DIFFERENT STRAIN OF BOYS

Little Story Shows Why It Is That Some Succeed in Life While Others Don't "Make Good."

Two boys left home with just money enough to take them through college. They both did well at college, took their diplomas in due time, and got from members of the faculty letters to a large shipbuilding firm with which they desired employment. When the first boy was given an audience with the head of the firm, he presented his

"What can you do?" asked the president.

"I should like some sort of a clerk-"Well, sir, I will take your name and address, and if we have anything of the kind I will write to you." The other boy then presented himself and his papers. "What can you do?" the president

asked him. "Anything that a green hand can do, sir." was the reply. The president touched a bell that called a foreman, and the college graduate went to sorting scrap iron. A week passed, and the president, meeting the superintendent, asked, "How is the new man getting on?"

"Oh," said the superintendent, "he did his work so well that I put him over the gang."

In two years that young man was the head of a department, and on the way to a salary larger probably than his friend will ever earn.-Youth's Companion.

Of Course Not!

A somewhat befuddled individual. who evidently had been lunching a trifle too freely, climbed on board the car with difficulty.

"What's the matter?" he asked. mildly, as he observed the conductor's impatience.

"Ain't this car the one I want?" "How do I know whether it is or not?" growled the conductor.

"Oh, you must have known it, or you wouldn't have stopped to let me catch it," said the befuddled one.

Most everyone likes a hot table drink, but it must have a snappy taste and at the same time be healthful. Probably no beverage answers every requirement so completely as does

POSTUM

This famous pure fooddrink, made of roasted wheat and a bit of wholesome molasses, affords a rich Javalike flavor, yet contains no harmful element.

The original Postum Cereal must be boiled; Instant Postum is made in the cup "quick as a wink," by adding hot water, and stirring.

Both forms of Postum have a delightful aroma and flavor, are healthful, and good for children and grown-ups.

MICHIGAN GIRL IS MARRIED IN DAZE

Romantic Aphasia Leads Her Into Wedding With Comparative Stranger.

Hillsdale, Mich.-Romantic aphasia that led to a marriage with a comparative stranger and the summary ejection of the bridegroom of twentyfour hours whom she found in her room when she suddenly recovered her memory was the testimony that enabled Tena Straw, nineteen, to regain her freedom.

Judge Chester granted the young woman an annulment of the ceremony when witnesses corroborated the unusual story. Mrs. Straw, despite her youth, once before faced a minister with George Straw, so the wedding service was not unfamiliar to her, but this time she insisted that she had no knowledge of it. Her first husband was killed in a railroad accident in 1914 and she herself was injured in the same wreck. Later she settled with the railroad company and received a substantial sum. The Straws had "never kept company," or been more than neighbors, Mrs. Straw testi-

Mrs. Straw said that on February 28 she had been in the home of Straw and his mother, helping with the work, and had been feeling ill. She remembered a minister being in the house, but had no recollection of the wedding and not until the next day did she relaize she had been married. Then she drovthe bridegroom from the house. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hewitt, boarders at the Straw home and witnesses of the ceremony, testified to Mrs. Straw's peculiar conduct, and Dr. C. T. HANGS BY HER NECK CHAIN

Father Finds Girl Unconscious on Roof of Auto He Is Driving.

Waverly, Kan .- Miss Dorothea Roberts, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Roberts of Waverly, met with a very unusual and peculiar accident which almost cost her life.

With her father she was riding in their car—the girl in the rear seat, the father in the rear seat, driving.

In passing over a culvert at good speed the girl was thrown against the top of the automobile and a strong chain which she wore about her neck caught over one of the bows in the top. There she hung until the father noticed that she failed to answer his remarks. When he looked around he found her unconscious hanging to the top of the automobile.

He stopped immediately and did what he could, but she was unconscious for several hours. Her mouth was full of blood caused from the choking of the chain. She will probably recover.

KISSING NEGRESS COST $3.50

Young Man Who Salutes Her'on Street Corner Is Put Under Arrest.

Pittsburgh. - Raymond Watkins, twenty years old, of Homeville, and his companions were standing on a street corner in Munhall Terrace the other night chatting and loking when one of Watkins' friends bet him $1 he did not dare to kiss the first girl that came along. Watkins put up the money and soon got his chance to win a dollar.

