Ayer's

A sluggish liver means a coated tongue, a bad breath, and constipated bowels. The question is, "What is the best thing to do under such circumstances?" Ask your doctor if this is not a good answer: "Take laxative doses of Ayer's Pills." Made by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Boundary Extended!

After going over the territory proposed to be taken in, Judge Adams this afternoon decided in favor of the city in the boundary extension case. This means that there will be quite an increase in the population of the city, as well as in the taxable property. It also straightens the corporation line to the shape it should be. Hurrah for Greater Red Cloud!

BADLY SCARED.

George McCrary Has an Exciting Experience in California.

The following clipping is from the San Pedro (Cal.) Daily Times, and a marginal note says, "This is George McCrary":

A good story is told on a young man recently from the East who has been visiting friends in San Pedro the past few weeks. One day last week he took a trip up San Gabriel to see the country, and incidentally to get hold of a few nice oranges to eat.

He walked about for a portion of the day and finally came up on the lee side of a large orange grove where there was no one around. Hesitating for a few moments he at last walked into the orchard where the yellow fruit was hanging in great quantities, and picked a few to eat, strolling along toward the other side as he did so. When he at last emerged on the opposite side it was with a satisfied air and a full stomach, feeling that for once he had had all the fine oranges that he wanted for nothing. As he stepped out into the road he glanced back and saw something there that made his heart stop beating. On a large sign hanging in a tree were the words:

TRESPASSERS BEWARE!
POISON OUT!
.....

This was something he had not thought of. Was it possible that he had partaken of a poisoned orange? He remembered having eaten one luscious one which he picked up from the ground and which had the skin pricked a little on one side. Already he imagined he could feel a pain in the middle of his stomach. He looked around to see where the nearest town was, and found to his joy that a hamlet was but a few rods distant. Thither he hurried, hoping that a doctor's sign might greet his eye. By the time he had reached it, though, he found that he was not very sick, so he sat down on the sidewalk to see if he was going to be any worse. He found after an hour's waiting that all was well, but he received such a scare that he dreamed worse dreams than those of the Rabbit Fiend for several nights after that, and now he buys his oranges.

Dedication of New Virginia Church.

The dedication services of the New Virginia Methodist Episcopal church, seven miles north of Inavale, were held last Saturday and Sunday and were the occasion of great rejoicing in that community. For twenty years the people have worshipped in the school house and, summer and winter, have maintained a Sunday school. Two years ago they began a subscription to build a new church, and soon had the building under way. They were greatly delayed, however, on account of illness in the carpenter's family. They finally succeeded in completing the building and were ready for dedication early in August of last year. Unfortunately, on the Saturday night before the dedication the church took fire and was totally destroyed. This was a great blow, as the building was only partially insured. It was with gloomy faces that the people came back to the old school house the next morning. Yet they were not wholly discouraged, and soon had subscribed enough to replace the building. Thus after two weary years of sacrifice and waiting they have as nice a little church as can be found anywhere.

The services began on Saturday afternoon when Rev. A. V. Wilson, assisted by the pastor, laid the cornerstone. Rev. Wilson preached a short sermon from Phil. 3, 18, after which the cornerstone, containing copies of a number of the county papers, the discipline, the names of the members, the names of the trustees and names of the donors, the Lord's Prayer and the church papers, was placed in the wall. This stone, a beautiful granite block, was presented by Mr. Ed M. Alister of Red Cloud.

Rev. J. W. Embree of Superior preached the dedicatory sermon Sunday morning, taking for his text Eph. 5, 27. The church was dedicated free of debt. There was no begging for subscriptions.

There were services in the afternoon and evening, at which former pastors of the church presided. The church was filled to its utmost capacity and many were unable to gain admission. The following ministers were present and took part in the services: Rev. Embree, Rev. Fouch, Rev. Priestley and Rev. Wilson.

VETOES APPROPRIATION BILLS

Loss Falls Heavily on Nebraska Educational Institutions.

Lincoln, April 12.—Appropriation bills of the recent legislature aggregating $250,000 were vetoed by Governor Sheldon. The loss falls heavily on state educational institutions, the Normal school at Kearney being deprived of $85,000 and the school at Peru and the institute for deaf and dumb at Omaha smaller amounts. The governor says the total appropriations exceed the state's revenue.

REPORT ON LUMBER CASE.

Judge Post Finds Nebraska Association Is Not Contrary to Law. Lincoln, April 13.—Judge A. M. Post, the referee appointed by the Nebraska supreme court to take testimony on the alleged lumber trust, made his report. He finds that the Nebraska Lumber Dealers' association, as now maintained, is not contrary to the state trust laws. The investigation made by the referee covered a period of several months, in which practically all the lumber dealers of the state were made defendants. If the supreme court sustains the referee, it means the dismissal of the suits.
