Farmstead Building Plans

A few ready made plans for farm buildings may be had at cost from the agricultural engineering department of the University Farm, Lincoln. The blueprints are part of a unit approved for a farmstead. If the farmer will furnish a general idea of the sort of building he expects to construct the department will send him the stock design. No special plans will be drawn, but if advice is wanted, rough pencil sketches will be made free. Barn plans, consisting of ten or twelve blueprints, will be furnished for $3. Other prints can be obtained from twenty five cents to $4.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Warren of Beatrice are in the city visiting at the E. S. Garber home this week.

C. B. Hale Given A Small Fine

C. B. Hale, who has been lessee of the Indianola Reporter for a few weeks had a hearing before County Judge Colfer, Thursday afternoon last on a charge of obtaining $25 from L. A. Russell of Bartley under false pretenses, and pleading guilty to the charge, was fined by the county judge $50. Being unable yet to produce the amount of the fine, Mr. Hale is in the county jail. Others besides Mr. Russell are said to be losers on account of Mr. Hale's irregular financial dealings.—Mr. Loton Duckworth is said to have a claim of $100; Mr. Norman, the hotelkeeper, $24; and the saloon man, all of Indianola, about $15. Still there is a disposition on the part of even those who are financial sufferers on account of Mr. Hale's conduct, to have him released from his present troubles if such results can be legally accomplished.—McCook Tribune.

C. B. Hale of Indianola, who has been running the Reporter lately, was detained here Sunday by Sheriff Fitch on request from parties in Indianola, until warrants could be issued against him. Wednesday charges were preferred against him by L. A. Russell, of Bartley, of having obtained money under false pretences. The preliminary hearing was had yesterday afternoon before Judge Colfer and he pled guilty and the Judge fined him $50 and cost, and remanded him to jail until the fine is paid.—McCook Republican.

In Seventy Counties

The Nebraska State Horticultural Society has members in more than seventy counties in Nebraska with the largest membership in the counties in the eastern part of the state. The object of this society is to help in all possible ways every person who is interested in trees, fruit, flowers and vegetable growing. The society desires to extend its membership so that every county in Nebraska will be receiving the benefits of the society's efforts and researches.

G. W. Lindsey Writes Again

Honolulu, Hawaii Islands, March 17, 1914

Editor Chief:—
In continuance of my former letter to you I will try to inform you and friends of this island as I have seen it. The doctor and our wives took a trip around this island a distance of ninety miles. We witnessed some wonderful sights. Some that we will certainly not forget. We visited a cliff where three thousand natives were forced off and lost their lives in time of war by natives from the other islands.

This place is a wonderful sight. Nearly 500 feet per pendicular and no way of escape. We next visited a large canning factory, built and owned by McNeol Libby & McNeol of Chicago. They can nothing but pine apples. The output for 1913 was 550,000 cans of canned fruit, 2,000 tons of fresh fruit. The number of plants per acre are 2,500 to 12,000. The nearer plants stand together the smaller the fruit. The caneries choose pine apples weighing 4 to 5 pounds each, but we get them here weighing 8 to 10 pounds each. The finest I ever seen. The first crop after planting is obtained in about 18 months and averages about 10 tons per acre. Another crop follows 12 months later, in which the yield ranges from 15 to 20 tons per acre. The cost of production is about $15 per ton. The main land price in California is $50 to $150 per ton. There are now nine caneries on the islands—120 million dollars invested in this industry. All of us judge the fruit to be the best we ever seen in flavor and size.

We next visited a sugar factory where they produce from one mill fourteen thousand dollars worth of sugar every day. 112 pounds every 20 seconds. This is making sugar faster than Webster county could use it. There is eight sugar mills on this one island, and there is eight of these islands. This one on which Honolulu is situated is next in size to the largest one, and has the best harbor of any of them. The inhabitants on all of these islands, according to the census of 1910 was 191,874. The island of Oahu, on which Honolulu is located, has 33 per cent growth in population over census of 1910. Honolulu is a lively city and has a beautiful climate.

There are about 200 churches on these islands of all denominations. In Honolulu there are two daily newspapers, one morning and one evening. Imports into Hawaii in 1912 were $8,764,322. The exports for the same period was $5,449,438. The most of the exports were sugar, fruit, rice, coffee and hides. Hawaii is a good customer of the United States. Out of $28,694,322 imports into the territory, $23,000,000 came from the United States, and most of it coming through the port of San Francisco. They claim these islands never harbored a snake or anything more poisonous than a honey bee or wasp. There is no other country that I have ever seen where one can roam from sea beach to mountain top with absolutely nothing to fear. No poisonous plants. These beautiful islands are indeed favored above all other spots on earth as an all the year round play ground.

Thinking perhaps you are getting somewhat tired of this long letter, I will close by saying I will bring the next news to you in person, about April 20th. We have decided to turn toward home about April 4th. Kindest regards to all.

Truly yours,
G. W. LINDSEY.
