NOT THE SAME UNCLE JERRY

Circumstances Had Made a Change in His Position, and He Wanted It to Be Understood.

At Sumter, N. C., there was a large crowd of colored people at the depot as the train pulled in. An old bald-headed Uncle Jerry had his head out of the coach set apart for colored passengers, and a man on the platform recognized him and called out:
"Hello, Misser Stivers! Is dat yo'?"
The old man looked straight at him but made no response.
"Hello, Misser Stivers!"
No response.
"Say, Misser Stivers, has yo' lostes yo' hearing?" persisted the man as he drew nearer.
"Boy, was yo' talkin' to me?" demanded the old man.
"Sartin. What's de matter?"
"Boy, does yo' want anything of me?"
"Why, how yo' talk! Reckon yo' has got de hoodoo."
"Does yo' evidently reckon yo' knows me?"
"Of co'se I knows yo'. Yo' is ole man Stivers."
"When did yo' know me?"
"Las' fall. Why, I dun worked wid yo' fur three months."
"An' when yo' dun worked wid me what was I a-doin'?"
"Drivin' dem mews fur Kurnel Johnson."
"Exactly sah. But I want yo' to understand dat dere is a heap o' difference atwixt drivin' dem mews fur Kurnel Johnson an' ridin' on de kivered kyars along wid white folks. I might a-knowned yo' last fall, sah, but if yo' deelar to permeate any elongated conversation wid me yo' mus' git some responsible gem'len to introduce yo'."—Chicago Record-Herald.

DON'T NEED TO BE LABELED

Any Man of Sense Would Know That These Two Stories Were Merely Fables.

Once upon a time there was a beaten golfer who admitted that he had missed no short putts—and that his winning rival had "gobbled" no long ones; who confessed that he was on his game and that while beaten by the margin of 3 and 2, without great luck the count would have been 8 and 6.
Moral—They backed him up against a bunker and shot him at sunrise before he became more violent.
Once upon a time there was a fan who left the ball park and called out to a friend:
"Greatest game of the year, pal; they beat us 3 to 2; but if the ump hadn't slipped us a couple of close ones, the count would have been 3 to 0. They played better ball and won on the level."
Moral—They didn't even wait until sunrise to pot this guy. Another ten minutes, and he might have been beyond all human control.—Grantland Rice, in Collier's Weekly.

That G. Washington incident. Small William, aged three, and John, aged five, had taken special interest in the approach of Washington's birthday. Fond grandparents and other relatives had been sending them many cherry-tree and hatchet post cards.
Of course the lads' mother had to explain the meaning of the different post cards. She tried to impress upon her sons also the lesson about the "Father of Our Country" never telling a lie.
Several nights before the natal day of the much celebrated and greatly lamented American, another consignment of post cards was received by the two boys. They were presented to their mother at the dinner table that evening to get her to tell of their significance.
Among this last list of cards receiver were several showing the chopped cherry tree. "And George Washington could not tell a lie," said the devoted parent, as she finished relating the much heralded incident.
Master William was silent for a moment, and then, in all seriousness, said:
"Why, no'er, what was the matter wif 'im?"

Time to Kick.
There was an excitement in the old inn at the cross roads. The ancient proprietor was bristling up like an angry porcupine.
"It's got to stop!" he thundered, as he brought his fist down on the ink-spattered register. "Be gosh, it's got to stop, or I'll close up the hotel!"
"What's the trouble?" asked the coffee drummer.
"Trouble enough. I could stand those sleep-walking motorists crawling under the bed and hammering on the springs, 'cause they thought they were under an automobile, but I'll be blowed if I am going to put up with dreaming aviators climbing up in the ceiling and knocking all the plastering down, 'jest 'cause they imagine they are tinkering with their flying machines. No, siree. It's got to stop."

Little Bit of Irony.
Louis J. Horowitz is noted in New York for his trenchant wit. Thus, in the discussion of a recent contract, certain rather niggardly proposals were made to him, and Mr. Horowitz rebuked their niggardliness with the quiet words:
"Only so much for a fifteen-story building? Come, gentlemen, make it $5 more and we'll run you up a skyscraper that will overtop the highest."

KANSAS PICKUPS

(From Smith County)

Charles and Arthur Fruit are each putting up silos.
F. M. Brown made a business trip to Burr Oak, Monday.
Many from around here attend the Tabernacle meeting at Womer.
Otto Peterson has gone to Iowa for an extended visit with relatives.
The infant babe of Mr. and Mrs. John Fair's is very ill at this writing.
Mrs. J. C. Peterson is quite sick. Dr. Frank Reihan is the attending physician.
Mr. and Mrs. John Dick were visiting Bert Payne and family the first of this week.
Joe Morgan is back in our vicinity. He has spent the summer in the western states.
Andrew Lederbrandt and Charles Fruit shipped a car load of hogs to Kansas City this week.
Mrs. Myrtle Stevens of Red Cloud and brother, Dewey Cole, are visiting at the Andrew Upp home.
Mr. Tegley, the hardware man at Burr Oak, sold eight corn binders in this neighborhood last week.
Mr. and Mrs. Tweede Shrader have returned from a two week's visit in Cherry and Thomas counties, Nebraska. They report crops looking well and five good rains within the two weeks they were there.
Farmers are busy putting up their prairie hay. The hay is short and thin excepting on very low ground. Corn planted on old ground is still green in spite of the dry weather.

Splendid Attractions

The state fair at Lincoln September 1-5 will be the scene of a larger number of free attractions than ever before. Liberati's band, ten grand opera concert stars and eight different vaudeville attractions head the list. The speed program and the fireworks will also break all previous records.

New Breed of Dairy Cattle.

A new breed of dairy cattle known as the Illawarra breed has been developed in New South Wales. It was obtained by crossing Shorthorns, Longhorns, Devons and Ayrshires. This new breed of cattle has become a favorite for dairying in the Illawarra district, New South Wales, though it is hardly known in America.—Farm and Fireside.

GOOD YEAR

See the Good Year Casings and Tubes before you buy. We handle all sizes and carry a large stock. You want to remember that the Good Year people made a reduction on the 1st of April of 10 per cent on all of their castings and tubes. It is not very often that a Good Year casing or tube goes wrong, but when you do you will find their adjustment very satisfactory. We also carry a good stock of Presto Tanks for exchange and can show you the famous Presto Inflator, which can inflate your tires for you with less work and very little expense.

Get Polesine oil to lubricate your cylinders and Panhard oil for your transmission and your car will run smoothly and with less wear. The best oil is none too good for a car.

We invite you to come and see us, when in the village.
