

Newsy Notes From Neighboring Towns

GATHERED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

MANKATO.

(From the Monitor.)

C. C. Towner, county attorney of Dickinson county, issued a warrant against the Fraternal Order of Eagles under the search and seizure law and the sheriff seized ten cases of intoxicants. A fight will be made by the order against the action.

Frank Crawford, a barber in Randall, who was arrested June 6, upon complaint of the Missouri Pacific railroad for shooting into a passenger car, was to have had his preliminary hearing in Justice Temple's court Tuesday July 10, but failed to appear and for feited his $200 bond, signed by eleven sureties.

Tuesday morning word came conveying the sad news of the death of little Carl Dillman, the youngest son of Willis Dillman, of Phillipsburg. Carl with two other small boys were playing Monday evening when a hay loader fell over on Carl. The other two boys ran home, frightened so badly that they did not dare report the accident of their little associate. A diligent search for the missing boy all Monday night failed to find him, until Tuesday morning. The weight of the hay loader for so long a time crushed the life from the unfortunate little fellow.

FRANKLIN

(From the Sentinel.)

While taking a ride on Fred Maser's horse Wednesday Leo Bruce met with a most peculiar accident. The boys were riding fast and attempted to pass a vehicle ahead of them but Leo's horse did not pull out far enough and galloped instead right up on top of the wheel, horse and rider both taking a somersault as a result. Leo fell on his shoulder and was unconscious four hours.

Reuben Bentley and Lawrence Waring packed a small bundle of clothes and without consulting their parents went west on No. 15 Monday night. There seems to be no cause for the boys to runaway. Reuben drove the bus to the depot as usual and then hid behind the elevator building, getting on the train from the side opposite the depot. Reports state that the boys are in the vicinity of Oxford looking for work.

Last Tuesday Deputy Sheriff Art Walrath went to Riverton and placed Milo Moore under arrest for a statutory offense, the complaining witness being a young lady of Alma. He was taken to Bloomington and turned over to the sheriff of Harlan county who was in waiting for him, and at once taken to Alma. An effort is being made to adjust the matter out of court. Both parties are under age. Just before going to press we learn that the two were married in Alma last night.

GUIDE ROCK

(From the News Letter.)

A very interesting game of baseball was played on the grounds at this place Saturday afternoon between the Mt. Clare club and the home team, the Guide Rock team winning by a score of 9 to 8.

Died, at the family residence near Guide Rock, on Thursday, July 5, Mrs. Meta Wichmann, aged 50 years, 4 months and 23 days. Meta Wenke was born February 12, 1856, in Peoria, Ill., and was married to Henry Wichmann September 23, 1880, at Guide Rock. To this happy union were born two girls and two boys, the children are Bertha, Bernard, Carl and Mrs. Catherine Peters.

Edson Miner, the fifteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Miner, who live one mile north of town, met with a frightful misfortune Wednesday morning in an encounter with a frightened horse. The horse was one he had been working on a cultivator and he had gone into the stall to harness him as usual, when the horse reared and plunged, beating him to the ground and pawing him after he was down. Mr. Miner heard the disturbance and rushed to the boy's rescue. He soon got him from under the horse's feet and out of the stall, when it was found that he had suffered a complete dislocation of the knee joint besides other injuries on the arm and body.

SMITH CENTER

(From the Messenger.)

Mr. John H. Westerman and Miss E. Smith were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents at Kensington Monday, July 9, 1906, Ivan L. Clark officiating.

Sunday night, John Cooley and Miss Ida Schemmerhorn "hiked" down to Mankato and on Monday morning, July 2nd, at 9:30 proceeded to Probate Judge McGee's office and induced his honor to grant them a license and "jine" them together for life as man and wife, which his honor did with the greatest of pleasure.

Mary M. Cummings was born in Jackson county, Indiana, January 17, 1906. She was married to Daniel R. Kindred, May 22, 1850. To this union fourteen children were born, of which thirteen are living, one of which died in infancy. Eight of the children were at her bedside at the time of her death, and ten present at the funeral.

CAMPBELL

(From the Citizen.)

Dr. and Mrs. Townsend, who have been spending the past three weeks in Beatrice, were in town over Sunday, during which time the doctor suffered a serious accident. While driving in from the country late Sunday night, the team became frightened and in attempting to jump from the buggy, the doctor sprained his ankle and broke a couple of small bones of the heel.

Fred Eckhart, the 12-year-old son of Jacob Eckhart, living three miles east of town, was severely injured Wednesday afternoon. He was cultivating corn when a thunder storm came up and in attempting to control the team which became frightened at the noise, he was struck on the head by the cultivator tongue, which inflicted a nasty gash. Six stitches were necessary to close the wound.

Cleo Davis, the 10-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Davis, broke both bones of his left arm just above the wrist, Wednesday afternoon. He was playing with companions and doing some acrobatic stunts in the way of a "high dive" from the ladder. The guy rope broke, with the result above recorded. The limb received immediate attention and is doing as well as could be expected.

