Unique Test Of Seed Corn.

Besides testing corn to see if it will grow and warning farmers of the poor condition of seed corn this year, the Commercial Club of Omaha has made a test which shows the result of freezing corn which contains a good deal of moisture. The result shows that even some of the corn standing in the fields, supposed to be the best seed corn Nebraska has this year, may be worthless for seed.

Ten ears of corn were selected which were shown by tests to be strong. Every kernel tested had good sprouts and a strong root system. A government expert at the Omaha Grain Exchange tested them to learn the moisture. It was less than 16 per cent.

Then these ten good ears were soaked for various lengths of time and after the water dried into the corn, they were again tested to find out how much moisture they contained. These soaked 5 hours had 22 per cent; 6 hours 27 per cent and 8 hours 30 per cent. All were put in a refrigerating plant where the air was 12 degrees below zero.

After 76 hours exposure, the corn was again tested. Of one hundred kernels from the ears which had 22 per cent moisture, only 28 germinated; while but 26 kernels in one hundred from the ears with 27 per cent moisture showed signs of life, and but 21 grains in one hundred taken from the ears containing 31 per cent moisture sprouted.

This test shows that corn containing more than 22 per cent moisture cannot stand freezing for even a short time without killing a large percentage of the kernels and making the ears worthless for seed.
