The Masonic fraternity will conduct the ceremonies incident to the laying of the corner stone of the new court house building. Elaborate preparations are being made to make this one of the most impressive ceremonies ever held in this county. We know of no organization that can better conduct an affair of this kind than the Masons.

The abundant rains are keeping our crops in prime condition. Wheat has not suffered any from the excessive rainfall, corn is making a remarkable growth, some fields of alfalfa are being cut the second time and this cutting is also heavy. oats, potatoes and all garden truck fare all that could be wished for. Nebraska has on the smile that won't come off.

Mr. A. W. Cox of Bladen has filed for the office of County Representative subject to the will of the voters of the Democratic party. Mr. Cox has resided in Webster county for many years and is known as a man of sterling worth and excellent character. He has always been interested in public affairs but so far as we know has never before sought public preferment. He would make an excellent official.

Hon. Geo. W. Lindsey has filed for the nomination of County Representative on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Lindsey is well known to the voters of this county to need any introduction from us. He served one term in the state legislature and carried out all his pre-election promises, thus demonstrating that he will do just what he says he will do. He has been a successful farmer, stock raiser and business man.

In as much as this city will not observe the national holiday on the 4th of next month we believe that it would be a good plan to have all our stores close on that day. This would give every merchant an opportunity to get away and spend the day as he pleased. It would also show to our sister towns that we were with them absolutely and entirely in their endeavor to make their celebration a success.

The Chief is pleased to see so many of the people keeping up the stride for clean lawns and premises which was started during the spring months. Now and then, however, there is a place that seems to be neglected and it presents an inharmonious appearance. The city is judged by its appearance as a whole and we would like to see the entire town kept in a spic and span condition thruout the entire season.

The man who makes money in a community has a duty to perform to that community. It may be that he has made his money by his superior business ability, and that he would have done as well anywhere. That does not alter the case. If his gifts are great his responsibility is equally as great. No man was placed on earth for the sole purpose of making money and the man who has this as an ideal had better never have been born. It is not an act of charity, but the performance of a simple duty, for the man who has made money to pass a little of it on for the benefit of the community, even though he never expects to see a dollar of his contribution back.

An investigation of our school records will show that there were more pupils graduated from our high school this year than there were in all the years from 1890 to 1900. Our population has not increased and the only way to account for this large graduation is to realize the changed conditions in the school itself. For the past several years elective courses have been offered in our schools and this has kept our boys and girls in the classroom. The old idea that Latin was the chief end of all children has been done away with and new courses are offered that will benefit the future citizens for their lives in this community. The agricultural school course is another step in the right direction. We are a farming community and it would seem in the line of right reasoning to recognize this condition of affairs and trim our sails accordingly. We ought to plan to give the most good to the most children and this school course will fill a much felt need. Luther Burbank is credited with saying that the next big development in the world's history will not be invention, or science, or statesmanship but farming. He says that the next ten years will bring many big surprises and that farming will be looked upon as the profession of all professions.

Rule for Candles. An old rule calls for as many candles on the table as there are guests about it, and it is a rule that might be followed with interesting results. There is so much variety shown nowadays in the way in which candles are placed on a table that the candles could be put one in front of each guest, in a circle or oval or oblong about the floral centerpiece.

THE ALARM is a dreadful thing for the man without insurance. Every time he sees the engines racing along his heart comes up in his throat if the fire is anywhere near his place. What folly, what mistaken economy. THE COST OF INSURANCE need hardly be considered. The freedom from worry alone is worth it many times over. Have us insure you today.

300 LICE Or More on One Hen

is by no means uncommon. No one would expect to find a steer with that number of "ticks" sucking his blood, but many expect the old hen to go ahead shelling out eggs while lice and mites are sapping her very life. We have counted over 2000 dead lice under a row of ten hens, on a roost soundly matted the night before with Lee's Lice Killer. This great killer does double duty—contact kills mites, lice, bedbugs, etc. About the roosts the vapor kills lice on the chickens sitting over it. Put up only in airtight cans.
