Arrangements are being made to hold a big Odd Fellow picnic in this city in the near future. The lodges of Guide Rock, Cowles and Red Cloud formed an association some years ago to hold a joint celebration each year, each lodge to take its turn. It is Red Cloud's privilege to conduct the festivities this year and plans have been adopted to make this a very enjoyable affair.
Not one of the least enjoyable incidents of the Chautauqua was Rev. Tompkins' imitation of a toad swallowing flies and the idea he sought to convey was one that the Chief has tried to inculcate. Red Cloud audiences are too apt to set toad like swallowing and give no outside evidence of their satisfaction with which an entertainment is received. After the talk of the Rev. Manager, a marked improvement was manifest.

The chautauqua management has arranged to leave the band stand and the electric lights on the school house grounds and hereafter all the band playing will be done there. This is a most welcome change as it takes the children off the streets where they are out of danger and the music will sound much better away from the down town buildings. We are pleased indeed at this arrangement and we are sure that our people will cordially welcome the change.

Sunday evening at the Congregational church one of the best sacred concerts was rendered which in many respects was one of the best ever given by home talent. The choir sang several high class anthems in which they were materially assisted by Glen Walker. Mr. Walker also sang several solos. His voice is developing in a very remarkable manner and it is only a question of time when he will be recognized as one of the best tenors of the country. Professor Betz played a few pieces on the violin and showed that he was master of that instrument. Also Mr. Jamison delighted the audience by his skillful manipulation of the trombone. The entire program was greatly appreciated.

The republicans of Webster county met in mass convention in this city last Saturday afternoon. Judge J. B. Stanser was elected chairman and Wilbur Hamilton secretary. A motion was adopted to the effect that no delegates should be selected to attend the state convention who were favorable to the endorsement of the Taft administration. The following were elected delegates to the state convention and they were instructed to vote with the progressive wing of the republican party: E. J. Overing Jr., F. R. Amack, A. B. Pierce, C. D. Robinson, D. M. Garber, J. B. Stanser, G. J. Warren, J. S. Gilliam, Ed Amack. W. G. Hamilton was elected chairman of the county central committee and S. R. Fiorance secretary for the coming year.
