

You May Need It

Ask your doctor about the wisdom of your keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, ready for colds, coughs, croup, bronchitis. If he says it's all right, then get a bottle of it at once. Why not show a little foresight in such matters? Early treatment, early cure.

Many a boy is called dull and stupid, when the whole trouble is due to a lazy liver. We firmly believe your own doctor will tell you that an occasional dose of Ayer's Pills will do such boys a great deal of good. They keep the liver active.

LADY EVANGELISTS

Mrs. Hazelrigg and Daughter Begin Series of Meetings Sunday

Mrs. Clara Hazelrigg of Topeka, Kas., will begin a revival meeting at the Christian church in Red Cloud, Sunday, August 11, with Elder F. M. Branick, the pastor of the church, and Miss Mildred Hazelrigg as leader of song.

Mrs. Hazelrigg is an evangelist of national reputation. She has been a prominent leader in revival work for the past twelve years. She has held meetings in a great many of the states and is especially well known in Nebraska where she has held many meetings. She has always been successful in every field of labor and will doubtless be successful in Red Cloud. Thousands have accepted Christ at her meetings, churches have been built, many given themselves to the ministry through her work. She has raised great sums of money to push the work of the Christian church. Mrs. Hazelrigg spent one year in California under the California Christian church board at one time and has labored there in many meetings, as well as in Oregon, Oklahoma, Iowa, Illinois, Missouri and other states. She is a well known educator and writer, having written the history of her own state and spent years of her life as teacher, superintendent of schools and as a lecturer and public speaker on educational subjects. Miss Mildred Hazelrigg, who will conduct the song work is the supervisor of music for the Topeka public schools, and is well known as a musician, elocutionist and artist. She is at present teaching in one of the Normal institutes of Kansas, and every member of the institute has taken her course in music during the time she has been with them. Miss Hazelrigg is a musical graduate and has taken much work in Boston and Chicago. A large chorus should assist her in the work of the meeting.

The minister of the church, Rev. Branick, is just beginning his work with the Red Cloud Christian church, but is one of the strong men in revival work. There should be a great meeting in Red Cloud with these workers. All churches are given a cordial invitation to make their arrangements so that they can participate in the meetings. Every Christian is invited to help in the great work of soul winning in the meeting.

GOT HIS REVENGE.

The Way Lord Brougham Paid His Debt to George IV.

With all of his knowledge and talent Lord Brougham was eccentric and slovenly in his personal habits. While he was a young and comparatively unknown barrister he was asked to a dinner at which the prince regent presided. Mr. Brougham's hands needed washing. The regent's keen eyes rested on them. He beckoned to a waiter and gave an order which the man heard with a scared face, and then going out he speedily returned with a ewer full of water, soap and a towel.

He carried them to Brougham, presenting them with the prince regent's compliments. The barrister instantly withdrew and never afterward referred to the insult.

Years later, when the prince, now king, tried to divorce his wife, Brougham, as her defender, so vehemently sustained her cause that she triumphed. The king's name was not mentioned during the trial, though the nation knew that he was secretly the prosecutor. Brougham in his speech declared that he saw in the distance the nameless persecutor of his innocent client, quoting with terrific effect Milton's words:

The other shape,
If shape it might be called, black it stood as night,
Pierce as ten furies, terrible as hell,
And shook a dreadful dart; what seem'd his head
The likeness of a kingly crown had on.

George IV. felt seriously this savage attack. The nation sided with the queen, and her defender had paid his debt with interest.

THE DRUG STORE.

Its Evolution From the Apothecaries of the Colonies.

During the seventeenth century the druggist came to America and closely followed English precedents, modifying them, however, by the practice of the Indians, with whom he came in contact. Quack apothecaries began to spring up in the new land, and in 1636 the colony of Virginia passed a law which among other things regulated the prices and fees of the druggist. At this time it was fashionable for the druggists to practice surgery in addition to pharmacy, and the Virginia colony contained a large number of people who were proficient in both professions. In Massachusetts the business was largely in the hands of Indians, schoolmasters, old women and teachers. The Salem witchcraft delusion retarded the spread of the druggist for some time in the Bay State, for the popular impression fastened on the apothecaries a suspicion that they sold the poisons that were supposed to produce the spells. Among those who suffered persecution at this time mixers of medicine appear to have been prominent.

The drug shop had not yet become a distinct institution. It was usually a branch of the grocery or spice business. In 1647 one Giles Forman of Boston, had, however, firmly established himself as devoting special attention to pharmacy. In 1648 the first distinctive drug store in America was opened in Boston by William Davies. —Lippincott's.

A Horse's Memory.

My father had a fine driving horse that was intelligent and had learned a number of tricks. One night he was stolen, and no trace was found of him for nearly two years when, one day, father met a stranger driving the horse and of course claimed him. In the dispute which followed father remarked that if it was the horse stolen from him he would on being unharnessed go to the gate, lift the latch, open the gate, go around the barn, slide the bolt, open the door and go into the third stall. The man agreed to give the horse up on those terms. They drove home and up the lane to the barn and unharnessed the horse, when, without a moment's hesitation, he performed the feats father said he would. —Chicago Tribune.

Zimmer Taken to Prison.

San Francisco, Aug. 7.—Emile J. Zimmer of the Pacific States Telephone company, who refused to testify in order to save Louis Glass from San Quentin, was upon order of Judge Weller taken to the city prison and booked on the accusation filed against him by District Attorney Langdon. Zimmer and his attorney protested, but Judge Weller declared that the law must be complied with and that he could see no reason why Zimmer should be treated differently from any other city prisoner.
