

Tribute to the Phonograph

Even John Philip Sousa, the great bandmaster, who has no use for Phonographs, has been forced to recognize the Phonograph as a formidable competitor. The two-step king says that people will no longer go to concerts if they can have music in their own homes so easily and so cheaply as they can with the Phonograph. This is an unwilling tribute, but it is nevertheless a tribute. The man who has a Phonograph has a concert in his own house. Even a king could not have more. At our store you can hear them any time.

DARROW ALLEGES ATTEMPT TO MANUFACTURE TESTIMONY.

SWAIN CALLED TO THE STAND

Court Sustains Borah's Objection and Attorney for Haywood Is Unsuccessful in Getting His Testimony Before the Jury—Three Witnesses Testify.

Boise, Ida., July 10.—The defense in the Steunenberg murder case charged that Detective James McParland has been guilty of an attempt to manufacture testimony against William D. Haywood, but was unsuccessful in getting the basis and details of the charge before the court and jury.

Alva A. Swain, a newspaper correspondent, who represents the Pueblo Chieftain at Denver, was called to the stand and questioned as to a conversation he had with Detective McParland in Denver last fall. Senator Borah for the state objected to the conversation on the ground that no foundation had been laid for it.

Clarence Darrow, for the defense, who was examining Swain, explained that the testimony was offered for the purpose of showing that there existed a conspiracy between the mine owners and the Pinkertons to secure a conviction and execution of the prisoner. "McParland approached this witness in an attempt to manufacture testimony," he declared, "and I believe we have a right to show it."

Judge Wood said there was nothing in the evidence that furnished a proper foundation for the introduction of such testimony and sustained the state's objection.

The defense took an exception and said they would later make another attempt to secure the admission of Swain's testimony. Counsel for the defense are evidently counting on reaching the matter through McParland himself, but it is quite probable that the state will not call McParland as a witness.

It is claimed by the defense that McParland told Swain that he had a letter from Harry Orchard saying that when Haywood paid him for the vindicator job he took him to one of the Denver banks to draw the money and that when they came out of the bank Swain was standing at the door and saw them. It is said that Swain told McParland that he could not remember the incident, whereupon McParland impressed him with the importance of it as evidence and significantly urged him to recall it and become a witness in the case.

McParland Makes Denial.
Detective McParland denies that he ever suggested anything improper to Swain. He says he got the letter as described by Orchard, who wrote that Swain was at the door of the bank on the day in question, there being a run on the bank, and that he believed Swain might remember having seen them. He says that when he went to see Swain the latter said that he would not tell whether he remembered the incident or not and asked for another interview. McParland declares that he there dropped the matter and did not again see Swain.

Allen F. Gill, formerly master mechanic of the Tiger and Poorman mine and later city engineer of Spokane, and his wife, Mrs. Gill, were also witnesses for the defense. They jointly related that Harry Orchard attempted to sell them his interest in the Hercules mine in February and March, 1899, which was just prior to his departure from the Couer d'Alenes, and Mr. Gill, who saw Orchard in Spokane a month before he killed Steunenberg, testified that Orchard said that it was because of Steunenberg that he lost his interest in the Hercules.

Other than for the interest and relief afforded by the introduction of the three witnesses named, the entire day was given over to the reading of the rest of the San Francisco depositions. The men who built the Linforth flats, the plumbers who put in the lighting system, the firemen who came after the explosion and the contractors and their men who made the repairs, all deposed at great length and detail. The weight of their tales seem to favor a gas explosion, but none of the testimony was conclusive and the whole question involved will be fought before and decided by the jury. The last of the deponents knew

Harry Orchard and from him heard the story of the Hercules mine, with the usual threat that he was going to fix Steunenberg for driving him out of the country.

IOWA SHIPPERS COMPLAIN

Allege Railroads Discriminate in Charges on Stock Eastward.

Washington, July 10.—Charges that the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and other western and northwestern railroad lines are exacting excessive and discriminatory rates from the live stock dealers of eastern Iowa were made before the interstate commerce commission by the Corn Belt Meat Producers' association of Iowa. It is alleged that, although the shippers of Iowa send out of the state 70,000 carloads of cattle annually to Chicago in addition to tens of thousands of carloads of other stock, they are compelled to pay $17.80 per car more for such shipments than other shippers are required to pay.

They allege, too, that the railway service has deteriorated during the past few years and that the rates they are compelled to pay work an undue and unjust prejudice against Iowa shippers. They request the commission to fix maximum rates on their shipments of live stock from Iowa to Chicago and also on shipments of stock from the southern and western ranges to Iowa points.

INSANITY MAY SAVE RUNYAN

Defaulting Teller of Windsor Trust Company to Urge This Defense.

New York, July 10.—That a plea of insanity may be the defense of Chester B. Runyan, the paying teller of the Windsor Trust company, charged with abstracting $95,000 of the trust company's funds, was indicated by his counsel when Runyan was arraigned in court. On behalf of Runyan, his counsel entered a plea of not guilty of the charge of grand larceny and asked for an adjournment of the case until Monday. He said he had been informed that the prisoner's maternal grandmother had died in an insane asylum and that Mrs. Runyan believed her husband's mind affected. Runyan's attorney said that he entered a plea of not guilty with the privilege of withdrawing it and demurring to the indictment with the view of asking for the appointment of a commission.

IOWA GRAIN DEALERS MEET

Give Notice of War to Finish on Farmers' Co-operative Elevators.

Des Moines, July 10.—The Iowa Grain Dealers' association, in convention, gave notice of a war to a finish on farmers' co-operative elevator concerns throughout Iowa. There has been bad feeling between what is known as the "regular" elevator men and those who have maintained independent elevators, but now the contest has reached a crucial point. It is probable that the first step to be taken against co-operatives is to secure their prosecution for alleged violations of the new Stillman law, an Iowa statute which prohibits combinations and working agreements among elevator men for the control of prices and other features of the grain business.

President Gets Harriman Report.

Oyster Bay, July 10.—President Roosevelt received the report of the interstate commerce commission, setting forth facts and conclusions arrived at as a result of the investigation of E. H. Harriman's alleged manipulations of certain railroad finances. The conclusions of the commission will not be made public until the president has received the attorney general's recommendations.

There was rejoicing on all sides that the strained relations of the past six weeks had come to an end.

BARKER FAILS TO GET DELAY.

Condemned Murderer at Lincoln Unsuccessful in Court.

Lincoln, July 9.—Frank Barker, condemned to death for the murder of his brother and sister-in-law in Webster county, failed to secure delay in his execution when he appeared before Judge Frost in the district court, his attorney alleging emotional insanity. Judge Frost ordered the hearing continued until morning. Barker has eluded the gallows three times on technical pleas.
