Office Mints

Never send articles for publication without giving thy name, for thy name often secures publication of a worthless article.

Thou shouldst not rap at the door of a printing office, for he that heareth thee rap sneereth in his sleeves and looseth time.

Thou shouldst never read the copy on the printer's case or sharp and hooked container thereof, or he may knock you down.

Never inquire of the editor the news, for behold it is his business to give it to thee at the appointed time without asking for it.

It is not right that thou should ask him who is the author of an article, for it is his duty to keep such things to himself.

When thou dost enter his office, take heed of thyself that thou dost not look at what may concern thee not, for that is not meet in the sight of good breeding.

Neither examine thou the proof-sheet for it is not ready to meet thine eye, that thou mayest understand.

The Real Test
