Mrs. Stanley Mercier was called to Chanute, Kan., Saturday, by a telegram announcing the death of her father, Mr. Rowe.

Mrs. Elizabeth Place aged 82 years and 7 days, died Sunday evening at the home of her son William Place, after a week's illness.

GUIDE ROCK

(From the News Letter.)

A girl is reported born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Osterblads Thursday.

Mrs. J. A. Bragg was called to Iowa last week to attend the funeral of her brother, Sheriff Kent, of Page county.

Wm. Kirkpatrick and family are moving into their fine new home on north Main street this week.

C. J. Ranz was thrown from a load of fodder he was hauling a few days ago by the wagon upsetting, and suffered a dislocation of his ankle. He will probably be laid up for several weeks, as a result of the accident.

On Monday evening last Fred Watt and family left for their new home in Idaho. Mr. Watt was one of the pioneer settlers of this section, having come here in 1873, taking up a homestead just across the line in Kansas.

LEBANON

(From the Times.)

Harve Chadwick, was the unlucky person in a runaway last Friday.

Dr. R. E. Mays removed a cancerous growth from the lip of Arthur Cochran on last Saturday.

Wm. Sargent left yesterday morning for Christ hospital at Topeka, accompanied by his son, Charlie.

Peter Upp's little boy sustained a severe injury while playing at school, breaking both bones of the fore arm.

E. A. Kretschmer returned last Friday with flying colors from his trip to the state poultry show at Wichita, Kan., capturing five prizes on five Silver Laced Wyandottes sent there on exhibition.

BLUE HILL

(From the Leader.)

Walter Scott has installed new lights in his barber shop, which are a great improvement over the old light.

Bureus & Berge are building up a big business in the buying of horses and mules. They are shipping on an average a car a week.

R. A. Simpson decided to take a vacation from his real estate duties, and Tuesday in company with his wife, left for the southern states.

As we go to press we learn of the death of Mrs. Phillip Zimmerman jr., yesterday, following an operation which was performed Wednesday.

S. J. Boomer, who recently held a public sale at the farm where he has been residing, moved his household goods to Lawrence last week, where he has purchased an implement business.

FRANKLIN

(From the Sentinel.)

The two Enevoldsen boys left Wednesday night for Omaha to join Prof. Barton and friends in Haase's band. W. E. Brown has finished papering the parlors of his new photographic studio and now has his place of business entirely completed.

At the regular meeting of the Woodmen lodge last Monday night a resolution was introduced to do away with the safety fund.

Mrs. Holdrege of Riverton fell on a slippery sidewalk Monday during the icy spell and as a result is confined in bed with a broken leg.

Quarantine cards are posted on several houses, the cases being in the homes of J. G. Smith, Will Crittenden, L. P. Crittenden, Mrs. Beitel, Mrs. Clark, and Mr. Blackwell. While the attacks are mild in every instance, some already having begun to recover, it was necessary to take these precautions to prevent further spread of the disease.

SMITH CENTER

(From the Messenger.)

Hardin Woods accidentally shot a hole through his right foot last Thursday, while up in Nebraska.

Eighteen hundred feet straight down is a good long distance—more than a quarter of a mile—and yet that is the depth of the oil or gas well being drilled near O. M. Gilbert's, three or four miles south and a mile or so west of Lebanon.

John Shannon, while helping unload potatoes at L. J. Haire's last Monday evening, had the misfortune to get his leg broken. A sack of potatoes sliding down an incline struck him in such a way as to break both bones in his right leg just above the ankle.

The secret has leaked out. The basement under the Henry Stone brick building, which Mr. Stone has been remodeling for several weeks, has been furnished by Mr. Stone, and will be free to all G. A. R. members as a reading and rest room.

RIVERTON

(From the Review.)

Byron Hancock took the train Saturday night enroute for Alaska.

Ben Allen of Oberlin, Kan., was called to this place to attend the funeral of his niece, Miss Anna Allen, which occurred Sunday afternoon at one o'clock.

Last Friday night while law abiding citizens lay slumbering five pistol shots were fired into Kohen's house, all the balls entering the north door and window casing.

Dudy Cline was arrested Saturday morning and placed in jail, the complaint being entered by the marshal. He plead guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace.

Last week our marshal succeeded in landing several revolvers which were carried by young men of this place and he informed us that he will get several more soon but he has not got all of them rounded up yet, which was clearly demonstrated last Friday night. About eleven o'clock, while Mrs. Vina Harwood and son Guy were on their road home from the Fraternal Aid banquet, they came near being killed by a bullet which came from a revolver discharged on the west side of Fuller street.

Venison Once Cheaper Than Pork.

