It is surely "good business" to deposit where you get absolutely guaranteed protection, in preference to placing money in a bank that guarantees nothing.

Bladen Has a Tornado

BLADEN, NEBR., April 8.—A tornado of no small proportions passed directly over Bladen last evening at about 9 o'clock. As people were returning home from the evening services the funnel shaped cloud was seen approaching from the southwest with a roar resembling a train of cars. One mile south of the town the storm tore trees out of the ground, then rose again and passed above the town. Everybody took refuge in their storm caves, expecting to be in the path of the storm which fortunately spent itself in the air above.—Wednesday's State Journal

IF YOU WILL HELP WE WILL HELP ALSO

Omaha Praises Money Raisers

Omaha, Nebr., April 5, 1913. Received from D. W. Turnure draft $152 05 Cash 1 50 Total $153 55 From the citizens of Red Cloud. Receipts from the band concert at Red Cloud.

ROBERT CANELL, Treasurer. Omaha, Nebr., April 5, 1913. Mayor of Red Cloud—

The relief committee desires thru you to thank the ladies of Red Cloud for the goods sent for the relief of the cyclone sufferers. They appreciate very much the kindness of those outside of this city.

You will be pleased to know that the immediate relief is getting well in hand. However there are large things ahead which must be taken up immediately.

RELIEF COMMITTEE. The above letters explain themselves. While the people of the tornado stricken district are very grateful for the assistance already received they are still in needy circumstances. It is difficult for us at this distance to realize the size of the misfortune which overlook the country surrounding Omaha. It is impossible for the local people to cope with the situation and much help is needed. So far the gifts have not averaged five cents per inhabitant for the state. This should be considered as a state calamity and the people of the state should all share the burden.

During the drouth years of '90 and '91 this community received aid from the east which was very acceptable and now that we are able we should "go thou and do likewise". We are pleased that the good folks of this city have decided to continue taking donations so that everyone may have a share in helping. The need is urgent, the people are destitute. Up to the present most of the donations have come from the business men and professional men of the cities and towns because they were more easily assessable than the farmers but now everyone is invited to help. Come one come all.

Omaha Extends Thanks To Generous Hearted Nebraska

To the People of Nebraska: Omaha, through its Citizens Relief Committee, takes this method of extending its sincerest thanks to the people of Nebraska for their prompt and generous assistance in the time of need.

Never have tenders of assistance come with such generous promptings as those from the people of Nebraska. Hardly had the echos of the tornado passed away before tenders of aid were received from Nebraska cities and people.

Omaha will never forget the kindness of Nebraska people and while hoping that there will never be occasion for reciprocation in this particular, should such condition arise, Omaha will be the first to respond to the call.

CITIZENS RELIEF COMMITTEE, By T. J. MAHONEY, Chairman, C. C. ROSEWATER, Secretary.

Get It While It's Cheap

Many people live uncomfortably because they cannot afford to do different. Many others are in the same fix because no matter how much they are able to pay, the comforts they desire are not within their reach.

This, however, is not the case with electric light—the greatest of all comforts. The electric wires pass by your very doors and Edison Mazda Lamps provide the most beautiful electric light obtainable at one-third what it cost, even only two or three years ago.

So, if you are not enjoying the benefit of electric light—like your friends and neighbors—whose fault is it?

A half-hour's talk with our genial house-wiring man will prove interesting and profitable.
