New Band Director Here.

The Citizens' Concert Band has been very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. A. B. Tansey of Chariton, Iowa, who takes charge of the band March 1, in place of Mr. Snapp, who leaves soon for Colorado. Mr. Tansey comes very highly recommended, both as a man and musician. He has been identified with some of the best bands in Iowa for the last fifteen years, and his success as director is second to none. Mr. Tansey will be present at the concert tonight and will direct the second part. Everyone should come out and give him a suitable reception, and let him know at the start what Red Cloud thinks of its band.

Banquet for Juniors.

Saturday night, at Woodman hall, occurred the annual banquet of the high school seniors given for the juniors. The hatches which decorated the walls reminded one at once that it was Washington's birthday. One of the features of the evening was the contest in writing poetry, subjects being assigned from the life of Washington and topics of school interest. Marvel Turnure, Lucille Glee, Margaret and Jennie Miner, impersonating colonial ladies and gentlemen, entertained the company by dancing the minuet. The plan of having everything Washingtonian was shown at supper in the cherry place-cards. After supper the time was spent in games and all present report.

Red Cloud Girl Wins Honors.

In a literary contest held at Beatrice recently, Miss Marie Ross, the 12-year-old daughter of County Clerk E. W. Ross, won second place, many of the contestants being from higher grades in the school. The subject of her paper was "The Life of Washington," and the following report of her essay is taken from the Beatrice Sun:

"In studying Washington's life, we found instead of working for pay or his own good, he was working for his people and his country. It was the magnanimity of the man which made the people sure that he was no self-seeker who would betray their interest for his own glory or rob them for his own gain. This made them trust him in war and peace as one who would never forget his duties.

"In the revolutionary war he refused all pay except his expenses, of which he kept a strict account. The only pay he wanted was that the Americans should be victorious."

"We see his character in the way he praised the achievements of others. He was always as willing to share the credit of a victory as he was to bear the burden of defeat.

"He also shows his character in the quiet dignity with which he faced the Conway cabal. He was not anxious to defend his own reputation, but only wished to save the army from being crippled and the cause of liberty from being wrecked. He made no effort to take revenge of those that tried to injure him."

Passed Worthless Checks.

A stranger giving the name of A. J. Blue was arrested last night upon the charge of having passed a worthless check upon Ed Ashlin, who recently bought the Herburger restaurant. He spent the night in jail and will be given a hearing this afternoon. As the check was for only $8, Blue will probably be given a light sentence. At the time of his arrest he had on his person a little over $16 in cash. The first of the week he was in Blue Hill, where he attempted to pass a check for $100 upon W. A. Holmes. He bought three sets of harness, amounting to $73, and offered the $100 check in payment, but Holmes was to sharp for him. The checks were drawn upon a bank at Auburn, Neb., but a phone message from there stated that no such person as A. J. Blue was known there. It is probable he is wanted elsewhere for similar offenses.
