GLAD TO STEP DOWN

EMPEROR OF KOREA SHOULDERS TROUBLES ON JAPAN.

HERMIT KINGDOM IS NO MORE

Treaty Between the Two Empires is Made Public at Washington —Existing Treaties Will Be Extended.

Washington.—A treaty between Japan and Korea, by which the "hermit kingdom" was annexed as a sovereign part of Japan, has been made public at the state department. A declaration of the Japanese government concerning the effect of the annexation upon powers enjoying treaties with Japan is also made public. Existing Korean schedules covering imports from foreign countries, and regulations governing coasting trade, will continue fourteen years. The United States specifically is acquainted with the fact that the copyright and patent laws of Japan will be extended to Korea.

The declaration of the Japanese government follows in part: Notwithstanding the earnest and laborious work of reform in the administration of Korea, in which the governments of Japan and Korea have been engaged for more than four years, since the conclusion of the agreement of 1905, the existing system of government in that country has not proved entirely equal to the duty of preserving public order and tranquility, and, in addition, the spirit of suspicion and misgiving dominates the whole peninsula.

In order to maintain peace and stability in Korea, to promote the prosperity and welfare of the Koreans, and at the same time to insure the safety and repose of the foreign residents, it has been made abundantly clear that fundamental changes in the actual regime of government are absolutely essential. The governments of Japan and Korea, being convinced of the urgent necessity of introducing reforms responsive to the requirements of the situation and of furnishing sufficient guarantee of the future, have, with the approval of his majesty the emperor of Japan, and his majesty the emperor of Korea, concluded through their respective plenipotentiaries a treaty providing for the complete annexation of Korea to the empire of Japan.

By virtue of that important act, which shall take effect on its promulgation on the 29th of August, 1910, the imperial government of Japan undertakes the entire government and administration of Korea.

A receipt by the Japanese emperor says that in 1905 Korea was placed under the protectorate of Japan, but that notwithstanding the partial success of the existing government, Korea was unable to preserve order. Suspicion and misgiving permeated the peninsula, and therefore, in concert with the emperor of Korea, he arrived at a plan for the permanent annexation of Korea.

The emperor expresses the belief that the Korean in the future will enjoy prosperity and that the new status will serve as a fresh guarantee for the enduring policy of the orient.
