By EDWIN W. SIMS, U. S. District Attorney

N account of the prosecution of the "White Slave" A traders who, Mr. Sims states, "Have reduced the art of ruining young girls to a national and international system." The calmest, simplest statements of its facts are almost beyond comprehension. The lives of the women of the ancient cave dwellers, clubbed and beaten insensible by brutal men, were to be preferred to the lives of these girls who are lured from loving homes to lives of vice. Do you know the White Slave trappers search the Country and smaller towns for their victims? Do you know that they go to Railway Stations and with WHAT WILES they lure fair girls away? Do you know innocent come by the dozen, with a piece of stiffened velvet and a little gold paint buttons on circles of yellow cloth outlined with black, for eyes. Attach along the edges, folded about it and the owls to a twig. Made in three glued in place to represent a little sizes, the birds look like a little fam- velvet book.

Cut out of a piece of cardboard the form of a five-pointed star five inches long. Cover with gold leaf or silver leaf. For the rays of light take about 15 broom straws, dip them in gold or silver paint and paste them back of the star in bunches of three. Take a plece of writing paper, roll it into a stiff roll, fasten one end to a twig and paste the other end at the back of the star. The star may then be arranged at the top of the tree.

Idea for the Christmas Table.

A new idea for a Christmas table is a Jack Horner bell. It may be hung from the chandelier by a splashing bow of scarlet ribbon. The bell is made of red tissue paper, the bottom of which is securely pasted over with stout paper. Scarlet ribbons are stretched from the bell to the plates, and at a signal from the hostess, given by the tinkling of a little inrisible bell, the ribbons are pulled and on the end of each is a souvenir.

DRESSING THE CHRISTMAS TREE An Occasion of Great Joy for Both Young and Old.

The happiest and most exciting time at Christmas for young and old is when the tree beams forth in all its glory and splendor. There is great pleasure for the elders in dressing it in its gayest raiment. If the full beauty is to be brought out it should be kept until night. It is said that 150,000 Christmas trees will be brought into the American market. Hemlock, cedar, pine and spruce are all good for the purpose. The base can be covered with cotton batting sprinkled with diamond dust, and every branch may be laden down with the same artificial snow. Incandescent electric lights are becoming more popular each year as they are safer. However, many prefer the twinkling of the candles. Colored balls and tinsel are draped from every branch, and gayly dressed dolls and toys of all sorts sway in the air. Then there must be cornucopias of red and gold, filled with candy. The largest presents and mysterious packages can be heaped around the foot of the tree. Every package should be wrapped in white paper and tied with brilliant red ribbon. Many dollars are spent each year for elaborate decorations, but many attractive and effective ornaments may be made at home, such as strings of popcorn, cranberries, gilded and silver nuts, paper flowers, etc., which all add to the splendor of the Christmas tree.

Doing Up the Gifts.

A new way of doing up gifts which will please all, and particularly delight the children, is to use white tissue paper for wrappers, and, instead of tying with ribbon, fasten the paper in place by using small seals over the edges where they are folded down. The seals come specially for the purpose and are decorated with tiny sprays of holly. If you are sending off a Christmas box put a layer of white tissue paper or white cotton on top of the packages and over this sprigs of holly or mistletoe.

Let Children Make Cards.

Have a large box at hand to drop in pictures, fancy papers, scraps of ribbon, and so on to give the children to make Christmas cards. You will be surprised at their ingenuity.

Madam, person should read these most appalling facts of the age, writevery woman should know; every man should know; every ten by a man who has stood face to face with the poor, suffering girls, and who has talked with them, looked down into their hearts and read their misery. This man is United States District Attorney Sims, before whom come the most pitiable cases of White Slavery ever recorded; the U.S. government official who has made it his business to hunt down vice, has learned the story of life-misery from the lips of the girl slaves themselves, and now tells the facts as a warning to the public.

Why Girls Go Astray This is the subject of a second article in one of the free issues of the WOMAN'S WORLD by the Honorable Edwin W. Sims, written as was the first "White Slave" article, strictly from the viewpoint of the lawyer, who finds himself called upon, as an officer of the law, to deal with this delicate, difficult subject.

The Sins of Society By JOSEPH MEDILL PATTERSON, author of "A Little Brother of the Rich," the greatest book sensation of the year. Mr. Patterson is an insider, and this article is a startling exposure of the follies and sins of the fashionable rich. Mr. Patterson says that we have in this country among these rich society people a practical Court; that society women relegate all functions of usefulness, except one-the bearing of children-and they are not inclined to discharge this function as they ought.

"The Christian Science Faith," by Mrs. Clara Louise Burnham, author of "Jewel," "Jewel Story Book," "The Open Shutters," etc.

"The Most Interesting Thing in the World," a fascinating symposium by George Ade, George Barr McCutcheon, Forrest Crissey and William Hodge. "Love Making in Foreign Lands," by Frank L. Pixley, author of "King Dodo," "The Burgomaster," "Prince of Filsen," etc.

"The Old Homes and the New," by Hon. Adlal E. Stevenson, former Vice-President of the United States. A comparison of the home life and influences of today with that of fifty years ago .

"The Sins of the Fathers," by Cyrus Townsend Brady, author of "A Little Traitor to the South," "Richard, the Brazen," etc.—a powerful story dealing with "The Sins of the Fathers visited unto the third and fourth generations."

"My Beauty and Health Secrets," by Miss Della Carson, first prize winner in the Chica-go "ribune's $10,000.00 Beauty Contest, also in World Contest. Miss Carson tells the secret of how she has the appearance of a girl of sixteen, whereas she is thirty.

"New Arkansas Traveler Stories," by Opie Read, author and originator of "The Ar-

"The Journal of Julie," the confidential and personal experiences of a young country girl winning her way in a great city. "The Wild Rose Letters," being the heart secrets between Elaine, Countess of Wycher-ly, and Rose Mary of Strawberry Point (Ia.). Its sentiment is as sweet and delicious as wild honey.

Some of the other contributors to these four issues are: Margaret Sangster, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Roswell Field, General Chas, King, Harriet Prescott Spofford, Ella W. Peattie, Elliott Flower, Stanley Waterloo, Frank L. Stanton, Edwin Halmer, Maude Rad-ford Warren, Allen D. Albert, Dr. W. F. Waugh, Ellen Stan, John Kendrick Bangs and many others.

Woman's World

46-48 West Monroe Street Chicago, III.

The Chicago Tribune Says:

The revelations made by United States District Attorney Sims in the WOMAN'S WORLD should be given as wide a currency as possible. The extent of the White Slave traffic and the machinery by which it is maintained should be brought home not only to the officials sworn to deal with crime, but to parents sworn under a higher law to guard their young.

As Mr. Sims says, thousands of girls from the country are entrapped each year, and he points out the pitiful fact that the parents of a great majority of these unfortunates are unaware of their fate. As a consequence of this state of public ignorance, the traffic proceeds unchecked save by the efforts of prosecuting officials, which are necessarily restricted and temporary in effect.

The problem is enormous, but it can be solved largely by educational means. The responsibility for a broad and systematic campaign of enlightenment rests with the religious and social agencies now existent in every community-the churches, the women's clubs, the civic leagues, and associations. The press, too, should give a reputable publicity and exert its influence directly and on educational lines, to the end that the public may know the gravity of the evil and its conditions.
