Court Proceedings and Notes.

Court began a week ago today and has been an extended term but the most of the cases have been tried to the court, there being only three jury cases.

The first jury case and one that created considerable interest was the Commercial Bank of Nelson vs. L. A. Hansen et al. This was an action for judgment on a promissory note and judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff as prayed for in its petition.

The second jury case was Clara Rathjen vs. Woodmen Accident Association. This was an action to recover $1000.00 by plaintiff for the death of her husband, caused by an accident last July. Judgment was given plaintiff for the full amount.

The third case to the jury was Preston vs. Smith, a suit for nine dollars on a contract, balance due on a heating plant. Judgment was given plaintiff for eight dollars.

Platt & Frees vs. Scrivner & Moritz was tried and submitted to the court.

Patterson vs. Glidden was a trial to the court on a mortgage foreclosure and judgment was rendered for plaintiff as asked.

Platt & Frees vs. Richardson was begun Tuesday and is still on trial before the court.

The cases against the city have not been reached but it is expected that they will be tried this week.

Judge Dungan and Reporter Baird worshipped here Sunday instead of going home and opened up Court on time Monday morning.

Among the out of town attorneys attending court we note: Frank Dalzell of Fremont; John Patterson of Central City; Bert Miller of Bloomington; E. L. Adams of Minden; C. T. Richards of Hebron; H. E. Smith of Oxford.
