Hosmer has installed an electric motor in the Commercial Advertiser office and "Hos" says he won't have to crank the gasoline engine any more when they turn on the juice. The program given by the "Apollos," was rendered in a creditable manner and was of such variety and quality that it was sure to please the most fastidious audience.—Sidney, Ohio, Daily Republican. Just as much care, in fact a little more, should be exercised in buying electric sad irons, as in buying anything else. Some irons use more electricity than others in doing the same work. Get your electric irons of MORHART BROS., they carry the authorized iron. Be careful of "just as good" electric irons. The Apollo Quintette and Bell Ringers will be at the Red Cloud Opera House Friday night, January 27th, as the fourth number of the Lecture course. This company is composed of a banjo soloist, a cornet and flute soloist, a guitar soloist, a piano accompanist, and a reader and soloist. This company will put on a program of great variety and superior quality. The Girl That's Next Company will play an engagement here Thursday, Jan. 26th, and comes well recommended from our neighboring cities as a neat, clean, moral, laughable and refined musical comedy. Its a play that is built for laughing purposes only and during its presentation 16 music numbers are introduced, quartets, sextets, trio and duo's by a company of more than ordinary ability. So don't miss it. Mr. Ed Hanson of Hanson & Trine has bought a large interest in the Red Cloud Hardware & Implement company and will be associated with that organization in the future. Mr. Hanson possesses exceptional business ability and his presence will strengthen the company to a considerable extent. We hasten to congratulate both the company and Mr. Hanson and trust that they may be able to be of great service to this community. "JUST THIS ONCE" IS FATAL

Devil's Whisper Induces a Momentary Indulgence That Becomes Habit and Plays Havoc. A popular actress who was in Cleveland last week was telling how she got rid of her fa-er, embonpoint. "After I started," she said, "I occasionally indulged myself 'just this once.' I found I was not making any progress. Anyone who wants to get thin must beware of the 'just this once' habit." The possession of too much physical substance is a real source of misery to some people, especially those of the gentler and lovelier sex, and often it is caused and maintained by the habit she mentions. In fact, "just this once" is the source of half the miseries, failures and wrecks of human kind. A bank teller gets a tip on the stock market. He sees a chance to make several thousand dollars by the investment of a few hundred. He is not possessed of the required sum. The temptation comes to take it from the bank's money and return it a little later when he has realized on the deal. He says to himself: "Just this once." If he does not at once get a firm grip on himself, he falls. The owner of an unseaworthy vessel, greedy for gain, sends it forth again to battle with tempests, "just this once." No port ever sees it more. With its captain and crew it lies fathoms deep until that time when the sea shall give up its dead. And widows and orphans mourn on the land and know not where to look for succor. "Just this once" is the devil's whisper. Once heeded, the portals leading to the under world have been entered. Its persuasive power has filled penitentiaries, hospitals and insane asylums. It has put crepe over the faces of women and sorrow in their hearts. It has bowed down the gray heads of fathers and mothers to their graves. He who learns to know what "just once" really means and put its smiling, insidious invitation behind him has mastered one of the life's most vital lessons.—Cleveland Leader.

ARE NOT REAL ENGAGEMENTS

Young Ensign Explained His Affairs With Ten Other Girls Were "Sham Skirmishes." Apparently love is not always blind, nor do the ears after much whispering of undying love and all that always become deaf—at least, not if there is any sincerity in the plea made by a winsome young woman beneath one of the weeping willow trees on the campus at the Philadelphia navy yard. Reside her, with his protecting arms around her, was a young ensign. He was a handsome young fellow and one that might easily be guilty of all that she accused him. He had paused for a moment, in a description of the paradise that awaited the young wife of an officer in the service of his country; he had painted the brilliant future in store for himself and which must have looked very "good" to her; their faces had gradually approached until they were very, very close, when suddenly the lass with the dusky hair and the melting eyes sat upright. "No," she said, "I don't think I ought to believe you at all. What about those ten girls you were engaged to last year?" "Ah," said he, "those dear, were not engagements; they were just, ah—er, sham skirmishes, you see."—Philadelphia Times.

Women in Holland Prisons.

There are now less than 200 women in the prisons of Holland, according to Dr. Simon von der Aa, who for 50 years has been the chief of administration of prisons in that country. "During my administration three prisons for women have been closed for lack of inmates," declared Dr. von der Aa. "There are two reasons for this decrease of criminal women. One is the growth of social work. There are societies without number not only to rescue the fallen but to help the poor and suffering. The other reason is simply the fact that women are allowed to work and support themselves honorably. I am convinced that the industrial freedom of women is keeping them out of prison in Holland."

Manila's Large Birth Rate.

Race suicide as an addition to other problems in the Philippines lies far off in the distant future, according to the birth statistics compiled in the last quarterly report of the bureau of health. Manila takes a position in birth rate far in advance of other countries of the world with an average of 43.23 birth a 1,000 of population. In international statistics of birth rate Hungary with an average of 40.5 leads the civilized world. Austria with 37 and Germany with 36 are next.

Sundial for Oregon Trail.

Marking the spot where the old Oregon trail entered the state of Nebraska the sun dial erected by the Daughters of the American Revolution was unveiled with appropriate ceremonies recently, says the Omaha Bee. A number of distinguished visitors were present, including the officers of the Iowa chapter of the order and of the Nebraska chapter as well as Secretary Payne of the Nebraska State Historical society and many men of prominent standing in the state.

Something New In Kitchen Ware The "1892" Pure Spun Aluminum Ware is rapidly coming into use for cooking purposes. It is taking the place of agate and enamel ware because while its first cost is a trifle more than ordinary ware, it is really much cheaper in the long run, as it is guaranteed for twenty-five years and will last practically a life time. The genuine "1892" Ware, made only from pure SPUN (not cast) Aluminum, will not crack, scale, peel, break, scorch or burn. It looks like silver but weighs only about one-quarter as much, is easily cleaned and handled, and will not rust, corrode or tarnish. Absolutely pure, non-poisonous and wholesome; saves money, time and doctor's bills. Be sure you get the original and genuine ware stamped with the Maltese Cross. At your dealers.
