

Newsy Notes From Neighboring Towns

GATHERED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

BLOOMINGTON

(From the Advocate.)

Fenton Hill this week purchased the Deary place northwest of town for a consideration of $4000.

Ed. M. Husson, who has been principal of the high school, received an offer of $125 per month from the normal school in Utah, and at once tendered his resignation as principal here, and it was accepted by the school board, and the gentleman left Tuesday evening for the west.

FRANKLIN

(From the Sentinel.)

M. H. Bowers died at his home in this city at 7 p. m. Tuesday, January 1, of a complication of diseases, aged 57 years, 7 months and 21 days.

New Year's morning Charlie, a son of A. J. Harouff, who lives four and a half miles northeast of town, had occasion to oil the windmill. He climbed the tower and throwing the mill out of gear, proceeded to oil it. He then started down when in some manner his right hand was caught in the gearing and the first three fingers badly broken and lacerated.

BLUE HILL.

(From the Leader.)

Miss Maude McMahon left Tuesday for Lincoln where she has secured a position as stenographer.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Karr entertained about thirty relatives at their home, three miles west of town on New Year's day.

Prof. Moritz and Ben Richards, a brother-in-law of the former, who has been working in Ayr, have purchased a hardware stock at Edgar, taking possession the first of the year.

In commemoration of their twenty fifth wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Buschow invited many of their intimate friends and relatives to their home. In all about seventy-five were present.

SUPERIOR

(From the Express.)

Mrs. David Warren died at her home in this city Monday morning at the age of 65 years.

John Morgan slipped away from Superior and went to Harlan, Iowa, last week and on Christmas day was married to a young lady from Council Bluffs.

John Hopper hands us a copy of the London Times of the vintage of Thursday, June 22, 1815, which is quite a curiosity aside from containing an account of the battle of Waterloo and the victory of the Duke of Wellington and his forces.

CAMPBELL

(From the Citizen.)

Born, Friday, January 4, to Mr. and Mrs. T. Chevalier, a girl.

Chas. Lindgren left Monday for Red Cloud. He will take a course in the business college at that place.

Jacob Betz Saturday disposed of his farm near Cambridge, clearing on the transaction a neat good thousand American bucks.

Jos. Chevalier has purchased of H. Gaudreault three fine residence lots on the hill lying just south of the latter's place, and is making plans to erect thereon a handsome home.

It was the pleasure of the editor and his better half to partake Tuesday morning of a New Year's breakfast, provided and served after the French custom, at the home of our neighbors X. Laporte, and his son-in-law, Art Soucie.

Roy Cory, who went to Omaha last week, secured a position in Marks Bros. Saddlery Co., and sent home for his old clothes, but latest reports indicate that he is suffering from a bad attack of home sickness and it is probable he will shortly return to dear old Campbell.

SMITH CENTER

(From the Messenger.)

Uncle George Linton, and son Dr. Linton, of Nome, Alaska, were in the city Monday.

This old chestnut has appeared in the Journal every issue for the last six months. "The paper here edited by a Lebanon man." Judging from the whine he puts up in these old chestnuts, the shoe must be pinching pretty hard. He puts us in mind of a white poke in a mud puddle with his wing broken.

Mrs. Etta O'Hare, who was injured in a quarrel with her step father, Andy Cropper, at the Byran hotel, last Wednesday afternoon, has recovered. The charge of assault with intent to kill was withdrawn and Mr. Cropper plead guilty before Justice Mullen last Monday to disturbing the peace, and was fined $25 and costs.

RIVERTON

(From the Review.)

Mrs. Gold Williams of Chicago and Miss Margaret Junge of Lincoln are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Williams.

Chil Fulton has completed a business course at the Lincoln Business College. He will now enter into the real estate business with his father.

A. B. Stevens died Wednesday morning and was buried Friday afternoon. Mr. Stevens was a member of the Masonic lodge. The Masons took charge of the body. J. P. A. Black of Hastings was master of ceremonies.

Tribute to the Phonograph

Even John Philip Sousa, the great bandmaster, who has no use for Phonographs, has been forced to recognize the Phonograph as a formidable competitor. The two-step king says that people will no longer go to concerts if they can have music in their own homes so easily and so cheaply as they can with the Phonograph. This is an unwilling tribute, but it is nevertheless a tribute. The man who has a Phonograph has a concert in his own house. Even a king could not have more. At our store you can hear them any time.

THE ART OF TALKING.

Things That Are Essential to a Good Conversationalist.

To be a good conversationalist you must be spontaneous, buoyant, natural, sympathetic, and must have a spirit of good will. You must feel a spirit of helpfulness and must enter heart and soul into things which interest others. You must get the attention of people and hold it by interesting them, and you can only interest them by a warm sympathy—a real, friendly sympathy. If you are cold, distant and unsympathetic you cannot get their attention.

To be a good conversationalist you must be broad, tolerant. A narrow, stingy soul never talks well. A man who is always violating your sense of taste, of justice and of fairness never interests you. You lock tight all the approaches to your inner self, every avenue is closed to him, and when they are closed your magnetism and your helpfulness are cut off, and the conversation is perfunctory, mechanical and without life or feeling.

You must bring your listeners close to you, must open your heart wide and exhibit a broad, free nature and an open mind. You must be responsive, so that a listener will throw wide open every avenue of his nature and give you free access to his heart of hearts. —Success Magazine.

Undiscovered Crime.

"Can you point out a man who at the age of thirty has not committed at one time in his life a crime that would have sent him to the penitentiary?" remarked a trusty at the pententiary the other day. "I do not believe that there is a man living, excluding for the looks of the thing, the clergy, who has not done something to bring him here had he received his just deserts. It is not always a great crime that sends a man to the penitentiary. There are men in here for stealing chickens or clover seed or nothing at all. It is easy to get behind the walls. There are many men on the outside who should be in here. I am personally acquainted with a few myself. But the difference between these people and myself is that I have been caught and they have not."—Columbus Dispatch.

Willie Also Discovers.

A teacher in charge of the second primary grade at a Denver school was telling the children about Columbus one day not long ago. She told them all about the home life of the discoverer of America and all about his people.

"His relatives," she said, "were wool combers."

The next day Columbus was discussed again. "By the way, children," said the teacher, "do you remember what his relatives were?"

There was a moment of profound stillness. Then a little fellow in the rear of the room raised his hand. "You may tell us, Willie," said the teacher.

"They was barbers," said the boy.—Denver Post.

Oranges.

This is the West Indian way of preparing oranges for the table: Peel the oranges, taking off as much white skin as possible; then slice them off all round as you would an apple, regardless of the sections. This leaves the seed, tough, stringy central part and most of the inner skin together and is a much less tedious process than removing the skin by sections. Use a very sharp knife, so as to make clean cuts and not crush the fruit.

Cold Calculation.

"You should do something to claim the gratitude of posterity."

"What for?" asked Senator Sorghum. "I don't know that posterity will have anything I especially desire, and if it should have there is no way for it to deliver the goods."—Washington Star.
