged 80 years, mother of Mrs. John Solomon, living near Reamsville, died Monday morning. The remains were shipped to Watson, Mo., for interment.

Herman Platt barely escaped a terrible and tragic death Wednesday, when he was attacked by a cross and treacherous bull. He was knocked down and immediately lost consciousness to which he probably owes his life, for it is generally believed that a bull will desist when he discovers that his victim no longer struggles. Mr. Platt could not have remained long unconscious. When he regained possession of his faculties he was rolling himself toward the fence while the bull was walking in the opposite direction.

BLOOMINGTON

(From the Advocate.)

Ray E. Wilnot of Hildreth and Miss Mabel Lundsey of Wilcox were married this week.

Will Morgan, of Riverton, is now in possession of the heavy barn, having bought out Wm. Bauerle.

Eugene Hunter of Riverton was in town Thursday as a plaintiff in a case of damages against the railroad, which was decided in his favor.

Miss Grace Davis, one of the teachers in the vicinity of Franklin, sends the names of Geo. Beitel, Clarence Gregory, Jack Hayes and Floyd Livenood, some of her pupils who will enter our corn growing contest.

M. and Mrs. J. B. McGraw last Friday evening at their residence gave a musical to a large number of their friends, at which time a number of the faculty of the musical department of the Franklin academy and a few of their students favored the large number of people present with some excellent selections both of vocal and instrumental music.

SMITH CENTER

(From the Messenger.)

A little boy of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Amis died at the home in Webster township last Wednesday quite suddenly.

George Jackson, well known among Lebanon people and Miss Estelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Weaver of the Weaver hotel at Lebanon, were married Sunday evening at 9 o'clock.

Last Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock a quiet wedding took place at the home of Mrs. and Rev. Bennett west of town. The contracting parties were Mr. James O. Clemens and Miss Flo Rupert, Rev. Bennett officiating.

T. J. Wilson had a narrow escape Monday. He was helping move his stock of furniture into his new room and in some way he lost his grip and a rafter caught his hand. The fleshy part of his hand was badly torn, requiring several stitches to close up the gap.

Lew Agnew and Ralph Reese took a notion last Friday that they wanted to see the world, and without informing their folks where they were going climbed on a train and started west. They saw considerable of the world between here and Phillipsburg, for that is as far as they went.
