very dry in western Iowa and the eastern part of Nebraska, much more so than here.
Henry Diederich has on exhibition in his store window the skull and bones of a buffalo bull, which he found on a sandbar in the river Sunday. It is a fine specimen. These relics, once so common, are now becoming very rare.
Dr. Edwards and wife, who have been in California for some time, were in Red Cloud Saturday, en route to their home in Boston, Massachusetts. Mrs. Edwards' brother, L. A. Trowbridge, and family of Blue Hill came down and visited with them between trains.
Mrs. L. D. Oatman, Mrs. Sholes and Miss Loomis left Wednesday morning for Morrison, Ill., where they will attend a family reunion. At this reunion there will be present the mother and two aunts of Mrs. Oatman and Mrs. Sholes. The ages of the three ladies are 86, 84 and 80.
"Bub" Moore came home from Denver Monday, where he has been in a hospital for the past seven months nursing a broken arm which refused to heal. It was feared for a long time that the arm would have to be amputated, but while he is still carrying his arm in a sling, he will eventually regain the use of it.
Dr. A. Townsend, who was formerly associated with Dr. Cook in the practice of medicine here, will on July 10 open a bank at Campbell, with $25,000 capital, having received the charter for the same on Wednesday. The building for the institution is almost completed. S. M. True will be the cashier of the new bank.
A. N. Patmor, who is here from California on a visit, received word the first of the week which caused him to dance with joy. Mr. Patmor is 64 years of age and on Thursday, June 7, was born his first great-grandchild—a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Baker of Allerton, Iowa. Mrs. Baker was formerly Miss Grace Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Smith of this city. Not very many men are great-grandfathers at 64.
F. W. Cowden and L. H. Blackledge of Red Cloud stopped in Lincoln yesterday on their way home from Omaha, where they attended the Masonic grand lodge. They say that everyone in the western part of the state believes Lincoln has a winning base ball team and that the reports of games are closely watched. The admirers of the team in Red Cloud expect to make up a large excursion party to come to the two games in Lincoln on the Fourth of July.—State Journal.

George Miller, who had already put two good brands of cigars on the Red Cloud market, has added a third, the equal of any five cent cigar in the city. He has named his new cigar "The Red Cloud Chief," and, if you are a friend of home industry and like a good smoke, look for the box with the big Indian head. If you don't see it, ask for it. Mr. Miller is making as good a grade of cigars as are to be found anywhere, and you should show your appreciation of his effort to build up an industry here by at least giving his cigars a fair trial.
Red Cloud has the material for a good base ball team, and it seems a pity that enough enthusiasm can not be stirred up to organize. There is no better catcher in southern Nebraska than Boone Saunders, of Saunders Bros.' Lumber Co. Then there are Marion Mercer and Herb McCoy, both fine pitchers; Roy Garber, John Lain, Harry Brown, Guy Bradbrook, Charley Walter, Ernest Graves, Ed Buchenan, Estey Smelser, Alex Smelser, Harry Dedrick and a half dozen other good players from whom basemen and fielders could be chosen. Get together, boys.

Ladies Come In

I want to talk on the grocery proposition with you. My GROCERIES should be in every kitchen in Red Cloud. My COFFEE and TEAS are the best money can buy.