Estelle Stanton, a negress, eighteen years old, living in Munhall Terrace, walked along an instant later and Watkins seized his opportunity, accosted the young woman and kissed her on the cheek. Watkins then turned to his companions and collected the dollar. A few hours later he was taken into custody on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by the girl. Watkins paid the costs, $4.50, and was freed. Thus he lost $3.50.

Returning Tourists Speak Well of Their Treatment in Canada.

The Canadian Government, having made extensive preparations during the last few years to impart to the National Park system a degree of comfort and pleasure to the visitor, combining the best efforts of man with the very best gifts of creation, has now the satisfaction of seeing an appreciation of the efforts they have made. Tourists returning from a trip over the Canadian Pacific, the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern railways speak enthusiastically of the beauties that are revealed as these roads enter and pass through the mountains. The Government has spent enormous sums of money laying out roads, and developing easy means of necess to glacier, hill, valley, lake and stream. For what purpose? That the wonders that Canada possesses in its natural parks may become more easily accessible and afterward talked about, that a wourist travel through Canada would result. Tourist travel means business, and it is business that Canada seeks. To make it even more easy for this travel, the Government has taken pains to make every step of the tourist's entry into Canada one that will give the very least degree of trouble. On crossing the border, there is only the ordinary examination of baggage, and the only precaution is that in the case of foreign aliens, and even in their case there is no difficulty when the officials are satisfied that they are not attempting entry as enemies.

Although officials of the Government have taken every means to bring to the attention of the tourist and others that no difficulty could be placed in the way of their admission, there still remained doubt in the minds of some. Only the other day the Government took action again, and authorized the statement that no measures taken for recruiting the forces either have been or will be applied to any persons who are not ordinarily resident in the Dominion. Nor is it the intention to ask for volunteers except from among British subjects, resident in Canada. Moreover, the Military Service Act, under which conscription is applied in Great Britain, affects only persons "ordinarlly resident in Great Britain."

Americans and British subjects resident in the United States who desire to visit Canada will find no more trouble at the border than they have experienced in the past, and upon arriving they will be made as welcome as ever. War conditions of any kind will not inconvenience or interfere

The imm gest that, as a precaution against inconvenience, naturalized Americans whose country of origin was one of those at war with the British empire, should provide themselves with their certificates of naturalization.

Now that it is impossible to visit Europe, the planning of your vacation trip through Canada is one to give consideration to. The Government has taken an active interest in its National Parks in the heart of the Rocky mountains. These can be reached by any of the lines of railways, and the officials at these parks have been advised to render every attention to the visiting tourists, who in addition to seeing the most wonderful scenery in the world-nothing grander-nothing better-have excellent wagon and motor roads, taking them into the utter recesses of what was at one time con sidered practically inaccessible.

In addition to this the tourist will not be inactive to the practical possibilities that will be before him as he passes over the great plains of the Western Provinces. The immense wheat fields, bounded by the horizon, no matter how far you travel. The wide pasture lands, giving home and food to thousands of heads of horses and cattle. The future of a country that he before only heard of but knew so little about, will be revealed to him in the most wonderful panorama, and imprinted in the lens of his brain in such a way that he will bring back with him the story of the richness of Agricultural Western Canada, And he will also have had an enjoyable outing.—Advertisement.

LESSON FOR JULY 23

PAUL AT CORINTH.

LESSON TEXT-Acts 18:1-22. GOLDEN TEXT-De not afraid, but meak, and hold not thy peace.-Acts 18.9 1. Paul's Companions. (vv. 1-6.) Paul's coming to this city after his experiences in Athens is significant when we read I Cor. 2:1, 2. He ound a home as usual at first among his Jewish countrymen. Aquila and Priscilla were not only fellow Chrisdans but fellow craftsmen (v. 3). Paul supported himself, as Jesus did for 10 years, as a carpenter. This gave opportunity to reach the people naturally as one of them. At the same time he set them the example of doing good (I Cor. 10:31; I Cor. 9:6-12; Il Thess, 2-9). Paul did not think it a lack of faith to do manual labor or secular work for his own support because God had called him to preach. In the midst of his labors (v. 5) Silas and Timothy came to him from Philippi and Berea. The Philippians had sent him aid and brought news of the abundant harvest of faith and love in that church. Paul was weak and sick and dejected in spirit (II Cor. 2:3), probably bodily sickness. He was also in want (II Cor. 11:9). As he meditated on the word, it had so got hold on him that he could not keep still. It overpowered him with the thought that Jesus was the Christ and that he must tell it out, but the Jews were not willing to receive his testimony. "They opposed themselves and blasphemed," (v. 6). The good news these helpers brought encouraged him in his conflict (v. 6).

