

Why Refer to Doctors

Because we make medicines for them. We give them the formula for Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and they prescribe it for coughs, colds, bronchitis, consumption. They trust it. Then you can afford to trust it. Sold for over 60 years.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a remedy that should be in every home. I have used a great deal of it for hard coughs and colds, and I know what a splendid medicine it is. I can not recommend it too highly.—MARK E. COHEN, Hyde Park, Mass.

Made by J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass. Also manufacturers of A Damage Suit.

The city of Franklin is up against a genuine damage suit. Sheriff Walrath came down Monday and served the papers on the city attorney and on Wednesday papers were likewise served on Mayor Cross. The plaintiff is Miss Bayard of Lincoln, a teacher in the public schools who was hired for the eighth grade. The amount of damages sought is $5,000, the maximum limit allowed by law. County Attorney Miller and Lawyer George Adams of Lincoln are retained as counsel for the plaintiff. This is the same Mr. Adams who assisted the county attorney in the famous Kritchbaum murder trial a few years ago. The suit is the result of an injured foot received by the complainant when returning from the school house some time in November, caused by a board loose at one end flopping up and coming down on her foot. The city must answer by the 25th of March, but it is not necessary that the case should be tried at this time. The walk where the accident occurred is between the school house and the Exchange bank, and the place was at one of the new crossings put in last fall.—Franklin Sentinel.

Mr. Carpenter's Side of It.

In our item last week concerning the suit to recover $1,450 from A. H. Carpenter and Burke & Campbell of Imperial, it was stated that Mr. Rushton had filed the suit. It seems this was a mistake, according to the following statement from Mr. Carpenter:

"RED CLOUD, Jan. 5, 1907.

"In reply to the article recently issued in the Red Cloud Chief stating that Joshua Rushton is suing me for $1,450, which was all greatly misrepresented. Mr. Rushton sold his contract to Bernard McNeny for $450, the 17th of January, and it is McNeny suing instead of Rushton.

"The paper also stated that they couldn't give a clear title to the land, which was also a mistake, for the deeds giving a clear abstract of title were sent to the Bank of Imperial and are held there waiting for the balance of the money to be paid on the land, which is $2550. A. H. CARPENTER."

Deaths and Funerals.

J. D. Leach.

John D. Leach died Friday about noon at his home on Myrtle street after only a few days' illness. He was taken sick with the grip and grew rapidly worse until his death. The funeral was held from the house at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, the Rev. Mark Kelley of the Methodist church officiating. The interment took place in Maplewood cemetery, near Union Corners. Mr. Leach was born in Cortland county 77 years ago. He resided in Nebraska about 15 years and in the town of Pavilion 20 years, coming to this village about two years ago. For one year he conducted a store in this village. Mr. Leach was a genial, kind hearted man who had a good word for all. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. William Rosman, and one sister, Miss Lucy J. Leach of Pike.—LeRoy (N. Y.) Courier.

Mr. Leach formerly lived on the farm now occupied by Tracey Sherer, northeast of town, and left here many years ago. He is well remembered by the old timers.

Mrs. Topping.

Mrs. Rosanna Topping, 84 years of age, died last Sunday morning at the home of her son, S. A. Burwell, near Inavale. The remains were shipped to Illinois Wednesday for interment. Death came as the result of a fall sustained by the old lady about three weeks ago. Mrs. Topping, who had been living with a daughter in Colorado, came to Inavale last fall to spend the winter with her son. About three weeks ago she fell, while in the house, and sustained severe bruises, and, though her injuries were not thought to be serious, she gradually got worse until death came to her relief. In dressing the body for burial, Undertaker Amack discovered a severe wound on the back of the old lady's head, which it is supposed she received by striking her head on the piano when she fell. She did not complain of pain in her head, but it is thought this injury is what caused her death.

Willard DeLong.

Willard De Long, the 7-year-old son of Mrs. General Etherton, died Wednesday evening from diphtheria and was buried the same night. The little fellow had been sick, for several days with what was supposed to be croup, but when medical aid was summoned it was found he had a severe attack of diphtheria, but it was then too late to save his life.

Farewell Party.

On Tuesday, the 5th, the neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Nelson gathered at their home north of Inavale and spent the day as a farewell to them and their family before they depart for their future home in Howard county, Nebraska. The ladies prepared a feast to which all did ample justice. After the dinner Mr. and Mrs. Nelson were presented with a full set of table silverware, and the old folks went home after their day's enjoyment feeling that it is good for neighbors to get together. In the evening the young folks had a dance and the enjoyment continued until near morning. Taking it all together, it was one of the most pleasant events that ever occurred in that neighborhood.