Time was, along in the early forties and the early fifties of the last century, that from the wilds of Morgan and Brown counties hunters would bring venison to market and sell it much lower than pork was sold in that day, pork being preferred by the Hoosier then to the red deer of the woods. It was in that time that an entire wild turkey, full grown, would sell at a price far below the present appraisalment of a scrawny spring chicken, and a dozen quail could be bought for less money than it now takes to buy a dozen links of sausage—neither was the quail required to masquerade as "short billed snipe."—Indianapolis News.

Loving Kindness.

My dog tried to bite me. I liked the dog, so I kicked him lovingly in the jaw. He understood that argument.

My grocer tried to cheat me. I liked the grocer. I did not kick him in the jaw, but I told him lovingly that I would not deal with him again. He understood that argument.

My baby tried to slap me. I liked the baby, but I did not kick her in the jaw or even cease to play with her. I kissed her lovingly on her cheek. She understood that argument.—Independent.

Tribute to the Phonograph

Even John Philip Sousa, the great bandmaster, who has no use for Phonographs, has been forced to recognize the Phonograph as a formidable competitor. The two-step king says that people will no longer go to concerts if they can have music in their own homes so easily and so cheaply as they can with the Phonograph. This is an unwilling tribute, but it is nevertheless a tribute. The man who has a Phonograph has a concert in his own house. Even a king could not have more. At our store you can hear them any time.

MRS. EDDY REPLIES.

who his wife was. Later on I learned that Mary Baker G. Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, was the above mentioned woman.

(Signed) R. D. ROUSEVELT.
Grafton S. S., January 18th, 1902.
Then personally appeared R. D. Rousevelt and made oath that the within statement by him signed is true. Before me, H. M. Wood,
Justice of the Peace.

I was obliged to be parted from my son, because after my father's second marriage my little boy was not welcome in my father's house.

Who or what is the McClure's "history," so-called, presenting? Is it myself, the veritable Mrs. Eddy, whom the New York World declared dying of cancer, or is it her alleged double or dummy heretofore described?

If it indeed be I, allow me to thank the enterprising historians for the testimony they have thereby given of the divine power of Christian Science, which they admit has snatched me from the cradle and the grave, and made me the beloved leader of millions of the good men and women in our own and in other countries—and all this because the truth I have promulgated has separated the tares from the wheat, uniting in one body those who love truth; because truth divides itself between sect and science and renews the heavenward impulse; because I still hear the harvest song of the Redeemer awakening the nations, causing man to love his enemies; because "Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake."

A ROMANTIC LEASE.

One Sweet Red Rose as the Rent For a Pennsylvania Farm.

The public is generally conversant with the annual custom of paying "one red rose" as ground rental in eastern Pennsylvania churches to the descendants of those who gave the ground for the edifices, but it is not generally known that hundreds of owners of farms are under a similar obligation, says the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

"Red rose rent" is yearly paid every second Sunday in June in the Lutheran church at Manheim, Lancaster county; in the Tulpehocken Reformed church, about sixteen miles west of Reading and in several edifices in Lebanon county, while several congregations in Berks are entitled to observe the event, but do not.

Roses paid on these occasions to representatives of families whose ancestors made such provisions are treasured as priceless heirlooms, and at Manheim they have come from many states.

It is known to few that more than 100 years ago great tracts of farm land were sold around Reading with the same stipulation. It is estimated that at least 20,000 acres of land in Berks are subject because of a clause in the original deeds to an annual ground rent of one red rose.

Records of the Berks courthouse show that many years before Baron Stigel provided for the payment of red rose rent by the church at Manheim Caspar Wistar sold land containing the same clause.

Red rose rent is mentioned in connection with land in Tulpehocken, Marlon, Maxatawny, Oley and other townships. It dates back to 1738.

The Tulpehocken Reformed church is built on land that is subject to "one red rose" quit rent. The land was owned by Caspar Wistar, brass button manufacturer of Philadelphia. The red rose rent has been paid to the Philadelphia descendants of Caspar Wistar for some years. The most notable observance was in 1902, when thirty prominent Philadelphia Wistars attended the services and were paid 157 red roses in payment of arrears of rent.

John Page, described as "a gentleman from London," was another extensive real estate speculator in the early colonial period. He planned to establish a feudal barony along the Tulpehocken in 1735. Every deed of land sold by him contained the red rose clause.

"Life is full of contrariness and non-payment of alimony," complained the woman as she took her seat reluctantly at her desk on the morning after the dance. "When I was married and had more leisure than anything else the days were long and deadly, but now that I am free and life might be one endless dream of gaiety I have to work."—New York Press.
