An up-to-date remedy for colds. That is what Peruna is. In successful use over 30 years.

Colds are caught in many ways: lily ventilated rooms; rooms that have direct draughts; crowded rooms; damp houses; stuffy school rooms; offices lily heated.

A dose of Peruna at the right time, at the first symptom of cold, before the bones begin to ache, before the sore throat manifests itself, or the cough, or the discharge from the nose, just a dose or two of Peruna before these symptoms begin is generally sufficient. But after the cold is once established with the above symptoms prominent, a bottle of Peruna, or maybe two, will be necessary.

The steel rods from old umbrellas make fine plant supports. Disconnect them where they join the upper part and also where the ring slips the handle and you have a double rod to slip into your flower pots, and if they are painted gray they are unnoticeable.

Frenchwoman's Cold Cure.
Having been without a cold for 27 years, a French lady, who holds this fortunate record, attributes it to the following process. Each morning after taking a warm bath, she immediately sponges her throat, her face, and the back of her neck and ears with the very coldest water she can get for about two minutes. In cold weather one may feel inclined to shirk, she says, but the result of steady application she has found a plentiful reward.

Hardly Good Material for Angels.
A little girl of eight, living on the South side, asked her mother: "Mamma, what are boys after they are dead—elf?"
"No, dear," replied her mother, "they are angels, as all other people are when they die, if they have been good. Why do you think they would be elf?"
"Well," the child answered, "I didn't think boys ever could be angels. I should think they would be brownies, or elfs, or kewpies, or something like that." was the child's answer.—Kansas City Star.

Five Towns Make Specific Offers.
Only five of the eighteen towns that have become candidates for the location of the new state reformatory have thus far made their offers specific and certain, according to the board of control. The quintet comprises Table Rock, Holdrege, Superior, Crete and Kearney. The other towns have failed to make clear the nature of their bids for the place and will be asked to do so before the matter of selection is taken up by the board.

Leases Much School Land.
School land leases covering several thousand acres in Custer, Sherman, Dawson, Lincoln and Howard counties have been authorized by the board of educational lands and funds, at valuations exceeding the original appraisements in the aggregate by $3,000. The Custer county lands were reviewed by State Treasurer George, and those in the other four counties by Land Commissioner Beckman. In Howard county, one tract was increased in its appraisement from $20 to $40 an acre, and another from $27.50 to $45. A piece of thirty-six acres in extent, in Dawson county, was boosted from $17 to $26. These were the only radical increases. One tract in Lincoln county was reduced from $15, the valuation found by the county appraisers, to $13. The remainder were listed at from $7, the minimum allowed by law, up to $21. In most cases there was a raise of $1 to $2 per acre over the values found by the county appraisers.

Many Newspapers in Nebraska. Nebraska has 532 newspapers outside of Lincoln and Omaha. A canvass of these publications is now being made, and probably will show at most 600 publications. During the year of 1913 the state board of agriculture paid the country press $1,344 for advertising. To the dailies in Lincoln and Omaha and other cities in Nebraska the state board paid $1,064. Accounts are opened with each newspaper and a contract is made. The newspaper industry in the state shows a steady increase. Some papers have reported to the deputy labor commissioner under the factory law, while a great many do not care to be classed as manufacturers as far as their job plants are concerned.

The pure food commission has just issued Bulletin No. 113, regarding the pure seed law, which covers the sale of agricultural seeds, among which are alfalfa, barley, blue grass, brome grass, clovers, corn (sweet and field), flax, millet, oats, rye, sorghum, timothy and wheat.

Every parcel, package or lot of agricultural seeds containing one pound or more, offered or exposed for sale in the state of Nebraska for use within this state, shall have affixed thereto in a conspicuous place on the outside thereof, distinctly printed in the English language in legible type, not smaller than eight point heavy Gothic caps, or plainly written, a statement as follows: The name of the seed. The name and address of the seedman. Statement of purity if below standard fixed by law. Place where grown. All agricultural seeds must be true to the name under which they are sold. Seeds containing noxious weed seeds such as dodder, quack grass, wild mustard, Canadian thistle, wild oats, corn cockle, cannot be sold or offered for sale in this state. Certain other weed seeds shall be considered as impurities in agricultural seeds if present to the extent of more than 2 per cent, but such seeds can be sold if labeled to show the percentage of such seeds present. Sand, dirt, chaff, broken seeds and seeds not capable of germination are also considered impurities. Seeds below standard, except in the case of noxious weed seeds, can be sold if labeled to show the percentage of impurities and germination. The law fixes a fee of 50 cents for making the analysis of seeds submitted to this department. The penalty for the violation of the pure seed law of Nebraska is fixed in the law. The enforcement of this law is in the hands of the food commission and the department is now fully equipped to handle such seeds as are submitted for analysis.

Address all samples of seed for analysis and requests for copies of the law to Clarence E. Harman, Deputy Commissioner, Nebraska Food, Drug, Dairy and Oil Commission, Lincoln, Nebr.

Boy Shipped as Live Stock.
A boy crated and shipped as live stock was the discovery made by a veterinary surgeon at Lincoln when he was called upon to inspect a carload of goods billed from Bertrand, Neb., to Burke, S. D. The way bill on the shipment included household goods and "one hog," value, released, at $10. Being an interstate shipment, inspection was required. The veterinarian found the household goods, but no sign of a hog. A careful search, however, revealed a boy curled up in a corner of the car, none the worse for his trip. By billing the car as partly live stock the shipper is allowed a low rate on the household goods, and in the absence of a hog the boy was sent by the shipper as a substitute.

IS CONTENTED CITY

German Rothenburg on Tauben Has Placid Contentment.

Citizens Are All Homeowners and Therefore Vitrally Interested in Burg's Welfare—Ruled Autocratically From City Hall.

Paris.—Perhaps there is no city in the world possessing such genuine reason for placid contentment as the German Rothenburg on the Tauben, 50 miles to the southeast of Nuremberg.

It is ruled autocratically from the Rathaus or city hall. And so well is it ruled that while the rich work at the universal business of toy making, there are absolutely no poor people.

It laid down years ago that all Rothenburgers must be made worthy of their unequalled town, and that no misery or evil must be tolerated. Rothenburg municipality resolved to realize this aim by insuring that every citizen should have a stake in the town. First it set to fight the vicious practices of families living in rented houses. Rented houses, it decided, are economically as vicious as would be rented clothes or even rented food.

Also rented houses threatened to spoil Rothenburg's domestic architecture, the most picturesque and beautiful in any European town outside Venice.

Rothenburg municipality, therefore, started on a policy of creating homeowners. By special regulations it made it easy for men to buy the houses they lived in. It lent money at low interest to the buyers. The town lost nothing, because the houses are good security. They are enormously valuable owing to their wood carving, chimney pieces and windows. The business was equally profitable to the inhabitants, who found that the interest on the loans amounted to less than the former rents. And no longer anyone was tempted to tear down the old houses.

The civic government went further. The man who is not part farmer, the man who cannot at a pinch produce his own food, that man is only half a man. Therefore, said Rothenburg, every man, town dweller though he be, must have his little farm. And it began to divide up the communal

FRUIT LAXATIVE FOR SICK CHILD

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver and bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs" that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Adv.
