We overheard many remarks on the street commending the advertising folder sent out by Paul Storey, the clothing merchant. This folder was an excellent article for the purpose was well printed and illustrated and to the point. There is no excuse now for any one saying he does not know how to dress.

Stine and Miller are making strong friends for the gospel they preach at the Christian church. They are now in the second week of their gospel meetings and there have been many conversions some of them quite remarkable. The preaching is strenuous, sane and safe. The music is a pleasure to all. The audiences are large and steady in attendance. You can hear these evangelists every night from 8 to 9:15 o'clock. Mr. Miller, the young evangelist will preach next Saturday night.

Obituary.

Jennie R. Phifer was born in Henry County, Iowa July 6, 1871 and died at her home in Smith County, Kansas, April 26, 1910, aged 39 years, 9 months and 20 days.

She was married to Louis F. Peterson October 15, 1890. To this union were born three children, one of which has preceded her to the home beyond and also her father, mother, three brothers and one sister have gone before, while two brothers, two sisters, a heart broken husband, a loving son and daughter and many friends are left to mourn their loss.

Mrs. Peterson bore her sufferings patiently until the last. Many were the loving hands that sought to relieve her of her sufferings but too no avail the death messenger finally came to claim its own and with a song of assurance, a beam of hope and a pleasant smile she fell asleep in the arms of her Savior who was waiting to receive and carry her across the river.

Funeral services were held at the home conducted by the writer and assisted by Rev. W. M. Points. A large procession followed her to her last resting place showing how great was their love for her. May God comfort and help the bereaved in this their time of sorrow. Interment took place in the Cora cemetery.
PERRY E. HENRY.

LINCOLN LETTER

LINCOLN, NEBR., May 3rd.—(Special Correspondence)—Extra session talk has been revived by a letter sent out by W. J. Bryan urging that an extra session be called for the purpose of enacting an initiative and referendum law. To be more exact, Mr. Bryan urges that an extra session be called for the purpose of submitting a constitutional amendment providing for the initiative and referendum, the same to be voted on at the coming general election. Mr. Bryan has written to each democratic member of the legislature asking for a definite reply as to the member's position on the question. At the same time he has asked the Direct Legislation League to sound the republican members of the legislature. An initiative and referendum measure was before the last legislature, but failed to pass for the reason that many members who are in favor of the bill refused to vote for it or any other law until the platform pledges were enacted into law. The platform contained no declaration on the initiative and referendum. Taking this position the Bank Guaranty bill was supported, because it was a party pledge, by democrats who were personally opposed to it.

Rumors of candidates for state and congressional offices are growing more and more numerous, now that the sun is shining on both sides of the fence. It may be interesting to know the names of men mentioned for the various offices.

For governor the democratic candidates are Shallenberger and Dahlman, and the republican candidates are Aldrich and Fries.

For secretary of state the avowed candidates are Pool, democrat, and Wait, republican. Both of them have filed.

For railroad commissioner the republican candidates who have filed are Clark of Douglas and Ewell of Hall. For the democrats Brooks of Gage and Hayden of Lincoln have filed, and Tremore Cone of Saunders has been mentioned.

For treasurer George of Custer, republican, and Sturdevant, democrat, of Furnas have filed.

For Senator, Whedon of Lancaster and Burkett of Lancaster, both republicans, have filed. Gilbert M. Hitchcock has announced his candidacy as a democrat, but he has not yet filed. W. B. Price of Lancaster is also a democratic candidate.

Congressman, First District—George E. Tobey, Lincoln, republican; William Hayward, Nebraska City, republican; John A. Maguire, Lincoln, democrat.

Congressman, Second District—S. Arion, Lewis, Omaha, (filed) democrat; C. O. Lobeck, Omaha, (filed) democrat; T. W. Blackburn, Omaha, republican.

Congressman, Third District—James P. Latta, Tekamah, democrat; Lawson G. Brian, Albion, republican.

Congressman, Fourth District—C. A. Sloan, Geneva, (filed) democrat; S. L. Mains, Crete, democrat; W. L. Stark, Aurora, democrat.

Congressman, Fifth District—Roderick D. Sutherland, Nelson, democrat; George W. Norris, McCook, (uncertain) republican.

Congressman, Sixth District—J. R. Dean, Broken Bow, (filed) democrat; W. J. Taylor, Merna, (filed) democrat; Frank E. Boeman, Kearney, (filed) republican; Moses P. Kinkaid, O'Neill, republican; Robert G. Ross, Lexington, (filed), People's Independent.

State Senator—Wes Pickens, Powell, Twenty-third district, democrat; E. P. Brown, Davey, Twentieth district, republican; Alex Laverty, Ashland, Fifth district, republican; W. R. Patrick, Sarp, Fifth district, democrat. Representatives—Charles Graff, Bancroft, Fifteenth district, democrat; F. Armstrong, Elm Creek, Fifty-eighth district, republican.

It is believed in well informed circles that Congressman Norris will