BLOOMINGTON

(From the Advocate.)

Mrs. Rosa Beyer, sister of L. A. Siegel, who recently visited at this place, had a narrow escape in an automobile smashup at her home in Erie, Penn. She had a number of bones broken, and it was only a miracle that she escaped being killed.

Last Wednesday Mrs. W. A. Dunlavy came to town to have some dental work done and during her absence Mr. Dunlavy planned a pleasant surprise for her by installing a handsome piano in the home, which she discovered much to her delight upon her return home.

RIVERTON

(From the Review.)

Last Sunday night Leslie Layton took some of his friends to Franklin on a pleasure trip.

Henry Schriener is the first man in the locality to report on the yield of wheat raised this year. He has just finished threshing 20 acres and as a result has 400 bushels in the bin.

J. B. Hartson of Wilburn, Neb., spent Saturday and Sunday with his father and other relatives at this place. Jim is well pleased with northwestern Nebraska and reports crops in fine condition in that section.

A. H. Byrum of Bloomington was here Wednesday starting legal proceedings against Fred Stelling for failing to move his barn and horses which had been pronounced a nuisance by the town board some six weeks ago. Fred agreed to move out side the limits but has failed thus far and now it will cost him an unmentionable amount to fight the case.

SUPERIOR

(From the Journal.)

Frank Black brought a yellow catfish to town this morning that weighed 15 pounds. Of late many exceptional large fish have been caught in the Republican river.

Miss Ackerman, who has been visiting H. G. Paul's, received word last night that her brother was drowned at his home in West Point, Neb., and left this morning for that place.

Married, Wednesday evening, July 11, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Young, in this city, Miss Mary J. Young and David G. Argo, of Chariton, Iowa, Rev. Samuel Dodds of the U. P. church officiating.

A pretty home wedding occurred on Monday evening July 9, when Miss Ethel F. Forrey was united in marriage to Rev. S. R. Stoner, of Lincoln Center, Kansas, Rev. J. E. Amos performing the ceremony at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Forrey, in the presence of about fifty invited guests.

LEBANON.

(From the Times.)

A couple of young men broke into and ransacked the house of Mr. Comer on July 4th. The same day Jas. Griffith's house was broken into by the same parties, it is supposed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McKim celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday. About forty relatives and neighbors, including two sons from Graham county were present to help them. A fine dinner was enjoyed by those present, after which the highly respected couple was presented with two of the finest rocking chairs money could buy.

An unmanageable team caused quite a little excitement on the streets Saturday. Merritt Thompson was sitting in the buggy holding them when suddenly one horse reared and fell directly under the other. Quick work on the part of bystanders prevented damage only to the harness, which was badly broken, but it was a narrow escape and looked for awhile as though the horses would tear up both buggy and harness if not injure themselves.

P. E. O. Recital.

The recital given under the auspices of the P. E. O. of this city in the Congregational church on Tuesday evening was an unusual treat to the audience that attended and it was unfortunate that more music lovers were not present. About 125 were in attendance. It is difficult to determine the superiority of anyone of the performers as each number was of such excellence that the audience could not decide between them. Miss Jeanette Dysart has been heard by our people so often that they know what to expect, but it is not saying too much to state that she is regarded as one of the best amateur singers ever heard in Red Cloud. She fully sustained her high standard Tuesday evening. Miss Helen Koehler caught her audience with her impersonations of child life at once and was roundly eulogized at each appearance. Among those whom we call our own people the honors were equally divided. Perhaps the most pleasing number was the difficult piano solo by Miss Grace Grice, because of the youthfulness of the performer. While her work is not so brilliant as that of Miss Miner she will in a few years make that lady look to her laurels. Miss Miner played two piano solos in her usual brilliant manner, each of them being difficult enough to please the most fastidious lover of classical music. Mrs. Margaret Gund's violin solo showed her a master of the instrument, her bowing of the violin being as good as that of many professionals. It was a little unfortunate that during the pianissimo movement in the solo the piano accompaniment was so loud as to almost drown her music for those in the rear of the building. Miss Jessie Wert sang two beautiful contralto solos each of which brought forth the demand for more from the audience. Right here we wish to make a suggestion. All music lovers love the old classic, and if, for instance, after singing the Irish Lullaby Miss Wert had responded with some old favorite like Kathleen Mavoureen or The Last Rose of Summer she would have delighted her hearers. The ladies who were responsible for the recital are to be congratulated upon their effort and should they decide to give another at any future date, we believe they will be much better patronized. It was the best entertainment of that character that has been given in Red Cloud in many a day.

Dr. E. A. Thomas made a very interesting talk to the students at Chapel in the Business College Thursday morning on the care of the teeth and their construction. It was just what the young people wanted and it really was a surprise to learn so much about the teeth and the poor care they generally got. Dr. Thomas surely understands teeth.
