MOTHER! LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE

If cross, feverish, constipated, give "California Syrup of Figs"

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is ofttimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Adv.

One-Hundred-Dollar Tree.

The government has received $99.40 in payment for a single sugar pine tree that a trespasser cut in the Stanislaus National forest in California, It yielded more than enough actual lumfer for a good-sized house, or for a two-foot board walk nearly two miles long. The tree scaled 18,933 board feet, and was valued at $5.25 a thousand feet. Officers of the forest service believe that although national forest timber is frequently sold at a higher rate a foot, no other tree ever felled in a national forest has been worth so much.-Youth's Com-

TAKE THIS MAN'S ADVICE TRY THE GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY

It always gives me pleasure to recom mend anything that is right and so I feel it my duty to herald the praises of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

For years I was troubled with kidney disease and it was so intense that I was bedridden for days at a time. I gave up all hope and doctors for miles around gave me no help. Incidentally I tried several patent remedies and at last tried Swamp-Root. From the first it gave me relief and it was no time before I was able to be up and around and now I am perfectly well and able to work as I used to before my terrible sickness.

So now let me thank you for your won-derful discovery and take this opportunity to recommend it to all who suffer from kidney troubles.

Yours very truly, WALTER SHIVER Hope, Ark. Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 25th day of March, 1912.

SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR DARKENS YOUR GRAY HAIR

Look Years Younger! Try Grandma's Recipe of Sage and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get & large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

BILL FOR PUBLISHING OF PER-SONAL ASSESSMENT LIST

GOVERNOR INTRODUCES BILL

Wants the Names of All Old Soldiers-Relieves Manufacturers of Payment of Corporation

Tax

Western Newspaper Union News Service. The Richmond-Broome bill, providing for publication of personal property tax lists in newspapers of the state-a bill indorsed and worked for by members of the state press association-was sent ahead to third reading after a warm committee of the whole scrap in the house. It was amended en route to provide that the publication shall be subject to the will of the members of the boards of county commissioners of each county Friends of the measure accepted the amendment and it went through by a vote of fortynine to forty-six. In behalf of the measure it was argued that the publicity would result in placing of all personal property on the tax rolls and that tax dodgers would have a hard time under this measure because they would not want to be thrown into the spot light.

For Relief of Manufacturers The bill exempting manufacturing corporations of the state from the payment to the state annually of a heavy occupation tax passed the senate on third reading by a vote of 18 to 13. The measure, Senate File No. 214, was introduced by Mattes of Otoe. Public service corporations are still subject to the tax, although the bill as originally introduced would have exempted them also. The bill was recommended for passage after Senator Mattes had secured a report from Secretary of State Pool, showing that of the total tax of $80,000 collected from the corporations of the state, from $10,000 to $15,000 was paid by manufacturers.

Governor Morehead has presented to: the house of representatives a bill to require county assessors or county clerks, or whoever happens to be in charge of an assessor's work, to collect the names of all old soldiers of the war of 1812, the Mexican war, and the war of the rebellion so that the names may be listed as to company, regiment, battalion, vessel, with the present residence and postoffice address. The soldiers of the Spanish-American war and the so-called Phillipino insurrection are not asked for. The object is to obtain a complete roster of soldiers. This was attempted many years ago and the duty was imposed upon assessors and county clerks. Several volumes of these rosters were published by the secretary of state. Later some appropriation was made for the G. A. formation and transcribe it upon records. The proposed bill provides that the information collected shall be submitted to Secretary of State Pool.

The draft of the warehouse bill, which has been agreed upon by the special joint committee of the house and senate as a substitute to S. F. No. 1 and other bills on that subject, has been completed and copies furnished to the press. The joint committee includes Representatives Dau, Matteson and Cox and Senators Henry, Shumway and Gates. Under this agreed measure, it is made optional with every elevator company whether it shall become a public warehouse. The state railway commission will have general control and regulation of these establishments. A maximum schedule of storage charges is fixed, and companies must give bond to insure compliance with the terms of the Beginning with Monday, there will be no legislation in the house which is not approved by a body of sixteen members. This group is known as the sifting committee. It will have no control over bills in the hands of standing committees, but of the 175 bills now on general file it will have absolute charge unless the house gets unruly and lifts some pet measure over the heads of the sixteen men. And such action never occurs without a vigorous protest from the sifters.

The house finance ways and means sommittee has agreed upon the recommendation of a bill consolidating the live stock sanitary board and the stallion registration departments. with a contemplated saving of about $10,000. The measure as drafted would appropriate $40,000 for salaries and maintenance for the two departments. Two years ago $30,000 was appropriated for the live stock sanitary board and $7,200 for the state veterinarian and his assistant, but the latter office was given the fees from the office.

On recommendation of the board of control, the senate increased the appropriation in H. R. No. 474 from $7,500 to $20,000 and recommended the amended bill for passage. The money is for the purchase of land for the Hastings asylum. It was the original plan to buy only sixty acres, but the board discovered that it would be economy to buy up the rest of the quarter, the sixty being the poorest land and the price per acre for the whole being not much higher.

Modern Warfare Has Developed New Field That Calls for Scientific Markemanship.

The advent of the aeroplane and the airship has introduced a hard problem for the rifleman whose duty it is to bring down hostile craft of this kind, says Popular Mechanics. Even with its enormous speed the bullet discharged by a modern rifle is not fast enough for the aeroplane, as has been discovered in the European war, but the expert riflemen who are constantly on the watch for hostile air craft are fast learning the requirements for hitting these swiftly moving targets. He no longer aims at an aeroplane when trying to bring it down, but at a point about six lengths ahead of the machine. The airman running the hostile craft also knows this and, when under fire, seldom flies far in a straight line if he can help it. but follows a zigzag course.

The Zeppelin is a much slower-moving craft and can be "plugged" about the center of the envelope if the rifleman aims at its nose.

GUNNING FOR THE AIRSHIPS GIVES $20,000 TO THE POPE

Story Reveals Characteristics of the Present Occupant of the Pontifical Throne.

An anecdote is being told about the pope which shows his natural simplicity of manners. Since his childhood his holiness has been a great friend of a Genoese nobleman who was in the habit of calling him by his Christian name and used the diminutive of James, "Glacomino," corresponding to the English "Jimmy." This noblemas was recently received in audience by the pope, who when he saw him kneel down said: "No, no; Jimmy won't allow you to do that."

The pope and his friend had a long talk and the nobleman, who is very rich, asked the pope to allow him to present him with some gift. "I have a splendid old silver service worthy of a pope and I want to give it to you," said the nobleman. "No, thank you," replied the pope, "I have no use for a silver service; what I need is hard cash, which is more useful for the church." The nobleman asked permission to sign a check there and then and gave it to the pope. He drew it for $20,000, as that was what the silver service was worth.

Submerged Timber.

The strength of a hemlock stick a foot square that had been in water for almost forty years was recently tested in the 600,000-pound testing machine at Rensselaer Polytechnic institute at Troy, in New York. The timber, which was 16 feet 9 inches long. had formed part of one of the piers of the Congress street bridge at Troy. When the pler broke down after the flood in the spring of 1913, the timber was turned over to one of the material-testing laboratories of the institute. It was kept in the open air for three months, and then placed in a dry room for a little more than nine months. When placed in the testing machine, the calumn failed under a load of 384,000 pounds; that is, the long-submerged wood showed an ultimate strength of 2,670 pounds to the square inch. In the opinion of Prof. T. R. Lawson, who conducted the test, the remarkable strength of this piece of hemlock seems to show that being immersed in water for a long time does not decrease the column strength of timber that is subsequently permitted to dry out .- Youth's Companion.
