

Get It While It's Cheap

Many people live uncomfortably because they cannot afford to do different. Many others are in the same fix because no matter how much they are able to pay, the comforts they desire are not within their reach.

This, however, is not the case with electric light—the greatest of all comforts. The electric wires pass by your very doors and Edison Mazda Lamps provide the most beautiful electric light obtainable at one-third what it cost, even only two or three years ago.

So, if you are not enjoying the benefit of electric light—like your friends and neighbors—whose fault is it?

A half-hour's talk with our genial house-wiring man will prove interesting and profitable.

Raising Chicks by Hundreds

The farm poultry keeper who raises 500 or more chicks a year finds a brooder house an almost indispensable adjunct. It makes it possible to take care of the chicks with the least labor, gives them an abundance of air and plenty of room for exercise in stormy weather when they would be too closely confined in small brooders.

The brooder house in use in Missouri poultry experiment station and recommended by Director Quisenberry to anyone who raises large numbers of chickens hatched by incubators is 40 feet long by 14 feet wide on a concrete foundation with rat-proof wood floor says Farm and Home.

A matched board partition through the center provides two apartments, each having its own heater in center of room. If the heater gets too warm for the chicks nearest to it they move back to a comfortable temperature, which they cannot do if kept in a small room. Each apartment will house 2000 chickens and should not be used for less than 500 as their own heat helps to regulate the temperature of the room, and the cost of building and running heating plant is too large for a small number.

The baby chicks are placed in one apartment and their yard is fenced with 12-inch wire netting so that they cannot get far from their foster mother. When they become large enough to hustle around a little they are placed in the other apartment and allowed to roam at will, but their water supply and dry mash hopper are placed near the entrance so that they do not get very far away. There is plenty of shade in the immediate vicinity so that they do not have to stay in the house to get out of the sun.

The building complete with a good coat of paint cost $235 and the self regulating oil heaters about $20 each. All window openings are covered with fine wire netting to keep out birds and rodents.

How Empress Punished.

"The first person I saw punished in the palace at Peking was a servant girl; she had made a mistake about her majesty's socks and had brought two which were not mates. Her majesty finding that out, ordered another servant girl to slap her face ten times on each cheek. This girl did not slap hard enough so her majesty told the one who had been slapped to slap the other. I thought that was too funny for anything and wanted to laugh the worst way, but did not dare."—Two Years in the Forbidden City, by the Princess Der Ling.
