Big Revival Meetings
Close Sunday Night

The Union Revival Campaign closed Sunday evening at the Orpheum. About seven hundred people were present at the closing service. The expenses of the revival including the free will offering for Mr. Martin was about $750. The results of the revival were quite satisfactory, although not what was expected. Most of the people would have preferred to have the local preachers hold this meeting and save the expenses. The reason an outside man was secured was to bring about the co-operation of the churches and if a larger spirit of brotherhood has been fostered among the churches. The effort is not in vain. About 134 people came forward during the revival. This included a number that were members, who came to renew their covenant. Whether all who signed cards will unite with some church or not is not known. The Methodists received over 50 cards, this includes a number however who are already members. The United Church received about 40 cards. About 20 did not indicate church preference. This rest were divided between Brethren, Lutheran and United Lutheran and Baptist. Experience is a good teacher and no doubt much good has been accomplished.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hunt are home from Ullysess, where they were called a week ago owing to the serious illness of Mrs. Hunt's mother.

HE DID HIS SHARE

How the Rich Man Gave of Himself When Tuberculosis Struck Him

Anthony Schofield lived in a large house and had made his money in some business. He had worked hard from a boy in the drift up to the rank of foreman, then to superintendent and finally to owner. Stickness never worried him. His six foot giant frame had stood many hard battles and was good for many more. A year ago in answer to a pretty girl who asked him to buy some seals to help the miners who had tuberculosis he replied gruffly: "Let 'em work and save. That's what I did when I was young, and I've never been sick and have got enough to keep me now."

It was a different Schofield who approached the Red Cross Seal girl at one of the booths yesterday. In twelve months his daughter had been stolen away by the monster Tuberculosis and his son, just graduating from college, had been compelled to drop everything else in his search for health from this same disease. The doctor had said that the disease could be traced back probably to childhood, when his two children had been nursed by the consumptive daughter of a consumptive miner. The rickety, disease breeding tenements in which the miner was compelled to live were owned by Schofield now. "I'd give my two eyes and both legs and arms to have my daughter with me and my son restored to health," he confided to the Red Cross Seal girl. "I can't get away from the thought that my girl might be alive and my boy well if I'd given some attention to the prevention of this disease ten or fifteen years ago. Now it's too late for that, but I'll keep somebody else's son and daughter safe. Here, give me all the seals you've got and then go and get all you can find and charge them all to me. If money can make amends, which it can't, I'll do my share."

As the astonished girl handed over to him her entire supply of 20,000 seals and took his check in return she heard him mutter his daughter's name and repeat: "I'll do my share."

RED CROSS SEAL FIGURES.

225,000,000 Holiday Stickers Already Distributed in United States.

Few people have any conception of the magnitude of the Red Cross Christmas Seal Campaign. Here are a few figures that will show what a gigantic movement this is. Already 225,000,000 seals have been printed and practically that entire number distributed to agents in every state and territory of the Union from Alaska in the North to the Canal Zone in the South and from Porto Rico in the East to Hawaii in the West. Advertising circulars, posters, cards, etc., to the number of several million have also been distributed. Not less than 1,000,000 personal letters asking people to buy seals have been sent out. It is estimated that the army of workers, nearly all of whom are volunteers, engaged in selling the seals numbers well over 500,000. The advertising and publicity donated to the campaign amounts to several hundred thousand dollars. Every effort is being put forth to sell 75,000,000 seals, or less than one for every man, woman and child in the United States. This will mean $750,000 for the anti-tuberculosis campaign in the United States, and particularly all of the 1,200 anti-tuberculosis associations of the country derive their support from Red Cross Seals.
