Already candidates are beginning to loom up for the spring election. Among those mentioned for the mayoralty is H. E. Grice. While we are not in the habit of nominating candidates prior to convention time, we have no hesitancy in saying that we believe Mr. Grice would make a splendid mayor. The time has come when the city's affairs should be looked after by men who have made a success of their own business, and Mr. Grice is a sample of that kind of man.

Not long ago a man entered THE CHIEF office with the remark that he "had better leave a dollar with us." He declined to give his name, and left the office. As we had never seen him before, to the best of our recollection, we sent our "devil" on his trail, who in due course returned with information concerning the man's identity. Upon examining our books we found that he was an old subscriber who had not been inside the office for so long a time that he had passed from our recollection. He was so far behind with his subscription account that he was ashamed to give his name, but we gave him credit for his dollar. We wish to state right here that no man who owes us need feel ashamed to proffer us a dollar on account. The money will not be refused, and the person offering same will rise several degrees in our estimation—particularly where the account is of long standing.

Attention, Farmers!

The Trans-Missouri Dry Farming Congress, called by Gov. McDonald of Colorado to discuss the development of the semi-arid west, will be held in Denver on Jan. 24 and 25. Most important meeting of the kind ever held. Speakers of note from every state west of the Missouri river. Permanent interstate organization will be formed.

If you are interested in "Dry Farming" your presence is needed. This is the invitation card I received today with the following letter:

"Pursuant to call issued by the Governor of Colorado, there will be held in Denver on Jan. 24 and 25 the Trans-Missouri Dry Farming Congress. The purpose of this congress is to afford a full discussion of farm possibilities on the so-called dry lands of the west, and to form a permanent national organization which shall work for the development and settlement of the unirrigated lands of the west. The time has come for united action and national encouragement along this line, and to this end the call for this congress was issued by Gov. McDonald. Your county is entitled to ten delegates, to be appointed by the county commissioners; and your city to ten delegates to be appointed by the mayor.

What are the underlying principles of Dry Farming? To keep the surface of the land under cultivation, loose and finely pulverized. This forms a soil mulch that permits the rain and melting snows to percolate readily through to the compact soil beneath; and that at the same time prevents the moisture being stored in the ground from being brought to the surface by capillary attraction, to be absorbed by the dry hot air.

To keep the subsoil finely pulverized and firmly compacted, increasing the water-holding capacity and its capillary attraction, and placing it in the best possible physical condition for the germination of seed and the development of plant roots. The "dry farmer" then stores water not in the dams and artificial reservoirs, but right where in can be reached by the roots of the growing plants.

I see Gov. George L. Sheldon has appointed delegates to represent the state of Nebraska, but Webster county is not "in it." Well, we will see whether we are "in it" or not. Let us avail ourselves of the opportunity and accept the invitation.
