A Hint to Ministers

A clergyman in a neighboring town had been much annoyed by the way members of the congregation had of looking around to take stock of late congress. After enduring it for some time he said on entering the reading desk one Sunday: "Brethren, I regret to see that your attention is called away from your religious duties by your natural desire to see who comes in behind you. I propose henceforth to save you the trouble by naming each person who may enter, and hope that the services will then be allowed to proceed without interruption." He then began: "Dear beloved," but paused half way, to interlope "Mr. Stubbins with his wife and daughter." Mr. Stubbins looked rather surprised, but the minister with perfect gravity resumed his exhortation. Presently he again paused: "Mr. Curtis and William Diggle." The abashed congregation kept their eyes studiously bent on their books. The service continued in the most orderly manner, the person interrupting himself every now and then to name some newcomer. At last he said still with the most perfect gravity: "Mrs. Symons in a new bonnet." In a moment he felt his mistake, but it was too late. Every feminine head in the congregation had turned around.

THOSE BUSY NEW YORKERS

How They Drive and Rush and Then Waste Valuable Hours in Idleness.

How they do drive and rush and sweat to be sure, falling over, each other, trampling each other down in their mad struggle to get ahead in the pursuit of the round, rolling dollar, just beyond the reach of their grasping claws.
How they run up the stairs of the elevated railroads! How they cannot be persuaded—any of 'em—to wait for the next surface car, but cling pertinaciously to the step and enorge the doorways! How they pack and jam the subway stairs and platforms in a surging mob, shouldering like football players, crushing little children, subjecting men and women alike to the most ardent outrages in the intrusion upon each other. How busy, how hurried they are. There is not time enough in the day for them; they are driven by whips of worse than scorpions, and they leap and run and scourage, breathless and panting, in their strife for precedence, the New York Evening Sun says.

And yet—several thousand persons, men, women and boys, on their hurried way to their frantle toll recently, stopped for an hour or two or three to gaze at the empty air in front of the city hall, because it had been advertised that a man would start some time today from that spot and walk to California. It is heaven's mercy that no cat happened to get up a tree anywhere in town last night, nor any dog was heard yelping at a closed window, nor any bird with a broken wing was to be seen anywhere, nor any man started to mend a chimney or a lofty flagstaff. If any or all of these tremendous cataclysms had occurred at the same time with the pedestrian's departure half the working population of New York might have been smitten motionless, and stood staring for hours in the effort to quench their magnificent curiosity.

USE FOR BLOTTING PAPER

In Germany It is Made to Take the Place of Waste for Cleaning Machinery.

In Germany blotting paper is used to clean machinery. Tow, woolen refuse, sponge, cloths and jute waste are the materials usually employed for the cleaning of machinery and parts of engines which are soiled by dust and lubricating substances. The better varieties of cotton waste are very good for scouring purposes, but the cheaper grades are charged with dust, and in using them a sponge, cloth, specially manufactured for the purpose, is employed. In using blotting paper for scouring purposes the use of cotton waste is decreased and the sponge cloths are entirely dispensed with. On an average the German workman received under the former system 250 grams of cotton waste, one new sponge cloth and one or two renovated ones every week. Now he is supplied with 150 grams of cotton waste, and about eight or ten sheets of blotting paper at a cost of 2 1/2 cents, or one-third the cost of the cotton waste. The paper is not only cheaper, but it does not soil the machinery with fibers and dust, as do the woolen refuse and the sponge cloths. It is also less combustible than other cleaning materials, and if it should be caught in the machinery while engines in motion are being cleaned it tears easily and the workmen run no risk of having their hands drawn into the machinery.—Harper's Weekly.

Gen. Logan and Staff.

Just before the capture of Savannah, General Logan with two or three of his staff entered the depot at Chicago one fine morning to take a car east on his way to join his command. The general, being a short distance in advance of the others, stepped upon the platform of a car and was about to enter it, but was stopped by an Irishman with "You will not be goin' in there." "Why not, sir?" says the general. "Bekase this is a leddies' car and no gentlemen'll be goin' in there without a leddy. There's wan sate in that car over there, if yees want it," t the same time pointing to it. "Yes, I see there is one seat, but what shall I do with my staff?" "Oh, bother your 'staff'!" was the petulant reply. "Go you and take the sate and stich your staff out of the widdy."

Curing Catarrh

Accept Our Advice and Try this Remedy at Our Risk

Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membrane. The mucous membrane, one may say, the interior lining of the body. Catarrh therefore may exist in any part of the system.

When the catarrhal poison attacks the mucous membrane, inflammation and congestion are produced and nature fails to throw off the accumulated poisons. The organ which has been afflicted ceases to perform its proper function as nature intended it should. The result is, complication upon complication, which may lead to other even more serious afflictions.

We honestly believe Rexall Muc-Tone will do wonders, toward overcoming catarrh. It is made from the prescription of an eminent physician who made a long study of catarrh, and his great success with this remedy was an enviable one.

We want you if you are a sufferer from catarrh in any form, to give Rexall Muc-Tone a thorough trial. Use it with regularity and persistence for a reasonable time, then if you are not satisfied, come back and tell us, and without question or formality we will hand back to you every cent you paid us. This is certainly the fairest offer that any one could make and should attest our sincerity of purpose. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at—The Rexall Store. The H. E. Grice Drug Co.
