> "Some Thoughts for the Chamber of Commerce was presented by L. II. Blackledge. The speaker frankly stated that he did not intend to champion any theory or suggest a plan of action but that he came as a member of the school board to recite conditions as they are. The board was confronted with a serious problem and desired the belp of the district. The high school building was over crowded and old, more room was needed or else some of the children must be refused an education. The question is shall this district build small buildings from year to year to care for the increase of attendance or shall it vote bonds and erect one building that will be adequate and presentable. He carefully refrained from stating his own personal opinion or that of the other members of the board but left it to the district and asked for advice. Dr. Mitchell was then introduced who gave a graphic representation of the condition of the river road. He showed that the board of county commissioners had met with an obstacle that was practically unsurmountable. The recent flood had absolutely wiped the road out The Doctor stated that this was a vital question for the people of this community and it needed immediate solution He advecated eles ing the stores and all places of business and everyone spending at least one day to build this road. This suggestion met with ready response and a motion was made and earried that this be done next Thursday. The toastmaster dismissed the gathering to meet /A Will In four warden
