Your Watch Ideal

Many people have learned to consider such, and such a watch as an ideal time piece.

When they buy they want that particular watch.

We don't blame them because we have watch ideals too—and ideal watches.

They are the South Bend and the Hamilton and the Howard and one or two others. These we have learned to depend upon—these we buy and sell each year in greater quantities. And before you make a watch purchase we would like to talk to you about these movements. May we?

The Closing Days of Teachers' Institute

The last two days of institute Mr. Bert W. Harris, a penmanship specialist, gave some excellent work. He advocates the elimination of fancy letters and teaches the plain business handwriting. He gave the teachers muscular relaxation exercises, as well as practice work and instructions on presenting the work to children. He is enthusiastic in his work and imparted his enthusiasm to the teachers.

On Wednesday morning the institute was favored with special music given by some of the members of the Red Cloud normal training class. The program consisted of a piano solo by Beatrice Sloss, a trombone solo by Glenn Fox and vocal duet by Grace Sherer and Hazel Saladen. The numbers were well rendered and did credit to the schools as well as the individuals.

One of the special features of the institute, and one which was much enjoyed by the teachers was the Victrola musicale, given on Friday morning by Mr. C. L. Cotting, assisted by Mr. Mitchell. The program consisted of many and varied songs and recitations for children, which might be taught and used in the school room. It clearly demonstrated the educational value of the Victrola in training children to appreciate and enjoy the best in music. A good many rural schools in our state now own Victrolas.

Everyone was wishing for more when time was called but the program served as a very pleasant closing of the week's special exercises, and the kindness of these people in giving their time to the entertainment was very much appreciated.

A large audience was present at the lecture given by Chancellor Fulmer at the Methodist church Friday evening. The subject of his address was, "The Power of Suggestion," and was presented in a clear, decisive manner and made especially interesting by the many illustrations used. The talk was logical, and brought out distinctly the evil resulting from allowing children to read poor literature. He emphasized particularly the tremendous influence of suggestion over children, and because of its potent power in molding character, he showed why the child's surroundings should be as beautiful and up-lifting as possible.

A very pleasing feature of the program for the evening was a bell solo by Raymond Turnure in which he showed exceptional skill. The young man is especially talented along musical lines and his willingness to assist is always appreciated.

The Eighth Grade Graduation Exercises

The Twelfth Annual Graduating Exercises of the Webster county public schools was held at the Methodist church Saturday morning, August 29, at 10 o'clock a. m. About one hundred graduates were present. The interest and willingness of these young people was shown by the songs and recitations with which they entertained the audience.

The address of the morning was given by Superintendent Joy E. Morgan of Guide Rock. His subject, "Life Building," was one of deep interest to each graduate, and proved to be helpful and instructive as well as entertaining. At the close of the address Miss Coon spoke a few words of encouragement and appreciation for the interest shown and the faithfulness of these young people, and then presented to the class of 1914 the long coveted diplomas.

Mr. Ed. Overing closed the program with a short talk in which he outlined the different courses given in the various high schools, and told why it is becoming so necessary to introduce courses in agricultural, domestic science, etc., in the high schools of today. He emphasized particularly the fact that if we wish to keep our children at home we must give them an education which will fit them for the work which they can do at home, and not give them an education, the completion and practice of which necessitates their leaving home.
