The storm Monday caused considerable damage in the west part of Webster and in Franklin county. At Inavale Spring creek got on a tear and washed out great holes in the streets. The corn crop was greatly damaged. In Franklin county hailstones as large as baseballs fell, doing great damage to crops of all kinds. In several places the Burlington track was washed out and trains had to be sent around by way of Hastings for two or three days.

The sacred concert given by the Congregational choir last Sunday evening was a decided success. The church was crowded to its utmost capacity, and the contributions to the music fund were liberal. The choir was ably assisted by Misses Helen Overman and Jessie Wert, who sang solos. Pastor Rice delivered a short sermon, which was long enough to cause many of those present to go home with new thoughts in their minds, but not long enough to spoil the effects of the splendid singing.

Faith Rebekah lodge gave a basket supper and musical entertainment at the Woodman hall Wednesday evening for the benefit of the degree team. The program consisted of an instrumental duet by Misses Ross and Griffith, vocal solo by Miss Lewis, reading by Prof. Dietrick, vocal solo by Mrs. C. H. Kaley, vocal duet by Misses Ross and Griffith and a piano solo by Miss Marie Gross. Jake Ellinger auctioned the baskets and the receipts were $32.40, which goes into the treasury of the Rebekahs.

Everyone should attend the commencement exercises next Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The principal feature of commencement night, Wednesday, will be the address of Hon. George W. Berge, fusion candidate for governor a year ago. Mr. Berge is an orator of the highest class, and his address should draw a crowd that will completely fill the opera house. The program for class night will undoubtedly also be very interesting, and the musical features will be above the ordinary. There are some accomplished musicians and vocalists among the young ladies of the class. The expense of the entertainment will amount to something like $150, and will be borne by the class, so everyone who possibly can should be present both nights and give the young folks an encouraging start in life.

School Notes

G. W. DUDLEY, SUPT.

All the seats in the opera house will be reserved on Wednesday and Thursday nights. The admission, including a reserved seat, will be twenty-five cents a night. Seats will be on sale Monday.

The seniors are rehearsing in the opera house this week.

There was a misunderstanding in regard to the terms of the opera house. Prior to this year the terms have been twenty-five dollars a night. But on previous years the rehearsing has been continued much longer than this year. In view of this the terms offered are $20 a night instead of $25, as was stated in these columns last week. The management of the opera house offered to allow the use of the house on a 25 per cent basis—the same terms offered to traveling troupes.

The seniors will appear in caps and gowns.

A special meeting of the school board is set for Saturday night. Several vacancies in the teaching corps are yet to be filled.

This is commencement week at Cowles.

Have you pains in the back, inflammation of any kind, rheumatism, fainting spells, indigestion or constipation? Hollister's Rocky Mountain tea makes you well, keeps you well. 35 cents. C. L. Cotting.

This One Was Not a Baby.

The finding of a dead baby in the south part of town last Friday evening revived a rumor which was current a few weeks ago to the effect that a dead baby had been found on the road north of town. This alleged dead baby was discovered by Mr. Sheldon, who reported the matter to the authorities, but when search was made for it, it could not be found. It now appears that Dr. Asher had removed a tumor from a cow at Blue Hill, and was carrying it around with him for exhibition purposes. He lost the tumor somewhere on the road north of town, but did not take the trouble to hunt for it. Thus it was that the story of the finding of the first baby got started.

The Skunk's Lament.

Two skunks were sitting in a country road. As an automobile whizzed by, and a younger skunk let out a moan, as a tear came in his eye. "Oh, why do you weep?" said the older skunk. "As though your heart would break." "Because the smell of that automobile, Is like mother used to make." —Jamestown Optimist.
