FARMER'S GREAT OPPORTUNITY

Demand for Canadian Cattle After the War.

The opportunities that Western Canada offers to the farmer have time and again been placed before the public through these columns. The cheap price at which the very best lands can be purchased, and the advantage that is to be had in securing one of the free homesteads of 160 acres has appealed to a great many, and they have embraced them. Many, in fact most of those who have done so are today giving testimony to the good fortune and the timely forethought that led them to go to Western Canada, and embark in an era of farming that has placed them away beyond the pinch of want and given them reason to look into the future with a hopefulness that they had not had the courage in the past to forecast.

Scores of cases could be recited where much more has been accomplished, and it is believed that with moderate investment at the present time, the cattle industry of Western Canada will pay large interest.

This was the coming golden age of opportunity for the stockman and it was up to the Saskatchewan man to get in on the ground floor and prepare him

SOWING AND REAPING (TEMPER-ANCE LESSON.)

LESSON TEXT-Galatians 6. GOLDEN TEXT-God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.-Gal. 6:7. We turn aside today to consider the second temperance lesson for the year. Paul's letter to the churches of Galatia strongly contrasts law and grace. It's key verse is ch. 2:16, and its most prominent word is "law." many claim verse one of Chapter 5 as its golden verse. This final chapter is a most practical one and rich in suggestion regarding our social relations. Let each member come prepared to give a temperance applica-(vv. 1-5). If a man trespass, be surone, but as a dislocated limb is restore" that one to his place as a be-14, 27); one who falls into sin is a dis-

"On an average I have had yields of located limb or member, and the any such act." we ought rather to say, "But for the grace of God I might Cor. 10:13). The burdens (v. 2) or weights which we are to bear are not the unnecessary details of the Mosaic law (Math. 23:4; Acts 15:10) but rather they are the temptations, weaknesses and failures of others. The master "came not to be ministered unto but to minister" and was "tempted in all points," "touched with a feeling of our infirmities" and in our thus sharing with each other we but follow in his steps (Ch. 5:4; John 13:34, 15:12: Romans 15:3). This is the "law of Christ." not onerous, not a grievous burden, not necessarily an obligation, but a "law" because he, our "file leader." fully and perfectly exemplifies it (Phil, 2:5-8). It is chiefly self-conceit and spiritual pride (v. 3) which stands in the way of gentle forbearance in dealing with our erring brothers. Such pride does not usually deceive others (Jas. 1:22-24) and he who is trolled, "deceiveth himself." II. "Whatsoever a Man Soweth" vy, 6.8. While each must so bear his burden, yet those who are taught are to help those whe teach to bear their burdens by contributing "in all good things" (Rom. 15:27; I Cor. 9:11-14). Paul sounds a solemn warning to those who refuse thus to help forward the work of righteousness, those who fail to support others and think that their selfishness will accrue to their advantage (v. 7). The natural world has many illustrations of this immutable law. Men may mock (sneer at) this law, but find eventually that there is no escape from its operation. This law has many applications. The one in the context is, first, a physical one (v. 8), a most familiar one to us all. The same is true spiritually, and has been repeatedly illustrated throughout the history of the Christian church. (IF Cor. 9:56; Prov. 11:24). In all of our actions, physical, mental, moral, social and spiritual, we reap what we sow: like in kind, sown sparingly we reap sparingly; abundantly, and we reap in abundance. III. "We Shall Reap, If We Faint Not" vv. 9-18. Paul now proceeds to make the practical application. If we act under the leadership of the Spirit (See ch. 5:16-25) we avoid carnal mindedness, and we are sowing to the Spirit and of the Spirit (who is life John 6:63; II Cor. 3:6), we shall reap "life eternal," 1. e., life which is endless in duration and divine in its essence. There must be, however, persistence. We must not withhold the good seed nor refrain from sowing it if we are to reap the reward suggested in verses nine and ten. If we do so withhold, or should we sow ought but the "good seed," we will surely reap the awful harvest suggested in verses 7 and 8. Temporal weariness or discouragement will not excuse us for any negligence. Nor are we to be impatient, for "in due season," in God's time (I Tim. 6:14, 15) we shall reap; not perhaps immediately but the issue is certain. Some fail to reap because of laxity; others continue cultivation too long; still others, by overlooking their "opportunity" to do good (v. 10) and hence having not sown, they cannot reap. Paul suggests (v. 12) that the sowing of which he speaks is not for any outward show, nor for conformity to the edicts and regulations of men in order to avoid persecution. (v. 12 R. V.).

Evolves, at Pennsylvania University, a Simple Extraction of Square and Cube Roots.

Philadelphia.-Wendell Sooy, once a newsboy, who is now going through Pennsylvania university by his own efforts, lived up to the tradition of genius by startling a class of teachers at the university with a demonstration of a brand new method which he has evolved for the extraction of square and cube roots, and the simplification of the task that was the bugbear of almost everyone during schooldays. ordinarily requires about twenty min utes of hard work by a practical mathematician.

Various teachers in his audience flashed long numbers running into mil lions at Sooy, and he was never longer than four seconds in finding the cube root and chalking it on the blackboard.

The key to Sooy's method is a table which includes the cubes of all numbers up to nine. This, under his system, the demonstrator must memorize. He has found an interior system of numbers by which when the sum total is cut into sections of three numbers from right to left the problem of division solves itself almost automatically by the application of the final numbers in the key.

Sooy has a definite bent for mathematics. Prof. Yocum and others at the university characterized his system as extremely interesting from a technical viewpoint.

The close of the war would undoubt edly see a great demand for live stock in Europe and it was only reasonable to suppose that this demand would have to be filled almost wholly by American stockmen, both in Canada and the United States. Europe was slowly draining its rural districts not only of its beef and dairy animals but was also using the finer breeding animals and the end of the war would see a condition of affairs which would render necessary almost the repopulation of the domestic animal kingdom in that continent.

The opportunity of Western Canadian stockmen, therefore, lay in being prepared for this demand when it arose. In view of these facts which must be patent to every student of economic conditions as related to the stock industry, he hoped to see within the next three years the stock raising industry in Saskatchewan given an immense impetus forward, which would put it in the forefront of the producing provinces of the Dominion.-Advertisement.

home, located near here, is harboring a pink-faced baby girl that lies on its pillow and stares at the ceiling as ordinary babies do, unconscious of her peculiar distinction. For this baby was born beside a new-made grave, was buried by her mother under six inches of soft earth for 11 hours, and then was rescued by young men who heard its faint cries coming from the cemetery. Rev. T. J. Noland, who carried the baby from Adairsville, where it was found, to the orphans' home, declared the mother is known, but that the men of the community have decided that they will care for and educate the waif.

According to the story related by Rev. Mr. Noland, the baby was born in a cemetery in the night, and the mother, who was alone, dug up the soft earth at the head of a new grave and laid the child in the hole. Then she covered it with earth and crept away. When the young men heard the infant's cries they searched all around. But there was no child in sight.

Finally the rescuers began feeling in the earth and dug the baby out. She was warm and vigorous and protested loudly against being disturbed. The naked child was carried to a drug store and cared for. Later Rev. Mr. Noland and his wife took charge of the infant, whose name, they declare, shall be Dixie.