II. Paul's Compulsion. (vv. 7-11). The opposition of the Jews did not prove his testimony to be untrue or that it had been unwisely presented, but rather it revealed the iniquity of the hearts of the men who were the religious leaders. To their faces Paul could exclaim, "I am clean," (v. 6). It is a great thing for any man to be able to say this, and it is the privflege of every believer (Acts 20:26). Then we can say with Paul: "I shrank not from declaring unto you the whole counsel of God." (R. V.) If we do not declare unto men the way of life, then their blood is upon us (Ezekiel 33:4, 8, 9), but are we indeed clean of the blood of all in our own homes, in our churches, in our Sunday school classes, in our communities and in the lands beyond the sen? This compulsion disconnected Paul from the false religionists of his day. "From henceforth I wi'l go unto the Gentiles." The advantage of the house of Justus was (a) that the owner was a proselyte. not a born Jew. (b) The place was close to the synagogue so that his preaching would be a standing invitation to the Jews, and (c) Justus was evidently a Roman citizen, and Paul would gain access through him to the more educated people of the city. Moreover he would have greater advantage of the Romans than of the Jews for protection of the Christian converts. We do not infer that he left his lodgings in the home of Aquila and Priscilla nor ceased his work of tent making.

Paul's testimony after Athens was based only on the cross (I Cor. 2:1, 2) and it was that which turned "impure. sinful souls into pure brides whom he conducted to Christ," (See I Cor. 6:9-11). This vision kept Paul in the city where he founded one of his strongest classes (vv. 11, 18).

III. Paul's Contest, (vv. 12-17). Gallio, the brother of Seneca, listened to the charges, but threw the accusations out of court (vv. 14, 15). Sir William Ramsey calls this decision the "charter of Christian freedom." Freedom of religious speech was granted over the entire Roman empire so far as Roman authorities were concerned, and the door was open for Paul to make his way throughout the civilized world. Thus we have further evidence that all of Corinth was no match for Christ. The Lord had people there who must be called by the spoken word, and Paul was the one to speak the word. The Lord only allows us to be hurt when both we and the work can be helped thereby. He never really allows us to be hurt (Rom. 8:13; Isaiah 54:17). Christian workers la this land are confronting the same Corinthian evils in every great city; intemperance, crime, graft dishonesty, white slavery, oppression of the poor and other works of the flesh.

It is the business of every preacher and Christian to pray and teach and work and live to save men from these evils and to convert them to rightcousness.

There are also Corinthian evils in the heart, and in order to overcome them we must put on the whole ar mor of God, and be filled with the Spirit of Christ.

Summary: At Corinth Paul worked at his trade, converted his fellow workmen, preached to Jews and Gentiles founded a strong church, wrote letters to the Thessalonians, had two helpers. Silas and Timothy, accepted aid from the Philippians, received : vision in the night from God, was delivered by the Roman governor, stayed nearly two years and used the city as a strategic center.

NFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

ALARM THAT WAS NEEDLESS

Mothers of Soldier Boys Exercised Themselves Without Cause Over Subject of Food Supplies.

The days of waiting for the word to move around the Seventh regiment ar mory at New York were touched with the pathos and humor which accompany high-tension times. On the eveof entraining when the mothers had begged and wheedled in vain for admission at the front door of the armory, they flocked to the Lexington nvenue side, the back door. Here they | 1217 O St., Dept. K. surged at full tide.

As a heavy truck backed up they sniffed the strong odor of coffee. The wagon was piled with sacks of it. One of the mothers turned a sorrowful face to her companion.

"What! Everyone of those bags full of coffee?" she asked. "Oh, dear! Coffee makes Alfred so nervous he can't sleep a wink."

Then came an enormous bread wagon following the coffee load into the dark armory. The smell of newly baked bread floated through the overwrought group. "All that fresh bread?" queried another mother. "You mean warm bread, just out of the oven? Well, I can see where Herbert is sick right away. If there is one thing he can't eat it is new brend."

She borrowed a pencil. The message on the card to be relayed to the soldier by the door guard read: "Herbert, don't let me hear of your eating any of this warm, fresh bread. You know you will be ill."
